COLOMBIA'S NOTICE SERVED ON FRENCH.

It Will Not Allow Canal Company to Transfer Privileges.

On the Expiration of the Concession that Country Will Claim What it Terms Its Own—Army Footing to be Raised to One Hundred Thousand Men—Why Spooner Act Saves Government Risks.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOGOTA, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Colombian government has notified the Panama Canal Company of Paris that it will not allow it to transfer its privileges to the United States, and that in case the concession expires, the privileges must belong to Colombia.

It is also stated that the Isthmians have always enjoyed most ample guarantees and never have been in any way disturbed.

RAISES ARMY FOOTING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

COLON, Nov. 25.—The correspondent of the Associated Press today received a telegram from Bogota, dated November 21, saying that the government had issued orders to raise the army footing to 100,000 men in the event of Gen. Reyes's mission to Washington proving fruitless. The subjugation of Panama is given as the motive for the government's action.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The obvious purpose of the administration in drafting the new Panama canal treaty in such a way as to cut the House of Representatives out of further participation in legislative preparations has provoked considerable comment, but as far as can be learned, little opposition. Sydney Webster, the well-known publicist, in a review of the Panama policy, defends the administration's course up to the point of making the Spooner law applicable to the new conditions or this exclusion of the House of Representatives already mentioned. Mr. Webster says: "I know nothing that the United States has done in Panama that was in violation of the treaty rights and the international code. Whether or not Panama has, by her successful revolt, become substituted for Colombia in what is known as the 'Spooner Statute' I should think a different question, inasmuch as the President can now acquire land, territory, or rights in Panama from Colombia, and Congress could not have contemplated, when it enacted the Spooner law, an acquisition of the canal franchise from Panama and the payment to her of the purchase price. Panama has not yet swallowed Colombia.

"Still, the question remains: Why did the administration follow this course? Apparently because the assumption that the Spooner law is still applicable to the new conditions will save the country some large risks, whatever may be thought of its propriety in ethics or in law. The recent action of the American Federation of Labor at its Boston convention suggests the sort of danger to which the country would be subjected if canal legislation had to be enacted again, when that body declared for certain restrictions regarding labor to be employed on the work, which, were they inserted in the contracts, would probably cost the American taxpayers $10,000,000 or $20,000,000 extra. The Spooner bill was singularly free from concessions to special interests, either of labor or capital.

"The canal must have looked far off when the bill was drawn, if special interests neglected to press their claims. Were it to be put on its passage again, all sorts of attempts would be made to limit purchases for the enterprise to American material and compel the employment of American labor. While the material will now be very largely American, a statutory limitation to the effect would make a difference of millions of dollars in its cost, due to the different scale of prices, which prevail in articles for home and foreign consumption. So long, for instance, as the canal contractors are at liberty to buy foreign steel, they will get foreign prices on American steel."

THANKS UNITED STATES.

COLOMBIAN MINISTER RICO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Minister of Foreign Affairs Carlos Rico, answering Minister Beaupre's note, accompanying the transmission of the treaty between the United States and Panama, signed on the 18th inst., says he hopes that during the coming events of world-wide importance the American government will demonstrate that it did not recognize Isthmian independence with the object of obtaining any material advantages, but from generous, humane and friendly motives to prevent bloodshed, says a Bogota dispatch to the Herald, dated November 21.

Minister Rico also thanks the American government for its offers of its good offices to both sides, which should effect peace and maintain Colombia's integrity.

REYES CONFESSES IMPOTENCY.

MARINES HEADED HIM OFF.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BOGOTA (Colombia) Nov. 24.—[Wired from Chicago, Nov. 25.] Gen. Reyes cabled to the Colombian government Sunday from Port Limon, Costa Rica, that he was unable to do anything regarding the canal with the Panama commission at the conference held November 20 on board the French steamer Canada, off Colon. He added:

"The Americans prevented us from landing at Colon, Admiral Coghlan informing us that he had instructions from Washington to prevent Colombian troops from landing on the coasts of the Isthmus."

Colombian public opinion strongly condemns the attitude of the government at Washington, which, it is claimed, decidedly helps the secession movement in Panama.

TWO PORTS CLOSED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

COLON, Nov. 25, 10 a.m.—The Italian steamer Venezuela, which arrived here today from Savanilla confirms the previous statements to the effect that Cartagena and Savanilla are closed to steamers going to or coming from Colon. The Venezuelan agents at Savanilla reported that the Venezuela was not aware of the closing of the port, and asked as a special favor that a Colon clearance be granted. The authorities acquiesced, but said they could not do so again. The decree closing the ports of Cartagena and Savanilla originated with the government of the Department of Bolivar. The protests of the foreign consuls and steamship agents are still unheeded.

WAR TALK AT PARIS.

FOREIGN OFFICE NEUTRAL.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The French Foreign Office has received notice from Colombia, through her representatives here, that she will submit a protest against the action of the United States in connection with Panama. No action favorable to Colombia will be taken by the French government.

Señor Pasado, the Colombian Consul here, in an interview today said that if the mission of Gen. Reyes to Washington fails to secure a settlement honorable to Colombia, he is certain that Colombia will strenuously "defend her independence." Other members of the Colombian colony here say that Colombia intends to fight to the last extreme. One hundred thousand men, well armed and equipped, they assert, will be put in the field.

CONFUSION OVER FERAUD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Considerable confusion has been created among shippers by the fact that Ramon Arias Feraud, who has been appointed to represent the new republic of Panama in this city, has not been recognized in his official capacity by the collector of the port. The latter has not yet been instructed to do so from Washington, although the Secretary of the Treasury has been wired for instructions. Up to the present, the collector of the port has certified the papers to protect the steamship companies engaged in trade with Panama.

CAN BE RECOGNIZED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Acting Collector of the Port Hamilton received a telegram today from Secretary of the Treasury Shaw instructing him to formally recognize Ramon Arias Feraud, Jr., as the consular representative of the new republic of Panama at this port.

RUSHING THE TREATY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

COLON, Nov. 25.—It is proposed, when the messenger bearing the Panama Canal treaty reaches Colon, December 1, to have a special train ready to transport him across the Isthmus to Panama, where the treaty will undoubtedly be signed by the members of the junta. The train, meantime, will be kept waiting, and when the treaty is signed, its bearer will be brought back to Colon.

The steamer Yucatan, scheduled to sail December 1 for New York, will be delayed until the messenger arrives, when he will embark on the Yucatan, thus starting for New York on the same day he arrives.

CHINESE URGE WAR.

Occupation of Haicheng and Mukden by Russia Regarded as Significant—Eight of the Czar's Soldiers Shot in a Conflict.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PEKING, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The report that the Russians have reoccupied Haicheng is confirmed. As Haicheng and Mukden are the two strategic points which the Japanese occupied during the war with China, the action of Russia is regarded as significant. Further details do not confirm the report of the reoccupation of Heimmingtin by the Russians, but the conflict between the Chinese and Russians near Heimmingtin, in which eight Russians were shot, proves to have been a battle, not with bandits, but with permanent volunteer organizations that were incensed at the Russians' commands to disband.

It is reported that M. Uchida, the Japanese Minister, has made a long report to the Chinese Foreign Office on Russian acts in Manchuria and their sinister importance. The censors continue to forward patriotic memorials urging the throne to accept war with Russia.

M. Plancon, who until recently was Russian charge d'affaires here and who is secretary to Admiral Alexieff, Viceroy if the Far East, arrived here yesterday. He came by Russian warship to Chingwangtao and thence by railway. M. Plancon stated that Admiral Alexieff was about to start for St. Petersburg. M. Plancon departed after a conference today with M. Lessar, the Russian Minister. The object of his mission is unknown.

RUSSIA NOT PREPARED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The Times' Tokio correspondent cables that the Far Eastern situation shows no improvement. The minimum proposals of the Japanese government were submitted last month, but the Russian government still preserves silence, which is producing a bad effect. The correspondent adds: "While it is undeniable that Russia has largely increased and is still increasing her garrisons in Manchuria, it is equally undeniable that her preparations have been hurriedly made, and are very incomplete and less advanced than Russia would desire the world to believe. Japan is apparently the only one of the powers to be undeceived."

NO SPEEDY SETTLEMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The Japanese legation informs the Associated Press that while the Russo-Japanese negotiations are proceeding satisfactorily, it is likely that weeks will elapse before they are concluded.

RUSSIA'S INFORMATION PACIFIC

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 25.—The Russian government has no official confirmation of the Tokio dispatch sent to a semi-official agency, saying that Japanese warships had been dispatched to prevent the Russian warvessels Czarowitch and Bayan from reaching Port Arthur to join the Russian squadron there. The government says the latest advices indicate no hitch in the negotiations at Tokio, and pronounces the report incredible. The whole tenor of the government's information is pacific. The admiralty says the Russian fleet is quietly anchored at Port Arthur.

The Russian foreign office intimates that the Far Eastern dispatches concerning the warlike activity of China are sent out for effect in England and the United States.

THANKSGIVING DAY AT THE CAPITOL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The official observance of Thanksgiving Day will be marked this year by its simplicity. The President will partake of Thanksgiving dinner tomorrow with his family and six friends. He will not be in his office during the day.

Secretary Hay left Washington this morning for New York, to spend Thanksgiving Day with his daughter, Mrs. Payne Whitney, in that city. Mrs. Hay preceded him two days ago.

Secretary Root and Miss Root will spend the day together at their residence. Mrs. Root is at Clinton, N. Y., where her son, Edward, is attending Hamilton College, and it is expected that these two members of the family will enjoy their Thanksgiving dinner together. Another son of Secretary and Mrs. Root is a student at Harvard University.

Secretary Moody, the only bachelor member of the Cabinet, will eat his Thanksgiving dinner alone at his home, which dwelling he shares with Gen. Crozier, Chief of Ordnance, and Representative Gillette of Massachusetts.

Attorney-General Knox left this afternoon for his farm at Valley Forge, where he will spend Thanksgiving Day, his family having been there for some time.

Secretary Shaw will spend the day with his family at his home.

Secretary Hitchcock of the Interior Department will probably remain his office all day. Mrs. Hitchcock is out of town, and there will be no special features.

Postmaster-General Payne will be with his family, and have one or two close friends at his board.

Secretary Cortelyou will dine with his family at home.

WASHINGTON.

MILEAGE AN ISSUE.

Funny Situation at the Capital.

If "Uncle Joe" Holds the House Until the Regular Session Members Lose Perquisite.

Speaker is Being Roundly "Cussed" for What is Considered Cheese-paring Spirit.

Secretary Hitchcock Forcing a Better Central Rate—Carmack Raps at President.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The contest between the two Houses over adjournment has resolved itself into a question of mileage. Speaker Cannon is being "cussed" roundly by scores of men of both parties in the House over which he presides. The Senators, of course, are maintaining a dignified silence on the question, but even many of them are saying that "Uncle Joe" is showing a too cheese-paring spirit for a great statesman.

If he holds Congress together until the date for the assembling of the regular session, December 7, not one of the 476 wise men who make the nation's laws will get a cent of mileage they would get if he would permit the Senate to have its way and adjourn the extra session sine die, on any day in the three weeks that intervene between now and the date for the regular session to begin. If, however, he should yield and permit an adjournment, every one of the 476 Solons would be entitled to draw mileage at the rate of 20 cents between his home and Washington.

Representative Cushman, the greatest humorist contributed by the Pacific Coast to the National Council, is now hurrying from his home at Seattle to get here in time to draw $1200 mileage for attending the President's extra session, and then to be on the ground when the session for the regular session, if only Speaker Cannon will consent.

HOUSE LEADERS FIRM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Until the Senate either passes the Cuban bill or rejects the measure, any proposition to adjourn the session over the Fifty-eighth Congress will be antagonized by the House. This is the declared position of the leaders of the House today, and there is likely to be no effort made by that body to bring the extra session to an end until it lapses into the regular session, December 7.

In taking this stand, the House leaders declare that they are finally emphasizing the purpose for which the session was called.

BETTER RATES ON CEMENT.

HITCHCOCK'S PINESE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Interior Department and the manufacturers of cement have combined together to compel railroads in the West to give more favorable rates for the transportation of cement to be used in the construction of Tonto Basin dam, or Roosevelt Reservoir. An agreement has been reached by which the Interior Department will ask for bids for furnishing 300,000 barrels of cement for this dam on two propositions: first, looking to the manufacture of the cement in regular establishments and its transportation to the dam site, and the other to its manufacture in a cement mill to be erected by the government near the dam, to be furnished free of cost to the contractor, together with necessary power for use. The Tonto Basin dam is to be the largest in the United States and one of the largest in the world, being 300 feet high and, together with the canals necessary for irrigation, the Tonto Basin will cost $3,200,000.

When Chief Engineer F. H. Newell of the Geological Survey investigated the question of cement for the dam, he found that freight rates were so exceedingly high, coupled with the long overland haul from Globe to Phoenix, that the cost of transportation would make the price of cement landed at the dam site far in excess of the amount on which he had calculated. The Interior Department therefore decided to erect mills of its own and manufacture cement within a short distance of the dam. This decision aroused cement manufacturers, who contended that as a matter of principle the government should not embark in the cement industry and compete with private parties, and for this principle they made a strong fight. At the same time they agreed with the officials of the department that everything should be done to supply cement to the government as cheaply as possible, as the cost would ultimately have to be borne by the people who have taken up lands in Tonto Basin. Therefore, as an alternative, they suggested that the railroads might be inclined to be more reasonable in their demands, if they were faced with the proposition either of giving lower rates, or losing the business, and they assured the department that if the contract for the manufacture of cement was let by competition to the lowest bidder, they do not care in the least where it is manufactured. This was agreeable to the department officials, and the matter will be adjusted on this basis.

Today, a contract was let to the Pacific Portland Cement Company of San Francisco for 30,000 barrels of cement for the Nevada irrigation project. This is the first contract to be let under the recent Irrigation Act. Among cement manufacturers who were interested in the presentation of this matter are the Atlas and Whitehall Portland cement companies of the Lehigh Valley, the St. Louis Portland Cement Company, the Peerless Portland Cement Company of Union City, Mich., the Pacific Portland Cement Company of San Francisco, the Utah Portland Cement Company of Colton and the San Francisco and Iola Portland Cement Company of Iola, Kan. R. W. Leslie of Philadelphia, who is president of the American Portland Cement Association, represented that association, Gen. George Stone the Pacific Portland Company and William Griffith Henshaw the Standard Portland Cement Company, both the latter companies being of San Francisco.

FIFTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS.

EXTRA SESSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—SENATE—At the beginning of today's session, the Senate adopted the resolution offered by Mr. Hale, Monday last, for the appointment of Senators as members of committees. The list was amended by substituting the name of Mr. Morgan of Alabama for that of Mr. Bates as chairman of the Committee on Quarantine and Public Health and by electing a new committee of three to dispose of useless papers in the departments, of which Mr. Pettus (Dem.) of Alabama was made chairman and Messrs. Bate (Dem.) of Tennessee and Long (Rep.) of Kansas, members.

Mr. Hale of Maine then called up his motion for the reconsideration of the vote by which Mr. Newlands's joint resolution providing for the annexation of Cuba was referred to the Committee on Relations with Cuba and asked that a vote on the motion be taken forthwith, with the understanding that the resolution itself should lie on the table for further discussion. There was no objection to the request, and the motion was adopted without division.

It was the intention of Mr. Spooner to speak today on the motion, but his address was deferred, and he will speak on the resolution itself on a later date.

At the instance of Mr. Cullom, the Cuban Reciprocity Bill was read at length and made the unfinished business, with the understanding that any Senator who may desire to do so may speak on the measure at any time that the Senate is in session.

Mr. Carmack took the floor and addressed the Senate in regard to the Cuban bill. He began by saying that in his message the President had urged the ratification of the Cuban treaty with reasons which appeal to divers motives in the human heart.

"He told us," the Senator went on, "that we must ratify it to save our honor and help our trade. It was an opportunity to worship God and get your money back; to be diligent in business while serving the Lord. He presented the Cuban treaty in the double aspect of a bargain counter and a missionary box. You put a nickel in the slot for sweet charity's sake, and get more than your money's worth of chewing gum and cigars. Happy is the Republican administration that was driven by a selfish motive to a righteous deed and could perform a Christian duty without exercising any of the Christian virtues! It is another story when honor and selfishness come into conflict."

Continuing, Mr. Carmack said that if this measure would reduce the price of sugar it would be an argument in its favor, but the larger part of the sugar imports would still be subject to duty, and the tariff would be added to all. The authors of the sugar tax promised to reduce it by $10,000,000.

"We were to pay this sum for this treaty. It requires us to give up not only the right to reduce taxes, but reciprocity with other countries. You violate your solemn promise to reduce taxes," he said, "and you do it in the name of honor; you sell your right to make commercial treaties, and you do it in the name of reciprocity."

Mr. Carmack referred at length to the reciprocity policy of Blaine and McKinley, and quoted from a speech by Mr. Dolliver of Iowa in which the latter had said that every line of the wisdom of Blaine had been eliminated from the statutes. He agreed that this was true, and, if so, who was responsible? If the Democratic party had taken it off, the Republican party had refused to put it back. Continuing, Mr. Carmack declared that Mr. Dolliver was right when he said his party's failure to carry out reciprocity was a blow to protectionism.

"But it would demonstrate to the people," said the speaker, "that a party dominated by protected interests would make no concessions."

He said Gov. Cummins had assailed the tariff as a shelter for monopoly until the trusts had forced him to desist; that Representative Babcock of Wisconsin had been made to feel the displeasure of his party for utterances contrary to trust mandates; that such had been the history of every Republican who had revolted against monopoly, and that such would be the history of Mr. Dolliver.

Mr. Carmack then turned his attention to the President. Six months ago, he said, a cry was raised for "Roosevelt, Reciprocity and Revision." What had become of the last two members of this blessed trinity?

"The trinitarian propaganda," he went on, "has been overwhelmed by the Mohammedan war cry of 'Allah-Il-Allah. Roosevelt the Great, and the Senator from Massachusetts is his prophet.' The first word in this trinity is enough to express the creed of the Republican party. Whatever that word of multifarious meaning meant last night, that was the policy of the Republican party this morning. It did not mean reciprocity, and it did not mean revision."

Mr. Carmack closed with a plea for general tariff revision, saying in part:

"The reactionary movement toward protection in England derived its strength from the hostile tariff of the United States. Mr. Chamberlain has played the United States against the continent of Europe with success, and is now free to execute a hostile tariff in favor of the British colonies and against the United States. This will be a staggering blow to our agricultural industries, but the beginning of a more liberal policy shown by the victory of the Democratic party in the next election in the United States will put an end to Mr. Chamberlain's scheme at once."

When Mr. Carmack concluded Mr. Newlands of Nevada made a defense of his resolution recently introduced for Cuban statehood. He said that Cuba was to be invited to become a State of the American republic on terms of equality with other States, and that the matter was to be decided by the people of Cuba by popular vote. He suggested the question of statehood becoming a military dependency or an independent sovereign government could be submitted to the people.

Concerning the financial arrangements for the island which could be made if the island entered the republic as a State, Mr. Newlands said that the proposed bond issue of $85,000,000 for payment of Cuba's army of freedom should be reduced in interest from 5 to 3 per cent. and guaranteed by the United States. This plan would enable the sale of the bonds at par, thus saving the proposed discount of 10 per cent., aggregating $1,500,000, and a saving in interest of $700,000 annually, amounting in forty years, the life of the bonds, to $28,000,000.

Mr. Newlands stated that union would mean free trade, without the payment of American duty now paid on Cuban sugar, and Cuba would annually receive $35,000,000 more for her sugar than at present. All of this, he claimed, would mean unexampled prosperity for Cuba, as well as the unparalleled dignity and liberty of a State.

As for Porto Rico, Mr. Newlands said, his proposition involved no action without her consent. She was too small in territory for a State and could be admitted to the American Union only as a county, or part of a State of Cuba. Her willingness could be tested by popular vote. If she preferred her present position of dependency without constitutional provisions or rights, she could signify by popular vote, and thus the doctrine of consent of governed would be vindicated. If she preferred to become part of the American Union, through incorporation with Cuba, entitled to citizenship in the United States and to vote for President, United States Senators and Congressmen, she could so declare.

Mr. Teller, in answer to Mr. Newlands, said that while he was not prepared to enter into debate as to the merits of the resolution, he wanted to protest against the tenet that Cuba is in any manner a dependency of this government, and declared that such contention would be set down by any international lawyer as the height of absurdity; that the passage of the Platt amendment could not in any way interfere with the sovereignty of Cuba. He said Cuba can today make a treaty with Great Britain against the interests of the United States just as freely as she can treat with this government, and that he hoped the next time anyone claimed Cuba to be a dependency of the United States that Senator would be prepared to fortify his position with facts.

Mr. Hale declared the elaborate picture of Cuban statehood to be one of fancy and impracticable in every feature. He made a protest against it that the agitation was injurious to Cuba at a time when the republic was trying to ngotiate a loan to clear off obligations which accrued in her revolutionary period, and that any scheme for a change of government which is not a part of the Cuban programme makes it harder for her to conclude her fiscal negotiations.

Mr. Carmack declared that the Cubans could take no alarm over Mr. Newland's resolution, or what he could say on the subject. "They are alarmed," he said. It is because of the United States using the navy of the country to assist a lot of French adventurers in dismembering an American republic. It is such conduct as this on the part of our government that made the Cubans and others suspicious of us."

After a short executive session, the Senate adjourned until Friday.

RATHBONE'S ADMINISTRATION.

MAJOR WANTS IT EXAMINED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—E. G. Rathbone, who was convicted in Cuba, on charges involving his administration of postal affairs in Cuba, during American occupation of the islands, has sent a letter to Senator O. H. Platt, chairman of the Committee on Relations with Cuba, demanding an investigation of his administration.

KRAGS FOR COLORADO.

MILITIA TO BE EQUIPPED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The War Department has honored the requisition of the Governor of Colorado for 1000 Krag-Jorgensen rifles and clothing supplies and other equipment for 1000 men. The supplies will be regularly issued under the provisions of the Dick bill for the arming and equipment of the organized militia of the States and Territories. It is stated at the War Department that the State of Colorado is merely receiving the supplies to which she is entitled under the law, and they undoubtedly are issued at this time because the Colorado militia has been ordered out by the Governor for the purpose of preserving order in the districts affected by labor strikes. All the supplies asked for are in stock, and will be delivered to the State authorities at once.

This action has no direct relation to the visit of Maj.-Gen. Bates to Colorado to investigate the labor troubles, for the reason that no report has yet been received from him on the subject.

WATCHING FAR EAST.

CABINET DISCUSSES SITUATION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The President and Secretary Hay are giving watchful heed to the recent developments in the situation in the Far East. It is said today that the question was discussed briefly at the Cabinet meeting yesterday. Secretary Hay had a short conference with the President today, but no information concerning the interview was disclosed.

AMERICA'S DISCOVERY.

MARTIN WILL CELEBRATE IT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Representative Martin of South Dakota has taken up the proposition to make the anniversary of the day on which Columbus discovered America a national holiday. He has introduced a bill to this effect, and is working up sentiment in favor of it. Mr. Martin makes it a rule never to introduce a bill that he will not push for passage, and is one of the few members of Congress who refuse to introduce bills "by request." Columbus discovered America October 12, according to the old calendar, and on the 21st of the same month by the modern way of reckoning. The latter date is that which Mr. Martin wants Congress to declare a national holiday.

"I am aware," said Mr. Martin today, "that there is more or less opposition to the general idea of increasing the number of national holidays, but on looking into this matter I found that the public has a wrong conception of the number of days which are national holidays as the result of Congressional enactments. There is only one such day, and that is Labor Day. It is merely a custom that causes other days to be observed as national holidays, for Congress has not even designated the 'glorious Fourth' as a legal holiday."

NAVAL CHIEFS TO RESIGN.

QUARTETTE WILL BE MISSED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "The retirement from Washington within a period of a few months of four prominent bureau chiefs of the Navy Department," said Representative Dayton today, "is a distinct loss, not only to the department, but to Congress as well. I refer to the resignation from the service of Rear Admiral Bowles, former chief of the Bureau of Construction; the retirement of Rear Admiral Melville, formerly chief of the Bureau of Steam Engineering, and the prospective retirement of Rear Admiral O'Neil, chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, and the going to sea of Rear Admiral Bradford, formerly chief of the Bureau of Equipment. I know I shall feel handicapped by their absence from Washington, and I believe that all the other members of the Naval Committee will feel the same way. It is especially unfortunate for the members of the House and Senate Committee that all of these experienced men should leave at practically the same time, and just when we will have to solve the great problem of the best size of battleships to build.

"There exists a big difference of opinion between the House and the Senate Naval Committees as to whether the best results are to be obtained from the 12,000 and 13,000 ton battleships or from battleships with a tonnage of 16,000 and 17,000. Congress will have to depend almost entirely upon the judgment of the experienced officers of the navy, and in my opinion the best informed men on this important subject are the quartette of men I have just mentioned."

Justice Pollock Chosen.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Justice John C. Pollock of the Supreme Court of Kansas has been selected as the successor of United States District Judge Hook, who recently was appointed United States Circuit Judge of Kansas. The nomination of Judge Pollock was sent to the Senate today by the President.

MILDRED KEARNEY SCORES.

Great Success in Comic Opera—Will Star in "Carmen" After Studying in Europe.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON (Mass.) Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A big success in comic opera with one of the leading parts is being scored here this week by Miss Mildred Kearney, daughter of Dennis Kearney, the noted California "sandlotter," in a new production, "Winsome Winnie," which has opened for a run at the Columbia Theater. She is appearing in the role of Honoria, and in the finale of the first act, her full, rich contralto voice can easily be heard above the entire chorus. Miss Kearney's present ambition is to sing "Carmen," and she believes that she can give an entirely new interpretation of the role. She is going abroad next season to study for grand opera, and on her return to America has been promised backing with which to organize her own company and produce "Carmen."

The message is received on a strip of sensitized paper which emerges with the letters fully developed.

HOKE SMITH RETALIATES.

Has Bloody Fight With Attorney Rountree in Atlanta Courtroom.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ATLANTA, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Former Secretary of the Interior Hoke Smith and Attorney D. W. Rountree engaged in a bloody fight in the United States courtroom late this afternoon, Smith and Rountree are opposing counsel in the case on trial before Judge Newman. Smith made a statement that Rountree construed into a reflection on himself. Immediately Rountree sprang at Smith and struck him in the face. Smith retaliated, and for several minutes they dealt blows that drew blood and left bruises.

The court officials tried in vain to separate the infuriated men. Finally Smith, who is a powerful man physically, clinched with Rountree, lifted him from his feet and hurled him against a radiator osme ten feet away. The shock partly stunned Rountree, and Smith did not renew his attack.

The faces of both men are badly battered. Friends have taken the matter in hand, and will try to prevent a renewal of the difficulty.

Conditions at Cripple Creek Regarded Dangerous.

Startling Developments in General Dynamite Plot.

Important Arrests Made—Arms and Ammunition Sent by the Government.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CRIPPLE CREEK (Colo.) Nov. 25.—Three more companies of the Colorado National Guard, from Lamar, Rocky Ford and Pueblo, arrived at Camp Goldfield today, and the guards at various strategic points in the district are being strengthened, particular attention being given to the outposts. Col. A. W. Hogle said today that he believed conditions were more dangerous now than at any time since the strike began. A union miner named Joseph Virgil, who had been heard to say that he knew some facts about the Vindicator explosion, has been arrested and is held in the "bull pen," but separated from the other prisoners. He has refused to tell what he knows or explain his remark. Virgil recently quit a good position at the Portland mine to accept work at the Vindicator. His arrest is considered of great importance.

Augustus Johnson and J. P. Isbell, two of the men arrested on Sunday, have been liberated.

Col. Verdeckberg, in command at Camp Goldfield, this afternoon stated that the most important arrest in connection with the blowing up of the Vindicator mine and the murdering of McCormick and Beck, was made this morning. He refused to give out any further information, but it is reported that the military located the owner of the revolver found in the sixth level of the mine, and his arrest was made ...s morning.

WIDE DESTRUCTION PLOTTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DENVER (Colo.) Nov. 25.—Startling discoveries have resulted from the investigation into the blowing up of the Vindicator mine in the Cripple Creek district Saturday, according to Adjt.-Gen. Bell. He says that those who caused the explosion which killed Superintendent McCormack and Melvin Beck, also plotted to blow up the Gold Coin, Findley, Golden Cycle, Stratton's Independence and several other properties. Gen. Bell learned that the revolver found at the scene of the explosion was one sold by the manufacturers to the San Juan Hardware Company on October 2. A partial description of the man who bought the revolver was secured. Gen. Bell is sure that the man is one of the sixteen now being guarded in the military lines at Camp Goldfield. He is certain that all of those concerned in the Vindicator affair, with one exception, are in custody.

One of the men united managed to get out of the district before a cordon of soldiers was thrown around the camp and is on his way to Seattle, according to information which has been gathered since his departure. It is believed that he will escape. Of the sixteen men now being held at Camp Goldfield, about a dozen are charged with being principals or accessories in the Vindicator affair. The remainder are held in connection with the attempt to wreck a Florence and Cripple Creek train a few days ago.

One proof that violence was plotted is the fact that non-union miners at work on the properties said to have been included in the doomed list, have been receiving mysterious warnings not to work, upon peril of bearing the consequences.

Adjt.-Gen. Bell received today from the United States Arsenal at Rock Island, Ill., 1000 Krag-Jorgensen rifles and 100,000 rounds of ammunition for the use of the Colorado National Guard.

GOVERNOR IS THREATENED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DENVER, Nov. 25.—Gov. Peabody and Adjt.-Gen. Bell have received threatening letters within the past few days. One of the communications to Gen. Bell says:

"You will be popped off if you ever come to Cripple Creek."

Another letter warns the official of the existence of a plot to blow up the wing of the Capitol where the Governor's and Adjutant-General's offices are located.

NEW YORK CABBIES STRIKE.

BIG HOTELS ARE AFFECTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Three hundred cabmen employed in livery stables serving New York's leading hotels and restaurants went on strike today for shorter hours and increased pay. All are members of Liberty Dawn Association of International Teamsters. As a result of the strike it was a field day for free-lance cabmen and one of regret for hotel patrons, who had to make use of crowded street cars or walk.

The places affected by the strike are the Waldorf-Astoria, Holland House, Hoffman House, Ashland House Albemarle Hotel, Collingwood Hotel, Park Avenue Hotel, Cambridge Hotel, Cafe Martin, and many others.

Under the present rate of pay cabmen get $14 a week and nine hours off each day. They demand ten hours on and an increase to $15 a week.

QUIET AT TELLURIDE.

GEN. BATES IS SATISFIED.

TELLURIDE (Colo.) Nov. 25.—With five hundred soldiers posted at the various mines in this district success or failure of the attempt at resumption of mining depends almost solely upon the ability of the mine managers to find men who will work in the places of the strikers. There is not the slightest indication of a break in the ranks of the union men. A majority of the 1200 miners and mill men who went on a strike to enforce the demand for an eight-hour day in the mills have departure for the mining districts. There are left here only about three hundred idle miners and millmen.

Guy E. Miller, president of the Telluride Miners' Union, said today that all honorable methods would be employed to prevent the mines from being opened with non-union men. To this end circulars explaining the labor situation here and requesting laboring men to keep away have been sent to various mining camps. Sheriff J. C. Rutan entertains no apprehension of violence, but his deputies are watching the strikers closely.

Maj.-Gen. John C. Bates, President Roosevelt's emissary, carefully investigated conditions here today. He said the State appeared to have matters well in hand. He will report to the ...dent upon his arrival in Chicago, whither he will proceed after leaving this State.

NOT OPPOSING MITCHELL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TRINIDAD (Colo.) Nov. 25.—President William Howells of District Union No. 15, United Mine Workers of America, has taken exception to the statements published to the effect that he is directly opposing John Mitchell, national president of the Mine Workers, in the settlement of the strike of the Northern Colorado coal miners. Mr. Howells asserts that his position and his remarks have been misconstrued. He said:

"There has been a difference of opinion as to what would bring about the best result, but that is all."

STRIKERS ACCEPT ENTIRE AGREEMENT.

LAST ACT IN SETTLEMENT OF THE CHICAGO STRIKE.

Traffic Resumed on All Lines—Terms of the Compact—Trouble Has Cost Much Money to Both Sides—Men Return to Work.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Although a basis of settlement of the strike of the employés of the Chicago City Railway Company was decided upon at 1:30 o'clock this morning and the agreement was ratified by the men a few hours later, not a single car is in service on the entire system tonight. The only cars operated tonight were manned by non-union crews and the same conditions have prevailed since the inauguration of the strike a week ago last Thursday.

For some unexplained reason the management of the Chicago City Railway was not officially notified until tonight that the strike had been declared off. Tonight, however, Chief of Police Schuettler was notified that his services and that of his men would no longer be required, as word had been received by Manager McCullough from President Mahon of the strikers' union that the strike had been declared off. Tomorrow the road will be operated under normal conditions.

THE AGREEMENT.

The agreement, as ratified by the men and previously accepted by representatives of the company, provides for the settlement of the wage question by a board of arbitration. Their present wages are not to figure in the calculations, but instead the new scale is to be based on the market value of the men's services. If the company claims to pay the best wages, the new arrangement, it is thought, may not result in an advance of the pay of the employés.

Clause 2 of the agreement provides for the betterment of the working hours, a new schedule to be arranged by the company in conference with a committee of trainmen. The company retains the right to run as many cars as are necessary at all times, "endeavoring always," the agreement runs, "to make the work as agreeable to the men as is consistant with the performance of its duty to the public."

The third and the last clause provides that the strikers shall be taken back without prejudice. Membership in the union shall not constitute proper cause for discharge from the company's employment. With the exception, the company retains the right to employ, discharge or discipline its employés as it sees fit.

The agreement was passed unanimously, but not without careful consideration. About two-thirds of the membership of the union was present. Some dissent was expressed in the discussion by the cablemen, but they raised no protest when the vote was called for. There was general satisfaction among them and the sentiment for peace as arranged by the officers was overwhelming. The men were ordered by Secretary Barnes to go back to the car barns ready to begin work for the company at once.

CONTROVERSY NOT SETTLED.

REFERRED TO FEDERATION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LYNN (Mass.) Nov. 25.—The effort of a special committee appointed by the American Federtaion of Labor at its recent convention in Boston to settle the controversy which has been in existence for nearly a year between the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union and the Cutters' Assembly, Knights of Labor, has apparently failed.

The committee has heard both sides of the controversy over the union stamp as well as members of the Board of Trade and the Merchants' Association, and after Master Workman Boynton of the Knights of Labor had refused to sign an agreement that the union-stamped shoes should not be boycotted by the members of his organization, the members of the committee intimated that they would report to the American Federation of Labor in favor of a boycott for all union-made shoes not bearing the union stamp. This has brought forth protests from the business men. The situation will be reported to the Federation of Labor Executive Committee for adjustment.

STATE ORGANIZER ARRESTED.

THIRTY DAYS IN JAIL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SALT LAKE (Utah) Nov. 25.—A special to the News from Scofield, Utah, says that Lieut. Sorensen and a squad of seventeen men with fixed bayonets, took Charles Demolli, State organizer of the Western Federation of Miners, out of a crowd of 200 striking Italian miners this afternoon and arrested him on a charge of disturbing the peace. Demolli was taken to the courthouse. A heavy guard was thrown around the building. He was found guilty and sentenced to thirty days in jail. Demolli was taken to Prince this afternoon in custody of a detail of troops. The arrest caused considerable excitement.

SOLDIERS ON GUARD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SALT LAKE (Utah.) Nov. 25.—Soldiers of the Utah National Guard are now guarding the coal mines at Winter Quarters, Clear Creek, near Scofield and at Sunnyside. No troops have been posted at Castle Gate, as no disturbance is looked for at that point, although the mines are practically closed down. Several detachments were disembarked at Scofield and Sunnyside this morning, and later marched to the mines and were posted around the strike-affected properties. Little excitement resulted from the arrival of the troops. The striking miners of the Scofield district will parade this afternoon, but no trouble is anticipated.

Paper Mills Close.

GLENS FALLS (N. Y.) Nov. 25.—The superintendent of the International Paper Mills at South Glens Falls and Fort Edward has received orders to shut down the mills until further orders. It is stated that all the mills in the combination, twenty-eight in number, will be shut down until next Wednesday. Over production is given as the cause.

Three Hundred Discharged.

PATERSON (N. J.) Nov. 25.—Three hundred puddlers in the employ of the Passaic Steel Company have been discharged after deciding they would not be satisfied with a proposed reduction of 10 per cent. in wages announced to take effect December 1. The fifteen bridge men, who have voted to strike if the reduction is made, think the proposition means a lock-out. The company says the cut will have to be made or the works will close.

Butchers May Strike.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 25.—Another meeting of the Butchers' Union has been called to discuss measures to take action against owners of big packing-houses in view of the fact that the employers have ignored the demands of the men. The national organizers have been called here, and it is believed this means a strike.

Collision Between Third Avenue Trains Causes Panic and Serious Accident is Narrowly Averted.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Two heavily-laden Third Avenue elevated trains crashed into each other at midnight last night at the One Hundred and Twenty-ninth-street station and caused a panic that called out the ambulances of the Harlem Hospital and the police. Scores of men and women were injured by flying glass, but it is believed that only two persons were seriously hurt.

The collision was a rear-end one. Passengers were thrown half the length of the cars. For a time there was a wild scramble to escape, many in the first train believing that they would be forced through an open draw into the Harlem River, a short distnce ahead. Scores of passengers braved the dangers of the third rail and ran to safety along the foot paths. A dozen men and women had their injuries treated in nearby drug stores, while ambulance surgeons cared for others.

Erwin Discharged from Custody. Denver Mother Finds Lost Child in Seattle.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A dozen Skagway prospectors returned last week from a stampede to Bullion and Sheep Creeks, the chief district at the head of White River, 140 miles from White Horse. H. C. Boardman and G. W. Dellon made the trip from White Horse to Bullion Creek in five days, passing more than seventy men. They found gold on both creeks, the washing pans running from 5 to 70 cents. Between two and three hundred claims have been staked. Conditions prevented spending time to prospect.

The last fifty miles of the trip were very hard. The prospectors had to leave their horses and sleds, making a dash on foot for the foothills. They took no blankets, carrying only four days' grub and the clothing they wore. By the time they returned the trail was pretty well broken, the snow being three to four feet deep.

Bullion Creek is staked to seventy-five miles above, and Sheep Creek nearly as far. Between thirty and forty-two miles above on Bullion Creek runs a deep cañon. Dawson Charlie, who discovered the district, and his companions, were found to have staked many claims for other Indians never in the country. While the men did not hesitate to restake in such cases, they are laying the basis for disputes and probably litigation with the Indians next year.

MOTHER FINDS LOST CHILD.

COURT HEARS SAD STORY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After having lost all trace of her son, Richard, aged 6 years, and his father for many months, Mrs. Effie Davis of Denver learned November 1, that they were living in Seattle. On the 9th inst., the woman started for Seattle and this morning had her child brought before the Superior Court on a bench warrant. It was decided that only summary proceedings would prevent the removal of the child beyond the jurisdiction of the court.

In her appeal to the courts, Mrs. Davis tells the story of her betrayal under promise of marriage and the subsequent abduction of her child by its father, Charles Burnaugh, who is now living with his father, Lucius Burnaugh, at No. 2201 North Fifth street. Since her desertion by Burnaugh and the disappearance of her child, the mother, whose maiden name was Effie Dargis, married John B. Davis, an employé of the Santa Fé railway in Denver. Before she consented to marry Davis he promised to help her find her child and if recovered, adopt the boy.

SAUSALITO IS INJURED.

CAPTAIN MUST EXPLAIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—The ferryboat Sausalito, which ran ashore last night at Point Knox on the western side of Angel Island, was not pulled off, as expected, by the Casadero, and it is not likely any attempt will be made to float her until after a thorough investigation has been made of her condition. It is certain that the hull is injured at the forward end, but how to what extent is not yet known. The sixty passengers, who remained on board after the steamer struck the beach were transferred at midnight to the ferryboat Casadero and taken to their destination. Perfect order prevailed and at no time was there any danger threatened to life, the sea being calm and the vessel resting easily in a well-sheltered position. Those of the passengers that were in a position to judge the accident believe that it was due entirely to the fog.

MISTOOK FOG BELL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAUSALITO, Nov. 25.—In speaking of the accident to the Sausalito Superintendent Braswell of the North Shore Railroad said:

"Capt. Lucke will have to do considerable explaining. He is considered one of the best pilots on the bay and has the reputation of being an extremely careful shipmaster. Our company during this foggy weather has been extremely cautious in running its ferryboats, only one boat being allowed on the bay at a time. We ran two boats, but one never left the slip until the other was in sight of the wharf. After 9 o'clock yesterday afternoon this rule was most strictly followed. A report has come to us that Capt. Lucke mistook the fog bell at Fort McDowell for the bell on the Sausalito slip. He denies that, but how he got so far out of the course we are as yet unable to determine, but shall do so."

LINEMAN ELECTROCUTED.

CONTACT WITH LIVE WIRE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Bert Dunn, a lineman employed by the Pacific States Telephone Company, was electrocuted before help could arrive at the corner of Union and Taylor streets this morning. Dunn climbed the telephone pole to make some repairs to the wires. A few moments later, as he reached the lower cross-arm, he stepped on a live electric light wire carrying 25,000 volts. The insulation on the wire was impaired by moisture. Dunn's shoes were also wet, and the current shot through the sole of his shoe, burning a hole in it. Ross fell, becoming entangled in a three-phase wire carrying 110 and 250 volts. The entire current passed through the unfortunate man's body and he was dead in a few moments.

"SAM" RAINEY DEAD.

OLD-TIME DEMOCRATIC BOSS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Samuel Rainey, for many years one of the most prominent politicians in the state, died today of heart disease at his home in this city. He was born in New York and was 63 years of age. He had not been in good health for several weeks, but was out and around all the time, and it was not thought that his death was a matter of the present time. This morning shortly before 7 o'clock he called his wife and said that he felt he was sinking. In a few minutes he was dead.

Samuel Rainey was born August 3, 1840, in Philadelphia. He was taken when a child to New York, which place he called home. When he was 15 years of age he came to this city. He served an apprenticeship with the Union Iron Works, then owned by Peter Donahue. In the early sixties he became a member of the old Volunteer Fire Department. Ten years later he was a member of the Board of Fire Commissioners, and for many years devoted himself to promoting the efficiency of the department. He was also one of the leading Democratic politicians of this city.

ERWIN IS DISCHARGED; EVIDENCE INSUFFICIENT.

FORMER POSTOFFICE INSPECTOR AGAIN A FREE MAN.

Indicted for Complicity in Postal Frauds With Beavers and Machen. Exonerated Official Receives Congratulations of Many Friends in the Courtroom.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Former Postoffice Inspector James W. Erwin, who was indicted in Washington, D. C., for alleged complicity in postal frauds with G. W. Beavers and August Machen, was today discharged from custody by United States Court Commissioner Heacock on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant his extradition to Washington for trial.

The indictment against Erwin accused him of entering into a conspiracy with Beavers and Machen to defraud the government by giving to and obtaining for the "Postal Device and Improvement Company" the exclusive opportunity of furnishing for the use of the free-delivery service, a time-indicator device to be attached to letter boxes. It was alleged that Erwin and Beavers induced Machen, then general superintendent of the free delivery system in the office of the First Assistant Postmaster-General, to order these devices on behalf of the government without advertising for bids therefor, in violation of his official duties, with intent to defraud the United States.

The commissioner in rendering his decision, reviewed at length the evidence which had been presented to him, which included the details of a trip to Washington, in connection with the contracts made by Erwin and D. S. Richardson, General Superintendent of the San Francisco postoffice. On this point, which had been strongly pressed by the prosecution, the commissioner said:

"There is no fact, as far as disclosed by the testimony, on the part of Erwin upon this trip to Washington, that is in my opinion, wrongful. Therefore, if the evidence of Richardson is true, there is no evidence connecting Erwin with the conspiracy as to the matters transpiring at that time."

When Judge Heacock pronounced his final words, ordering the discharge of the prisoner, Erwin was congratulated by many friends in the courtroom.

WRECK BREAKING UP.

NO MORE BODIES RECOVERED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN RAFAEL, Nov. 25.—The report comes from Pierce Point this morning that the French bark Francois Coppee is breaking up rapidly. All that was left yesterday of the ship was the bow. Later the steel plates parted and the wreck gave evidence of falling apart. Casks of wine, clothing and debris are floating ashore, but no bodies have been found. Capt. Jorgensen of the life-saving station thinks that the bodies will not now wash ashore near the wreck, but will either be carried out to sea or come ashore farther up the coast. The death list still numbers eleven.

EARLY ACCOUNTS CONFIRMED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—The nine survivors of the wreck of the Francois Coppee, who were picked up by the steam schooner Scotia, were brought here today on that vessel. Their stories of the disaster merely confirm that already told. The men are all being cared for by the French consul.

DECISION FOR COMPANY.

INTERESTING INSURANCE CASE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—In the case of J. M. Conner, G. C. Conner and J. M. Conner, Jr., in the Circuit Court, against the Manchester Assurance Company of Manchester, England, for the payment of a policy on a field of grain which was destroyed by fire, started by order of the supervisors of Solano county to try and exterminate the grasshopper pest, Judge Morrow today decided in favor of the company. While a field adjoining them was being burnt their field took fire and was totally destroyed.

In handing down his verdict this morning, Judge Morrow said that the policy could not be held in such a case, as one of the provisions of it was to the effect that where a fire is started under civil authority and spreads, the company cannot be held for the loss. It is understood that the Conners intend to appeal the case to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

CHARGED WITH FELONY.

ARIZONA OFFICIAL ARRAIGNED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PRESCOTT, Nov. 25.—A sequel to the report of the recent grand jury occurred today when William Thomas, a contractor at the Poor Farm and County Hospital, was arraigned in court on an indictment charging him with felony. The particular act charged against him is the collection of $32.45 from the county for the alleged keeping of a man after he had been discharged from the hospital. Thomas has been the contractor for the care of the indigent and sick for several years, having been awarded the contract this year at a higher price than competitors asked. One of his bondsmen was a member of the grand jury committee which instigated his management, and signed the report against him.

LANE BUYS A MINE.

NEW STEAMER LINE PLANNED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles D. Lane of San Francisco and J. H. Conrad, a mining operator of Prince of Wales Island, have purchased the Heid and Smith copper and gold property on Windfall Creek, Prince of Wales Island. The property consists of five claims possessing a good mill site, together with water power and plenty of timber. One of the principal ledges and several smaller ledges cross these claims. Development work will be started in the spring. Lane has made several trips to Prince of Wales Island to investigate the highly mineralized zone comprising most of the island. His first business after returning from Nome was to go there and inspect the property now purchased.

STEAMER FOR ALASKA.

J. W. Ivey, former Alaskan Collector of Customs and G. D. Corlew, both of Kalyak, have purchased the steamer Perry, which for three years has been plying between Valdeh and Prince William Sound points. She will be operated between Valdes and Kalyak, giving western Alaska a better steamer service which the small towns there have been urging. It is intended to make the Perry the nucleus of a new fleet for service along the southern Alaskan coast.

TRIES TO SAVE WOMAN; IS SHOT AND MAY DIE.

MAJ. McCLUNG VICTIM OF MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

Alec Garnet, in an Attempt to Kill Mrs. Coit in San Francisco, Sends Bullet Through Man Who Protected Her.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Maj. J. W. McClung, a well-known broker and club man, was shot through the abdomen tonight at the Palace Hotel by Alec Garnet. McClung was taken to a private sanitarium and is reported to be dying. The shooting took place in the rooms of Mrs. Lillie Hitchcock Coit, who is famous as the only woman actively connected with the local fire department. In pioneer days she ran to fires with the firemen, and was later elected a member of a company. Garnet was her business agent in minor matters, and Mrs. Coit had a disagreement with him a few days ago that resulted in his dismissal from her employ. Maj. McClung, who is an elderly gentleman, was visiting Mrs. Coit this evening when Garnet appeared in an intoxicated condition. He drew a revolver and tried to shoot Mrs. Coit, when McClung attempted to save her, and received the bullet intended for the woman. The police up to a late hour were searching for Garnet.

PREPARING FOR A FIGHT.

LUMBER RATE-WAR COMING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE, Nov. 25.—Little hope of a settlement of the fight between the Pacific Coast Steamship Company and the steam schoonermen in the lumber-carrying trade is entertained by officials of the former company. A prominent northwest lumberman has been sent to San Francisco to select a site for lumber yards and the Pacific Coast Steamship Company has made arrangements for securing all the lumber required to enter into a hard fight for the control of the California lumber trade. A fleet of steam schooners will be on the run and the company believes it can force a settlement on its own terms.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Bank Case is Appealed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—The Hibernia Loan and Savings Society will appeal to the United States Supreme Court in an effort to recover the amount of certain taxes paid to the assessor of San Francisco. In 1899 the bank was taxed for a treasury check issued in payment of interest on government bonds. It was argued that the assessment was illegal in that the money was the property of the government. The Superior Court decided against the bank, an appeal taken to the State Supreme Court, with the same result. The matter will now be carried to the Supreme Court of th United States.

Soldiers' Christmas Presents.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—United States transports will carry Christmas presents forwarded by friends and relatives of American soldiers and sailors now stationed at Guam, Hawaii, or the Philippines, free of charge. Quite a number have been sent already through the office of the Department Quartermaster in this city to which all packages must be addressed. The next transport will deliver presents in Manila by New Year.

Lewis Adjudged Insane.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 25.—A. W. Lewis, formerly manager of the the Wiley Allen Company in this city, who was recently arrested for alleged embezzlement of the company's money, was tried in the Superior Court before a jury today, on the issue of insanity. Four physicians testified that Lewis is insane. The verdict was in accordance with this testimony, and Lewis was ordered committed to the insane asylum at Agnews.

Fire in Prescott.

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Nov. 25.—Fire this afternoon destroyed the $10,000 residence of Dr. J. R. Walls during the absence of the family. The origin of the fire is unknown. The building was partially insured.

Will Close Mines.

MILTON, Nov. 25.—The Royal Consolidated mines have decided to close their mine at Hodson, Calaveras county. This action will throw 160 men out of employment. The miners recently formed a union and had presented demands to the company which the latter felt unable to comply with. While it is not definitely stated, it is understood that the chief demand of the miners was for a recognition of their union. The mine is the chief support of Hodson.

STEAM RAILROADS GOING OUT OF DATE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—According to plans now under consideration, the New York Central Railway is to be equipped with an electric system which will definitely establish the theory that steam as a motive power for railroads has been superseded.

Contracts for the work, involving between fifteen and twenty millions of dollars, are said to have been already awarded.

If the project is brought to completion, which should be within five years, virtually all the trains on the New York Central within a radius of fifty miles from Forty-second street, will be hauled by electricity.

HARRIMAN IN SALT LAKE.

TELLS OF CUT IN TIME.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SALT LAKE, Nov. 25.—President E. H. Harriman of the Southern Pacific arrived in Salt Lake this afternoon, accompanied by a party of prominent railroad officials of the country. At the Alta Club tonight, Harriman spoke briefly concerning the Great Salt Lake cut-off, and also referred to the improvements made by the Union and Southern Pacific systems.

"When this work is completed," said he, "the running time between Salt Lake and the Pacific Coast will be about twenty-two hours, and fifteen hours will be about the time between Salt Lake and Los Angeles when Senator Clark's road is completed."

ATTACK ON PENNSYLVANIA.

ROCKEFELLER EONERATED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Brooklyn Eagle says: "A man who is a large figure in finance and conspicuously identified with one of the largest properties of the country was asked today as to the truth of the story that war had broken out between the Rockefeller and the Morgan interests. His reply was that he believed there was no truth whatever in the rumors circulated and which in some instances had been printed. He had been informed by people who are in such close relations to the leaders of each group as to be well informed that not only was there no truth in the assertion, but that little had occurred to even suggest it.

"It was remarked that there had been some emphatic assertions as to the attack of the Rockefeller interests upon Pennsylvania stock, and that the decline was attributed to persistent hammering by that interest.

"'I know that assertion has been made,' said the financier, 'but you must look to other causes for that decline. I think there is no more truth in that than in the other. Indeed the two have been coupled as if the attack on the Pennsylvania was part of the attack on the Morgan interests by the Rockefellers. All such assertions are made in ignorance of certain facts which make the well-informed discredit all the stories. It presumes close identification of the Pennsylvania interest with the Morgan house. Such does not exist.'"

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Tens of thousands of turkeys are being rushed into New York for Thanksgiving to supply an almost unprecedented demand, in spite of high prices. One dealer said that at least 1,000,000 turkeys would be sold in New York by Thursday. This is almost double the ordinary consumption.

DINNERS FOR THE POOR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] While those who have enjoyed prosperity during the year are celebrating the annual November festival with thankful hearts, they will not forget those less fortunate. As the result of their thoughtfulness, the inmates of all public and semi-public institutions will have their share of the season's bounty, for this day at least. Hundreds of special organizations will give their annual dinners in the course of the day, and thousands of the city's poor will be dinner guests of the more fortunate. Special services in the various churches promise to be especially attractive.

PRICES BOUND UPWARD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—The demand for Thanksbiving turkeys and the scant supply have forced a retail price from 10 to 15 cents a pound higher than for the last twenty years. The price yesterday ranged from 25 to 32 cents, and today it has advanced to 35 cents a pound. Receipts for the last few days have been only about one-third the average for this season. Comparatively few turkeys have been received from Oregon, as the bulk of the product from this section was secured by operators from the Puget Sound and Northwestern markets, who offered far more inducing terms than the local agents were inclined to bid. The prices of all other kinds of poultry have also advanced sharply.

TURKEY SWALLOWS THOSE NINE POINTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Austrian and Russian ambassadors here have received the reply of the Porte to the Macedonian reform proposals of the powers, accepting in principle all the nine points of the reform scheme. The acceptance is qualified with the reservation that in the application of the reform scheme, everything calculated to humiliate Turkey shall be avoided. The Turkish reply has produced a good impression in diplomatic circles.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 25.—A ministerial note has been drawn up in favor of the Austro-Russian scheme for Macedonia with certain reserves. The note will be submitted to the Sultan for approval, but it is not thought in diplomatic circles that the reply will be satisfactory to the powers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BALTIMORE (Md.) The committee found the thirty girls guilty and recommended that they be prohibited from taking part in Thanksgiving, Christmas and Eastern entertainments; that they be prohibited from taking part in commencement, and be not allowed to receive their diplomas from Mayor McLane; that they be required to visit the High School on the day after commencement and receive their diplomas in private from Prof. Henry S. West, the principal; that they be each individually required to write letters of apology for their part in the affair to Miss Bangert and her parents.

EXTENSION IS GRANTED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Announcement was made today that the syndicate which underwrote $50,000,000 bonds for the International Mercantile Marine Company has been extended from January 1, 1904, to March 1, 1905. The extension is chiefly due, it is said, to the fact that market conditions for the past year have precluded a favorable distribution of the securities.

SULTAN OF MOROS DEPENDS ON CHIEFTAINS.

LATTER WANT THEIR OWN WAY TO ROB AND ENSLAVE.

Strong Pen Picture of Conditions in the Jolo Group from Gov. Scott. Juramentado Runs Amuck, and After Slashing a Soldier, is Shot Dead.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—A strong picture of conditions in the Jolo group of the Philippine archipelago is contained in a letter from Col. H. L. Scott, governor of the group, to Col. Clarence Edwards, chief of the Insular Bureau of the War Department. The letter, which is dated September 22, says:

"I find that the condition is one of peace, so long as the big Moro chiefs are allowed to have their own way unreservedly—to rob and to steal and enslave. The Sultan is a man of no power of his own, and must depend on the chiefs, who may or who may not do what he wishes.

"No one is allowed to go beyond the outposts here without an armed guard, and it is even advisable to go about the streets here armed on account of the juramentados, one of whom got through the gate past a sentinel, about four days ago with his arms, ran through the barrack yards, slashed a soldier across the back and fell dead on the main plaza and in front of the commissary office, shot several times by a fusillade from our soldiers, which killed a trumpter who was getting ready for guard duty.

This makes the sixth or seventh juramentado who has appeared since last spring. One engineer soldier was chopped up last spring by one of them after he had seven Colt's 38 balls in him. The juramentado chopped off a leg and an arm each at one stroke of his barong. All during the spring, the garrison has practically been in a state of siege. When Capt. Eltinge's troop went out, they surrounded it, brandishing their barongs and spears, and he had to come back, because his orders were by no means to have a conflict.

"Now the Moro province act contemplates changes, among others the abolishment of slavery, a very sore point with them. It contemplates trials of offenders by district courts, and these things will surely bring on conflicts."

PITTSBURGH THEATER FIRE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Nov. 25.—The Avenue Theater caught fire today from apparatus used in operating a moving picture machine, just after the large audience had left the building. So far as known, there were no fatalities. The theater was well filled at the afternoon performance, but the fire fortunately did not break out until nearly every one in the place, with the exception of a few stragglers, theater attaches and employés, had reached the street, thus averting what might have been a great disaster.

The theater is badly damaged by fire and smoke, but the flames were confined to the front part of the building.

OCEAN DISASTER RUMORED.

Sensational Story of Sinking of White Star Steamer Cedric—Not Verified, and Undoubtedly False.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A rumor was circulated in this city on Sunday last to the effect that the White Star steamer Cedric had been sunk in mid-ocean in collision with the Lamport and Holt steamship Titian. As a careful investigation showed that the report could not be traced to any responsible source, little heed was paid to it. The steamship Titian arrived in due course of time off the Irish Coast yesterday. She was reported at the head of Kinsale and gave no signal to indicate any important experience during the voyage. This morning she arrived in the Mersey, and is now going through the Manchester Canal to Manchester, her destination. Her owners as well as the White Star Steamship people all ridicule the story of the rumored collision. The Lamport and Holt steamship people denounce the reported collision and sinking of the Cedric as a pure invention of an irresponsible news agency.

THE DIFFERENCE

Coffee Usually Means Sickness but Postum Always Means Health.

Those who have never tried the experiment of leaving off coffee and drinking Postum in its place and in this way regaining health and happiness can learn much from the experience of others who have made the trial.

One who knows says: "I drank coffee for breakfast every morning until I had terrible attacks of indigestion producing days of discomfort and nights of sleeplessness. I tried to give up the use of coffee entirely but found it hard to go from hot coffee to a glass of water. Then I tried Postum Food Coffee.

"It was good and the effect was so pleasant that I soon learned to love it and have used it for several years. I improved immediately after I left off coffee and took on Postum and am now entirely cured of my indigestion and other troubles all of which were due to coffee. I am now well and contented and all because I changed from coffee to Postum.

"Postum is much easier to make right every time than coffee for it is so even and always reliable. We never use coffee now in our family. We use Postum and are always well." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason and it is proved by trial.

SECRETS OF ZION HE WOULD BETRAY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The World publishes a letter claimed to be from the archives of the Czar's Minister of the Interior, from a man named S. Wiener of this city, offering to betray secrets of the Zionists for a price. The letter is dated August 27, last, and is addressed to the Minister of Interior, Plehve. It says in part:

"Several months have gone since I laid before Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador at Washington, my views about Rabbinical Judaism and Zionism, and offered him my services to combat this danger and to disclose this world swindle. The course of evints must have shown Your Excellency how right I was. Zionism is a political experiment on the part of England, and Dr. Herzl and Dr. Nordau are in the English pay. Having been unsuccessful in regard to Palestine, they have hit upon an exodus to Africa and the above-named leaders are unscrupulous enough to lead their brethern (?) to destruction.

"I have a great desire to write a whole book about the business, which would completely justify the conduct of your government, but without your support I can do nothing, as Count Cassini will confirm.

"In all devotion.

[Signed.] "S. WIENER."

The World found Wiener in this city, and thinking the reporter a Russian emissary, he acknowledged writing the letter and to further inquiries said he knew all the secrets of the Zionists and was willing to sell them for a price. Wiener is 70 years old, and claims to be able to substantiate the assertions made in the letter. He refused to state how far the negotiations with Cassini proceeded.

A Zionist prominently identified with the movement in this city said that the letter of Weiner is doubtless a document in an all-world Russian plan to balk any new efforts at establishment by the Zionists of a colony that should embrace Russian Jews, except under the control of Russia. The Palestine plan would be in harmony with the designs of the Czar, for an express stipulation of it is that the Sultan's concession would not be accepted unless guaranteed by one or more of the European powers.

Report that Germany and England Will Make a Trade—Escaped Convicts Captured at Sea.

VICTORIA (B.C.) Nov. 25.—The steamer Moana which arrived today from Australia, reports that there was some excitement at Suva when the Moana called there, over the reported hauling down of the British flag at Tonga, it being said at Suva that the Friendly Islands were to be handed over to Germany by Great Britain in exchange for some German islands in the Solomon Group, known as the German Solomon Islands.

The Moana brought news of the picking up at sea of seven escaped French convicts from the penal settlement at New Caledonia, who had been drifting at sea in an open boat for thirteen days. The prisoners, who had secured a fishing smack, converted a sapling into a mast and put to sea, intending to escape to the Australian Coast. None of the prisoners had the slightest idea of navigation. All would have perished had they not been rescued by the steamer Comarty, 400 miles north of New Caledonia, which took them to Sydney. The convicts, who were all armed, were weak and emaciated from the privation endured when rescued. They are being held by the Sydney police pending advices from the French authorities.

Will Maintain Her Supremacy in the Persian Gulf—Lord Curzon's Significant Speech to Arabs.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BUNDER ABBAS (Persia) Nov. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] While on his way here the Viceroy of India, Lord Curzon, held a Durbar at Shargap which was attended by many prominent Arab chiefs of that coast. He made a significant speech, reaffirming the intention of Great Britain to maintain her supremacy in the Persian Gulf, and declared the government adhered to its policy of guardianship and protection of the chiefs. The Viceroy reminded the chiefs of their engagements not to enter into agreements or correspondence than any other power than Great Britain, not to admit agents of any other government, and not to alienate any part of their territory. If the chiefs adhered to these engagements, as they had done in the past, no one would be allowed to tamper with their rights or liberties. The Viceroy concluded with emphasizing that the influence of the British government, which maintained the independence of the chiefs and made the Gulf secure to the ships of all nations, must remain supreme. British Indian traders, who have arrived here similarly, asserted their ascendancy in trade and other interests in the Persian Gulf, which had been won in competition with other nations who held or aspired to hold ports on the India seas.

Former Judge McConnell of New York is Charged With Crooked Deal in Stocks.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Papers have been filed in the case of Charles Austin Bates and Henry V. Brandenburg against former Judge Samuel P. McConnell, president of the Fuller Construction Company. The complaint alleges that the plaintiffs in 1895 were the pricipal stockholders in the General Electric Company of Chicago. Theye were owners of 30,000 shares of that stock. The year following, controversies arose concerning the ownership of the stock and the plaintiffs, in order to protect their interests, retained Samuel P. McConnell, a lawyer in Chicago.

On June 8, 1896, the defendant reported to his clients that he had arranged for a settlement of the action whereby his clients should sell their stock to the Chicago City Railway for $20,000. The plaintiffs allege that they assigned their stock for this amount and that the stock was actually sold for $100,000. They are suing for a settlement.

Platt about the conditions in the Republican party in this State. Gov. In regard to the vote of this State in the Republican National Convention, he said that he had always expressed himself as believing that it would be given to the President.

Lord Rosebery Ridicules Joseph Chamberlain and His Policy—Would Result in Fiscal Warfare With us.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Nov. 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Lord Rosebery spoke to 3000 persons on the fiscal question at the Surrey Theater tonight. William J. Bryan was in the audience. His Lordship's remarks were for the most part devoted to ridiculing Joseph Chamberlain and his policy. He referred to Chamberlain as "a modern Jeremiah, whose assertions that the country had been desolated were refuted by the facts."

"The first result of Mr. Chamberlain's policy," continued Rosebery, "would be to plunge Great Britain into bitter fiscal warfare with our cousins, the United States, as the result of which Great Britain would lose everything and gain nothing. It would mean a practical severance far more deplorable than a fiscal severance, and would blight the fairest hope of the two nations."

KILLING BY YAQUIS FULLY CORROBORATED.

OTHER MINING MEN CONFIRM THE STATEMENTS OF FLEMING.

Boston Capitalist and His Associates, Just Returned from Sonora, Shed More Light on Conditions at Scene of the Disturbances.

"I will pay $10,000 to the Mexican Consulate in this city if it can disprove a single statement that was quoted from me in The Times this morning—with this one explanation, that it has never been proven that J. F. Sullivan, formerly superintendent of certain mines in La Dura district, was killed by Indians on the warpath, as his body, when found, had been robbed of the valuables he carried, and the murder has been credited by many to bandits."

This statement was made to a Times reporter last night by S. J. Fleming of Boston, president of the Boston and Mexican Gold Placer Mining Company, in refutation of a silly attempt of an evening paper to discredit Mr. Fleming's veracity in connection with an interview which he gave The Times concerning the troubles in the Yaqui Indian country of Sonora, Mexico.

Sitting with Mr. Fleming in his room at the hotel were J. Sydney Poole of Rockport, Mass., who was in Mexico with Mr. Fleming, and J. F. Burson, a mining expert who located the Boston concern's mines at Cumiripa, and who is thoroughly acquainted with the Yaqui country and his state of affairs there. Both gentlemen bore out Mr. Fleming in every statement he made.

In answer to the utterances of the evening paper that the Boston mining man's story "was a beautiful bit of fiction," that "F. P. Hartman of this city is manager of La Dura property, and was quite indignant upon hearing of his own death down in Mexico," and that the account of the defeat of a company of Mexican Rurales by Indians a week ago Sunday "was laughed at at the Mexican Consulate as a pernicious attempt at sensationalism," Mr. Fleming said:

"What I have said concerning the rout of a company of Mexican Rurales near Baparito within the last ten days, belonging to the command of Col. Francisco Picardo of the Fifth Regiment, by a band of fifty Indians, is a fact. There are obvious reasons for the denial of this fact in certain sources. The command passed through our camp a couple of days before the disastrous fight, and that is the last time that its members were ever fully accounted for.

"It is a fact, despite any denials which may be circulated to the contrary, that the town of Ortiz, which was without military protection a year ago, is today garrisoned by Mexican troops on account of the hostility of the Yaqui Indians; the same statement applies to Cumiripa, and the same statement applied to Baparito up to the time of the disaster to the company of troops which I mentioned, which had been its military guard.

"J. F. Sullivan, the American mining man who was killed a short distance from Ortiz, was superintendent of the placer mines of Boyle Brothers of Boston, near La Dura camp, a separate proposition from the quartz mines of La Dura managed by a man in this city, who, it is alleged, has been so grieved at hearing of his own death. The brother of the Mexican who was killed with Sullivan was one of our drivers on the trip we have just completed.

"I have in no way criticised the Mexican government, nor have any of my statements been made toward that end. On the contrary, I have said that courtesies and the best possible protection is afforded American interests in Sonora. I simply related some of the incidents of our recent trip to Cumiripa, as throwing light upon the Yaqui trouble, and I have related only facts."

"I knew Mr. Sullivan personally," said Mr. Burson, and know of his murder as a positive fact. While I was not in the district, as Mr. Fleming was, when the fight between the Indians and the Mexicans which he reports took place, my knowledge of affairs there makes the matter not in backing up these statements, not surprise to me. You can use my name in any sense of criticism of the Mexican authorities, but simply as news, and for further corroboration you can refer to Juan Literas of Ortiz, well-known merchant of the district, who is familiar with these occurrences. News travels slowly from the Yaqui River, and it is not hard to guess where denials of Indian troubles originate."

THIRTY-CENT HOLD-UP.

Three Highwaymen Get Only Car Fare and Watch from J. H. Crawford on Ruth Avenue.

J. H. Crawford, who resides at No. 537 Ruth avenue, reported to the police that at about 11:20 o'clock last night he was held up and robbed by three men. The hold-up occurred on Ruth avenue near Fifth street, within sight of a busy corner, but so quickly did the robbers work that no attention was attracted to them.

Crawford came up behind the three men just after turning off Fifth street onto Ruth avenue. As he came close all three turned and two of them covered him with revolvers and commanded him to throw up his hands. Crawford obeyed and the robbers then warned him to keep quiet. While two of them kept their weapons pressed against his body, the third searched him thoroughly. They found but 30 cents and his gold watch and chain, which they took, but did not disturb a number of private papers. Then they ordered Crawford to walk south and not to look back, and when he did turn the men had disappeared.

While they were robbing him Crawford took a good luck at the robbers. The man who did the talking was about 5 feet 5 inches in height, very heavily built, weighing about 180 or 190 pounds. He wore a sweater. The second man was very slender and tall and wore an overcoat. The third, who searched the victim, kept behind him and therefore Crawford could get no description of him.

MAIL CARRIERS' BALL.

Local Branch of National Association Hosts of Social Affair at Armory Hall Last Night.

Under a canopy of flags and the red, white and blue lavishly draped and festooned, the local branch of the National Association of Letter Carriers held their second annual grand ball at Armory Hall last night. Great credit is due the faithful men in gray who carry the city's biggest item of joy on their back. They are welcome guests and happy hosts, as last night's affair attested. Their object in giving the ball is a most worthy one; the profits are for the benefit of sick and disabled mail carriers.

The large hall was never more splendidly decorated than last night; the flag to which the men owe especial allegiance was used with beautiful effect. Behind a flag-draped stand Stamm's orchestra furnished the music.

The honored guests were Postmaster Groff, Capt. H. J. Shoulters, Motley H. Flint and Inspector H. B. Hall. The association's members, about 110 in number, turned out in a body and at least 200 other guests were on the floor when the grand march began.

The ball was directly in charge of the Executive Committee, consisting of E. H. Osborn, Homer Griffeth, W. S. Allen, F. L. Thatcher, and D. O'Laverty. The Floor Committee consisted of E. H. Osborn, manager; C. F. Lucas, F. L. Thatcher, E. F. Richards, Homer Griffeth, E. Heffelfinger, W. S. Allen, John Bell and J. Dangerter.

CROOK IDENTIFIED.

Man Who Tried to Rob Two Women Positively Picked Out by Them Among Many Prisoners.

Eugene Schofield, alias Murphy, who was arrested Monday evening near Eleventh and Main streets after he had tried to rob two ladies, was positively identified yesterday by his victims. Unfortunately for the ends of justice he did not secure property, and there is some doubt as to whether he can be successfully prosecuted for anything more serious than battery. The police have abundant evidence that he is a crook, but it is doubtful if he can be convicted on a felony charge. The women are Mrs. Carrie Comport, who lives on Rich street near Sixteenth, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Laura Waters, of No. 579 Central avenue. They reluctantly accompanied the officers to the City Jail yesterday and picked out Schofield as the man who had attacked them. He could not speak for agitation. It was Mrs. Waters that Schofield grabbed. Both women had seen him hiding behind a tree and Mrs. Waters had placed her watch in her bosom before she reached him. When he seized her he tried to find it, but the screams of the two women caused him to try to escape. Correspondence found in the prisoner's room shows that he has long been in communication with convicts and ex-convicts, and the officers believe that he has "done time" himself.

THEY CATER TO DANCERS.

Cooks' and Waiters' Association Holds Annual Ball at Turnverein Hall. Decorations and Hospitality.

The Southern California Cooks and Waiters Association outdid itself last night in the fourth annual ball of the organization, held at Turnverein Hall. A bevy of men worked all day placing the decorations in the large room, and the result was very effective. The members of the association believe in doing things right. Their motto is, "To maintain our self-respect by doing a man's work in a man's best way; to look after our employers' interests as if their interests were our own, and to deserve well of the world." They also believe in giving a ball in the best way.

Lately the association, which is independent and purely fraternal, fitted up at a large expense handsome clubrooms at No. 139 South Los Angeles streets. The proceeds of the dance go into the treasury for the benefit of deserving members. Over 300 couples participated and the affair went off smoothly and decorously.

The members of the various committees were: Floor manager, Gus Werner; Reception Committee, Arthur Hampton, chairman, H. Barnes, J. H. Faulkner, Heim Schmidt, Harry Brow, Cleve Symes, W. Hargraves, John Devlin and J. McFadden. Committee on Arrangements, E. Lakeman, C. Riley, M. L. Liddy, T. Josberger, F. Early, T. Ross and J. Sullen. The officers of the association are: President, W. A. Devine; vice-president, Gus Church; financial secretary, Julius Hammer; recording secretary, Joseph Kohler; treasurer, M. Milutinovich.

USED HIS REVOLVER.

Patrolman Walsh Obliged to Resort to Shooting in Capturing Alleged Cattle Thief in River Bed.

Patrolman Walsh had a strenuous few minutes yesterday morning in the river bed near the Macy street bridge with two men who are supposed to be cattle thieves. One of them was captured, and although the officer fired several shots at the other, he escaped. The officer had been informed that two men had tied a calf in the river bed, and had then driven away. He found the animal and decided to watch it, thinking they would return.

After he had waited several hours the men returned and singly approached the place where the calf was concealed. Then Walsh took a hand and endeavored to place them under arrest. One of the men ran and the officer fired at him. The other also started to run but a bullet which struck at his toes caused him to stop. He was arrested, and with the calf was taken to the Police Station. The prisoner declared that he had purchased the animal from the man who had made his escape. The officers do not believe his story.

SEVERED THE ARTERIES.

William K. Earle, aged 19, whose home is at No. 1653 Court street, was seriously injured yesterday while at work at the plant of the Los Angeles Art Metal Company, Fifth and Crocker streets. A large splinter broke off a steam hammer and struck him in the left wrist severing all the arteries in his left forearm.

Electrical Ear Trumpet.

A new principal has recently been involved in the construction of an ear trumpet, which has proven very superior to anything yet devised for conducting the sound of the human voice and reproducing it in natural tones, as many of the trumpets now in use, cause a roaring, which is unpleasant, and render them of little assistance to many. A small battery and magnet are used to create electrical vibrations and push a button, located in a convenient position, and close the circuit when the person desires to speak. Sound waves are created by the vibration of a tuning reed, located in the bell of the trumpet.

Dr. W. I. Seymour, of 33 W. Sixth street, this city, says that the trouble with most ear trumpets is the necessity of their being conspicuous in order to be effective, but believes this new device will be very acceptable to ladies, who will not submit to the use of an ordinary trumpet.

Uncle Sam Has Dyspepsia.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Are a Positive and Permanent Cure for the National Disease.

As a people we eat too much and the wrong kind of food. Because it tastes good we crowd the stomach with rich, unnutritious food and drink. We overtax the digestive apparatus to such an extent that it refuses to perform its duty and a conglomerate mass of half-chewed, undigested material lies in the stomach until it rots, causing the formation of acids, gases and ptomaines which produce the painful condition which we know as dyspepsia.

For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables, with a moderate meat allowance, are much more healthful than a heavy meat diet.

Only men engaged in severe outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health.

It is a well-established truth that nineteenths of all diseases originate with a breaking down of the digestion. A weak stomach weakens and impoverishes the system, making it easy for disease to gain a foothold.

Nobody need fear consumption, kidney disease, liver trouble or a weak heart and nerves as long as the digestion is good and the stomach able to assimilate plain wholesome food.

Thousands have some form of stomach trouble and do not know it. They have headache, the languor, nervousness, heart palpitation, constipation and similar symptoms to some other cause than the true one. If your digestion or the right track we guarantee that long trouble, liver complaint, nervous debility will rapidly disappear.

Nothing is more certain than that the use of so-called tonics, stimulants and medicines which depend upon alcohol for their effect is injurious to health in the long run.

Many liquid patent medicines derive their effect entirely from the alcohol they contain. Alcohol and medicines containing it are only temporary stimulants and not in any sense a true tonic. In fact, it is doubtful if any medicine or drug is a real tonic.

A true tonic is something which will actually replenish, build up the exhausted nerves, strengthen and wasted tissues of the body; something that will enrich the blood and endow it with the proper proportions of red and white corpuscles which prevent or destroy disease germs. This is what a real tonic should do, and no drug or alcoholic stimulant will do it.

The only true tonic in nature is wholesome food, thoroughly digested. Every particle of nervous energy, every minute muscle, tissue and drop of blood is created daily from the food we digest.

The more eating of food has little to do with the repair of waste tissue, but the perfect digestion of the food eaten has everything to do with it.

The reason so few people have perfect digestion is because from wrong habits of living the stomach has gradually lost the power to secrete the gastric juice, pepsones and acids in sufficient quantity.

To cure indigestion and stomach troubles it is necessary to take after meals some tasteless preparation which will supply the lacking pepsine and diastase which every weak stomach lacks, and probably the best preparation of this character is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found in every drug store, and which contain in pleasant, palatable form all the wholesome pepsones and diastase which nature requires for prompt digestion.

One or two of these excellent tablets taken after meals will prevent souring, fermentation and acidity and insure complete digestion and assimilation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are also especially valuable for little children as for adults, as they contain nothing harmful or stimulating, but only the natural digestives.

One of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3,000 grains of meat, egg or other wholesome food, and they are in every sense a scientific tonic because they bring about in the most natural way a restorative of nerve force, a rebuilding up of lost tissue and appetite, which is only way it can be done by the digestion and assimilation of wholesome food.

The root of the matter is this, the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food, give the overworked stomach a chance to recuperate, and the nerves and whole system receive the nourishment which can only come from food assimilants and nerve tonics never give permanent strength, they give a fictitious strength, always followed by reaction. Every particle of blood, every nerve and tissue is entirely nourished from our daily food, and if you can assure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of so good and reliable a remedy as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, you will have no need of nerve tonics and sanitariums.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been in the market only a few years, probably every druggist in the United States and Canada and Great Britain, now sells them, and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach troubles.

In the ninth Fitz began to spar, and for two rounds he gave a great exhibition of stalling. In the eleventh he arrived, but the fight from this time on to the nineteenth was monotonous, as Fitz devoted all his cunning to standing off Gardner's rushes.

Fitz evened up on points by clever work in the last thirty seconds of each round, when he would rush in and hit Gardner apparently at will. It was this work and the good showing he made in the last two rounds, added to his fine boxing in the early part of the fight, that gave him the decision.

In the nineteenth round Gardner evidently started in to finish things. He was fresher than Fitz, and used every effort to do up the old man with body blows, but though he rushed time and again, he could not land a punishing blow, while Fitz put right and left to Gardner's sore nose and also gave his heavy clouts on the body. Both men were very tired when the gong sounded, but Fitz had all the best of the round.

In the final round Fitzsimmons cut loose and did some great fighting. He adopted his favorite tactics of a rush, with a hard left to the body, and a right to the head before Gardner could recover himself. He received several rushes in the wind, but took them gamely, and at no time was he anything but master of the situation. When the end came the gong found Gardner hanging on for dear life, and Referee Graney voiced the opinion of the house by giving the fight to Fitzsimmons on points. The crowd cheered Fitz wildly, and demanded a speech. He sucked a lemon, and, with his arms on the ropes, said, with his peculiar grin: "Haven't I done enough for an old man?"

The crowd thought he had, and gave the veteran fighter a great ovation.

ANOTHER REVIEW OF IT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Bob Fitzsimmons proved tonight that he was not a "dead one" when he outboxed and outgeneraled George Gardner for twenty full rounds. Fitzsimmons was awkward and as cunning as of yore, and apparently realizing that he must ... faster his strength, there was not a moment when he was not carefulness personified. While the old man could not knock his opponent out, although he landed a number of vicious blows.

From his performance tonight, Gardner is not in Fitzsimmons's class. He landed on the old timer once in a while, but Fitzsimmons was always going away from him, and the blows were harmless. Several times Fitzsimmons apparently had Gardner almost out, but he was too tired, or lacked his old strength, and could not land a knockout punch. Fitzsimmons was very careful in blocking and dodging Gardner's blows, and in the clinches and breakaways was very careful.

The fight did not please the spectators, and the men in the ring were frequently hissed when they went through a round without apparently trying to fight.

Referee Graney, at the close of the contest, said that it was the worst fight he ever saw. He was forced to render the decision to Fitzsimmons because the latter scored the knockdown blows and received no damage in return.

After the fight, Fitzsimmons appeared to be overjoyed at his victory and claimed that the reason he did not knock Gardner out was that he broke his knuckles of both hands early in the contest. Gardner's eye was cut badly, and his nose was knocked askew while Fitzsimmons bled a little at the mouth. Beyond that there was no damage done to either man.

Gardner demonstrated that he did not have a hard punch in him. When he landed a swing it had no force to it, and his left jabs had no other effect than to make Fitzsimmons's nose and mouth a bit red. Fitzsimmons several times stood with his guard down and allowed Gardner to poke him on the nose, so that he (Fitzsimmons) could stand in and step in and land his short-arm jolts. There were occasional flashes when Fitzsimmons of old times appeared for a moment. But it was only for a moment. He tired to tire quickly, and after a short, vicious rush, during which he would land on Gardner and take the best out of him, he would lapse into the defensive and rest during the remainder of the round.

FITZ FITS IN ALL RIGHT.

He Gets the Decision Over Gardner on Points.

Younger and Stronger Pugilist Wears a Bloody Face.

Lumdale Goes to London—Western Golf Directors—New York Athletes.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The twenty-round fight tonight between Bob Fitzsimmons and George Gardner for the light heavyweight championship of the world ended in the twentieth round in a decision for Fitzsimmons.

It was a game and crafty fight on the part of Fitzsimmons all through, and the fact that he broke a knuckle of his right hand made it a very great victory over the younger and stronger man. Throughout the fight, Fitzsimmons showed great cleverness in stalling off Gardner's rushes, and in meeting them with left-handed cloits to the body and right-hands to the body. Fitz's blows did not have nearly the strength in them that he had when he left the ring only a year and a half ago. ANOTHER REVIEW OF IT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Bob Fitzsimmons proved tonight that he is not a "dead one" when he outboxed and outgeneraled George Gardner for thirty full rounds. Fitzsimmons was as forward and as cunning as of yore, apparently realizing that he must use his strength, there was not a moment when he was not carefulness personified. While the old man could not administer punishment from Gardner, he did not knock his opponent out, although he landed a number of vicious blows.

From his performance tonight, Gardner is not in Fitzsimmons's class. He can mix on the old-timer once in a while, but Fitzsimmons was always going away from him, and the blows were light. Several times Fitzsimmons apparently had Gardner almost out, but he was too tired, or lacked his old strength, and could not land a knockout punch. Fitzsimmons was very careful in blocking and dodging Gardner's blows, and in the clinches and breakaways was very careful.

He seemed to tire quickly, and after a few vicious rush, during which he would land on Gardner and take the best out of him, he would lapse into the defensive and rest during the remainder of the round.

FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

First round—They went to the center of the ring and indulged in sparring. Gardner danced around lively, and landed a vicious left for the jaw. They clinched together without result, and Fitzsimmons missed a left swing for the jaw and then evaded a similar blow from Gardner. Fitzsimmons sent a straight left high on the chest. The fighting was slow, both men exercising great care. Gardner was short with a right uppercut for the jaw. Both then missed lefts for the head, and Gardner received a stinging straight left to the jaw. Fitzsimmons followed this with another left to the jaw and a right to the stomach. Fitzsimmons sent Gardner's head back with a left hook to the jaw. Gardner then planted a straight left to the face. Fitzsimmons blocked a hard left for the stomach as the bell rang. The advantage was slightly with Fitzsimmons, who received absolutely no attention from his seconds as he went to his corner. Fitzsimmons appeared to be bothered with a cold.

Second round—After considerable sparring, both missed left swings for the body. Fitzsimmons got in a light right to the head, and Gardner landed twice on the Australian's kidneys with the right. Gardner drove his right twice to the body, and received a left to the body and a right to the jaw in return. Gardner sent his right to the body, and Fitzsimmons slipped to the floor as he backed from a right swing. Bob drove a straight left to the stomach, and missed a right for the jaw. Bob then planted his left to the body and a right swing to the jaw. Gardner sent in a right and left forcefully to the body, and Fitzsimmons retaliated with a right and left to the jaw as the bell sounded. This was a comparatively even round, the advantage, if any, being with Gardner. There was not much force to most of the blows landed.

Third round—Gardner was short with a left for the body, and a moment later drove a hard right to the Cornishman's ribs. They then exchanged light lefts to the body. Fitzsimmons missed a left swing for the face, and was met with a straight right to the body. Gardner followed it with a right swing to the ribs and two rights to the kidneys. Gardner sent in left and right to the jaw. Fitzsimmons was trying occasional swings, and did not do much sparring. He sent a straight left to Gardner's face, and missed another for the same place. Fitzsimmons swung a terrific right to the jaw and rushed Gardner to the ropes. Fitzsimmons put the left to the face and the right to the body, Gardner fighting back hard. Fitzsimmons gave a flash of his old fire in this round, and drew Gardner on. This was Fitzsimmons's round. He again received no attention from his seconds at the end of the round.

Fourth round—Fitzsimmons swung a right to the jaw, and they mixed it. Bob ducking and blocking cleverly. Fitzsimmons stood back and then tried left and right for the jaw, but was blocked. He repeated the attempt a moment later, but Gardner met him with a straight left to the jaw. Fitzsimmons then sent Gardner down for seven seconds with two straight lefts to the jaw. Gardner came up fighting wildly. Fitzsimmons forced him to the ropes with a straight left to the jaw, sending Gardner against the ropes. Fitzsimmons then hooked a vicious right to the jaw and Gardner went to the floor. He came up, and Fitzsimmons planted several frightful lefts and rights to the face and body that sent the Lowell man to his corner groggy. The tumult for Fitzsimmons at this stage was tremendous. Fitzsimmons was very cool. He nearly had Gardner out twice.

Fifth round—Fitzsimmons landed a left swing to the jaw, and Gardner went down for the count of nine. Fitzsimmons chased him around the ring and had Gardner stalling. Fitzsimmons forced Gardner to the ropes with a left to the jaw and a right hook to the body. Fitzsimmons pretended to be a bit tired, but put in a stiff left to the body. They came to a mix-up, Gardner being desperate and rushing. He was bleeding from the nose. Fitzsimmons swung left and right to the face, and forced Gardner to a clinch. Fitzsimmons was laughing and stalling, and trying to create an impression of being tired. Gardner drove in two lefts and a right to the body. As the gong sounded, Gardner put in left and right to the body without apparent damage.

Sixth round—Fitzsimmons missed a right swing for the head, and backed away from Gardner. Fitzsimmons missed another left for the head, and sent in a straight right to the head as Gardner was going away. Fitzsimmons took a couple of left jabs in the fact in order to get in a right, but he was short. Fitzsimmons cleverly evaded several rights and lefts for the body, and the mixed it in a corner, fighting tamely. Both exchanged straight lefts to the face, and Gardner drove a straight right to the body. The crowd hissed at the tameness of the fighting. After a mix-up, Fitzsimmons caught Gardner with left and right to the face, cutting Gardner's eye open. Gardner got in a straight left to the stomach with the clang of the bell.

Seventh round—Fitzsimmons rushed in and swung hard with the left to the head. They fought fiercely in a mix-up, and Fitzsimmons was hissed for holding on. Gardner missed a hard right swing for the jaw. Fitzsimmons swung the left hard to the jaw, and chased Gardner to the corner without landing a blow. Fitzsimmons then missed a left swing for the jaw. Both men looked very tired. They got to close quarters, and both tried lefts and rights for the body, but the efforts were futile. The gong found both men fighting tamely, with the crowd jeering and urging them. Fitzsimmons appeared to be losing his speed, and seemed content with acting more on the defensive.

Tenth round—Fitzsimmons missed a fierce right hook for the head, and Gardner was wild with a right swing. Fitzsimmons backed away and contented himself with blocking Gardner's leads. Fitzsimmons jolted Gardner with a left to the jaw, but Gardner retaliated with a hard right to the jaw. Fitzsimmons backe it up with a left hook hard to the stomach, and Gardner jabbed Fitzsimmons's mouth three times with left, drawing blood. Fitzsimmons crossed a left to the face. Gardner kept jabbing with a left to the mouth, and tantalized the Australian. Fitzsimmons, however, took the blows with a view to getting in a good punch. They came together with considerable force at the close of the round, and Gardner slipped to his haunches. He was up quickly, and went at once to his corner.

Twelfth round—Fitzsimmons, as usual, backed away. They came together in a mix-up, but no damage was done. Gardner jabbed a left into Fitzsimmons's face, and closed in as the latter tried a straight left for the jaw. The pace again slowed up, and the crowed yelled at the contestants. Fitzsimmons shifted, and brought a hard left swing to the jaw. He tried to follow it with a right, but missed his mark. Fitzsimmons then swung clear around from a missed right uppercut. Gardner landed a few light blows on Fitzsimmons, but Fitzsimmons took them, at the same time trying to bring his right to play. Gardner's blows were very light. As yet he had failed to land a telling blow on the lanky Australian.

Thirteenth round—Fitzsimmons missed a left swing for the jaw and received a straight left on the mouth. Gardner then poked Fitzsimmons in the stomach with a straight left and chased Fitzsimmons into a corner. They danced around the ring for fully a minute, without a blow being landed. Gardner kept pegging away at Fitzsimmons, but the latter easily got out of harm's way. Finally he brought his left to the body and a left to the nose. Gardner sent in two straight lefts to the face and a light left to the body, but there was little force to them. Just as the round closed, Fitzsimmons swung a hard right to the jaw, sending Gardner to the floor. He was up within two seconds, and showed no effects of the blow as he took his corner.

Fourteenth round—Gardner was short with a straight left for the body. Fitzsimmons feinted with right, and sent two lefts to the jaw. He followed it with a hard left hook to the jaw and a hard right to the body. Swinging fiercely, he sent the Lowell man to the floor for five seconds. Fitzsimmons missed a fearful right swing for the jaw, and chased Gardner against the ropes, trying to put in a vital blow, but his efforts were wild. Gardner looked groggy, and stalled repeatedly. The blood was streaming from his nose. As they went to a clinch, the crowd hissed Gardner for hitting in the clinch. Fitzsimmons swung his right to the jaw and sent Gardner against the ropes. He followed him around the ring and missed a right swing that would have ended the fight had it landed. As the bell rang, Gardner went to his corner groggy. Fitzsimmons appeared cool and smiled at his friends.

Fifteenth round—Fitzsimmons drove his right to the body, and then shifted it to the head and cleverly evaded counters. Fitzsimmons fought carefully, and made his blows count when he reached the Lowell man's anatomy. Fitzsimmons landed a left and right swing to the jaw, and just missed another for the same place. Fitzsimmons jarred Gardner with a hard right swing to the jaw and a left hook to the body. This was Fitzsimmon's round.

Sixteenth round—Gardner got in a left and right on Bob's face and forced him to a corner. Fitzsimmons came back with a stinging straight left for the face. Fitzsimmons pursed his strength carefully, and made no unnecessary moves. Fitzsimmons swung hard with right for the jaw, but Gardner ducked it. Gardner mixed it, but Fitzsimmons caught him with short-arm left to the face. Gardner then hooked his left to Fitzsimmons's stomach. Fitzsimmons caught Gardner on the head with a hard right swing. Gardner swung right to the jaw at the end of the round, but the blow was very weak. Gardner had been putting up a very disappointing fight. He seemed to possess no strength and boxed very clumsily.

Seventeenth round—Fitzsimmons was short with a straight left for the body, and Gardner put in a right to the head and a left to the face, forcing Fitzsimmons to the ropes. No harm was done, however, the blows being weak. Fitzsimmons missed a hard left hook for the body, but they went to a mix-up in which the Australian did some clever blocking. Gardner got his left high on the body, and Fitzsimmons led a left swing for the jaw and another for the body. Gardner sent in a hard right to the jaw at the end of the round. It was the hardest blow Gardner had turned loose during the fight, but not hard enough to worry Fitzsimmons, who went to his corner smiling.

Eighteenth Round—Gardner forced Fitzsimmons around the ring, missing left and right swings for the jaw. Fitzsimmons tried a left swing for the jaw, but Gardner got inside it and tried a right hook for the body, but Bob blocked it. Gardner swung right to the face lightly. Bob feinted with right and swung a vicious left for the jaw, but missed. He then swung hard with right, but received a left hook to the jaw that made him wince. Fitzsimmons backed away, and Gardner got in a glancing left to the face. Fitzsimmons got in two rights hard to the jaw as they closed in and blocked a right uppercut to the jaw.

Nineteenth round—Gardner forced Fitzsimmons to the ropes, but Fitzsimmons came back with a left to the head. Gardner then slipped to the floor, but Fitzsimmons assisted him to his feet. Gardner sent a straight left to Fitzsimmons's nose, and followed it with two more weak lefts to the face, Fitzsimmons smiling. Fitzsimmons swung a left for the head, but it went around Gardner's head. Fitzsimmons missed a swing for Gardner's head, and Gardner rushed in and got left and right on the body. Gardner then hit Fitzsimmons rather low, and was cautioned by the referee. Gardner then got in several good rights to the body, and Fitzsimmons sent him back with a right swing to the head. The bell rang with Gardner fighting fiercely, and he succeeded in landing several shortarm lefts to Fitzsimmons's stomach. As usual, they were weak.

Twentieth round—Fitzsimmons missed a straight left for the face, and they went to a clinch. In a mix-up, Gardner bombarded Fitzsimmons's stomach, but the blows were well blocked. Gardner got in a light left to the stomach, and blocked two left swings for the body. Gardner swung a right to the body, and in a mix-up landed several rights and lefts to the body. They clinched, and the referee could hardly separate them. Fitzsimmons sent in a straight left to the face, and both clung to each other, Gardner doing most of the holding on.

Gardner was clinging to Fitzsimmons, and Rerefee Graney could not separate them as the final gong rang. Graney promptly gave the decision to Fitzsimmons, which was greeted with cheers.

LOCAL INTEREST.

NO EVEN MONEY HERE.

All yesterday at local sporting resorts, and at the bulletin boards during the posting of returns, nothing was talked but the fight. Betting was quite brisk with several Spring-street commissioners, but the price stuck at 10 to 6½, and 10 to 7, with a world of Fitzsimmons money, and not enough Gardner bills to wad a small-bore shotgun. One Spring-street cigar emporium had hundreds of dollars lying ready to back the Cornishman, and more coming in, but without any takers. Here at least the public certainly liked Fitz.

According to Ellis Cohn, who is as reliable as he is well posted on sporting matters, the reported 10 to 9 betting in San Francisco was a myth calculated to switch the price for Fitzsimmons money. There has been no such money here.

FLOURISH BOLTS WITH DUGAN.

One of the surprises was in the six-furlongs handicap, won by Evea G, an 8-to-1 chance, while John A. Scott, the first choice, was last. Flourish bolted soon after the start in the third race, and threw W. Dugan, later jumping the fence. Dugan sustained number of severe lacerations about the head, but there was no evidence of a fracture. The weather was clear and the track heavy. Twenty-one books were in line. Summaries:

PETE DELACY'S VICTORY.

COURT FAVORS A LOSER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Victory was awarded to Peter Delacy and his friends in the long fight between the poolroom men and the race track associations in the decision in the appellate term of the Supreme Court today, reversing the decision of Justice Murray of the Tenth District Court, dismissing the suit of Raymond P. Moulton against William J. Torpie, the bookmaker, on the Morris Park race track, to recover money he lost on the "ponies." Torpie's counsel contended that as Moulton went to the track for the purpose of betting, and losing and then suing for the money lost, he was a party to the offense for which the code provides forfeiture, and could not recover. Justice Murray indorsed this view and dismissed the complaint. Presiding Justice Friedman and Justice MacLean delivered opinions in which Justice Gildersleeve concurred, reversing this and ordering a new trial.

This was one of the many cases instituted by Peter Delacy through Benjamin Steinhart, under various phases of the law making it a criminal offense to make a book in a poolroom, and only a matter for a civil suit to recover if a book is made on a race track.

Justice MacLean says the case against the Westchester Racing Association was justifiably dismissed, but that Justice Murray might have justly directed a verdict against Bookmaker Torpie, "as it was soon proved," and after little skirmishing conceded, that Moulton bet with Torpie on Squid; paid his money and lost the bet. It was charged, upon contention, that a person may not join in the commission of a wrong, suffer, and claim compensation from him with whom he was misled. This is an error."

The decision in effect gives license to poolroom men to loan out their bank rolls to responsible friends to go to the race track for a regular carnival of "sure things."

BUSINESS.

The local bank clearings yesterday amounted to over $1,250,000, and indicate the degree of business activity that prevails in every department of trade.

Options closed lower at Chicago on an easy market. Industrial stocks were affected, some acutely, at New York yesterday, but a late recovery wiped out the principal losses.

SENATOR MORGAN IS BITTER.

It was rather an ungracious exhibition of ill temper which Senator Morgan of Alabama made in the Senate on Tuesday, in his attack on the President, because the latter sees fit to differ from the views held by Mr. Morgan on the isthmian canal question. The friends of the Alabama Senator—and he has many friends in all political parties—will deeply regret his deplorable lack of good taste (to characterize his astonishing oratorical exploit in no harsher terms,) in making so ill-timed, so ill-natured, so bitter, and so unwarranted an attack upon the President of the United States. There is nothing in the canal situation, nor can there be anything, to warrant such an attack. In allowing his better judgment to be warped so palpably by his passions and prejudices, the Grand Old Man of Alabama has undoubtedly made a serious mistake, and one which he will live, let us hope, to regret.

Senator Morgan has all along claimed that he desired, above all other things, to see a ship canal dug across the isthmus at some point, and that while he very much preferred the Nicaragua route, his preference would not extend to the point of blocking the way for a canal at Panama, if it should appear that that route could be secured. It must be confessed that the course of Senator Morgan, with reference to canal legislation during the past year or two, has hardly been in accordance with this declared policy. He has appeared rather in the role of an obstructionist than as a promoter of canal legislation. He is still enacting that ungracious and shortsighted role, although an isthmian canal route is clearly in sight, freed from all entangling and troublesome conditions, and assured of the hearty cooperation, sympathy and assistance of the people through whose territory the canal will be built. If Mr. Morgan were thoroughly sincere in his professed desire to see an interoceanic canal built at all hazards, with the question of route a secondary consideration, he could hardly maintain his present attitude of bitter opposition to the President and his Panama policy. Mr. Morgan stultifies himself in this attitude, and stands self-accused and self-convicted of insincerity.

If Senator Morgan really questions the sincerity and integrity of the President in this matter, he is about the only man in the United States who does so. Even the most determined political opponents of the President have not ventured to impugn his motives nor to question his sincerity, though they have called the soundness of his judgment into question. It has remained for the Alabama statesman to take the initiative in an uncalled-for, indelicate, and utterly unjustifiable personal assault upon the Chief Executive of the nation. That Mr. Morgan will have many followers in this latter-day Morgan is wholly improbable.

THIS DAY AND OTHERS.

Some of us who are not to the manner born, may have found in our hearts when we awoke this morning, the old homesick pain that never quite goes away. For, this is Thanksgiving Day, and once, in the years that are fled and gone, we used to celebrate it back yonder, with our kinfolk in the places that we loved. Perhaps, if it were any other day than this we would not mind, nor think to be lonely, at all. But Thanksgiving Day—what is there about it that it always recalls old memories and the ghosts of dead joys?

Here are the blue skies above us, the flowers at our feet, the balm of sun-warmed winds and the songs of birds. Today we have them all—these things that we never weary of and about which we never tire of telling to those who still cling to the less favored climes where we were born. And yet, there is a something about it that does not fit in with our notion of Thanksgiving Day. We will be thinking of the ice that used to gleam on the pond and the river; the flurry of snow in the bracing air and the new, white mantle of it over the hills and the valleys of long ago. The waiting feast, the glowing hearth, the children's laughter and the old folks' kindly faces, these will come before us, like dreams through the dim mists in our eyes. Ah, if only we could run away yonder across the great mountains, just for today, and then come right back again, wouldn't this be a glad Thanksgiving morning?

And still it is Thanksgiving Day here as well as it is there among the snow-wrapped hills. It is the day when our hearts, wherever we are, should be lifted in gratitude to the All-wise Giver, the kind Father who holds us in the hollow of His hand. The husbandman has gathered in the harvests, the granaries are full to bursting, and peace and plenty are pon us. From sea to sea the song f busy wheels and ringing hammers fills the land. Progress, prosperity and content are ours in overflowing measure. And, best of all, our country stands, where it has always stood, fronting the world as the champion of freedom and the guardian of human rights. These are, after all, the things for which the thanksgivings of today are due and for which they will be rendered with full hearts. Deo gratias. God save the commonwealth.

CHICAGO STRIKE "SETTLED."

The strike of Chicago street-railroad men, which had been in progress for nearly two weeks, was called off yesterday, the strikers formally "ratifying" the agreement entered into by their leaders with representatives of the railway company. Service was resumed on the several lines of the Chicago City Railway Company, covering an urban area of some fifty-two square miles, and the two million inhabitants of Chicago, who had been harassed and inconvenienced in all sorts of ways by reason of the strike, were once more allowed to ride in comparative peace and safety through the streets which they own and are supposed to control.

Looking over the announced terms of the agreement by virtue of which the strike was brought to an end, it is apparent that the strikers have gained practically nothing, and are not likely to gain anything, through their foolish action in going out upon a strike which had no justification in reason and common sense. One of their demands was for a specific increase in the wage scale. This question is to be settled by a board of arbitration, the new scale to be based on "the market value" of the wages paid for the service performed. That is to say, the board of arbitration is to ascertain the average rate of wages paid in other cities, and to fix the rate in Chicago accordingly. The railway company claims to have been paying a rate of wages higher than the average, and it is not considered probable that there will be any advance of wages in Chicago as a result of the arbitration.

Another demand of the strikers was for certain changes in the car schedules and the hours of labor. These matters are to be readjusted by a committee of conference between representatives of the company and the employés. But the company, in the agreement entered into, expressly reserves the right "to run as many cars as are necessary at all times"—which of course it ought to do for the accommodation of the public—the primary purpose for which street-car service is, or ought to be, maintained; the work of operating cars to be made as stipulated in the agreement "as agreeable to the men as is consistent with the performance of its duty to the public,"—which is all right, as a matter of course.

It is further specified in the agreement that "the strikers shall be taken back without prejudice," and that "membership in the union shall not constitute proper cause for discharge from the company's employment," with a specific provision, however, that the company shall retain "the right to employ, discharge or discipline its employés as it sees fit." This is all the company has contended for at any time. It did not propose, at any stage of the controversy, to discriminate against union men; but it expressly declined to discriminate against non-union men, and to its credit the company maintained this position firmly to the end, and won a distinct and complete victory on this, the most vital and important part of the controversy. Under the euphemistic phrase, "recognition of the union," the strikers in fact demanded that the company should discharge all non-union men in its employ, and should refuse to employ any man not a member of the union. This was tantamount to a demand that a blacklist should be established against men whose only offense is that they prefer to act on their own individual responsibility instead of abrogating their inherent rights of individual initiative and responsibility in favor of an organization of which they would be, if united with it, only an inconsequential unit, subject to the caprices of unwise and unworthy leaders, and to the rule of a majority often misinformed and misdirected. "Recognition of the union," such as the union demanded in this case (which was like most others of its kind) is fatal to the prosperity of employers who accede to it, subversive of their guaranteed rights as men and citizens, and destructive of their self-respect.

It is for this inconsequential outcome that the people of Chicago have been subjected to extreme inconvenience for nearly two weeks; that crime has run rampant in the streets of the city, taking the form of personal violence, destruction of property, and even attempted murder. It is for this that the public peace has been violated day after day, and a veritable reign of terror inaugurated. Truly, Chicago is to be congratulated upon the "settlement" of the strike.

Our "bluggy" and serene old friend, Mr. Hamid, occupying the position of Sultan of Turkey, has accepted the demands made upon him for a reformation of his ways by Russia and Austria. But he was careful to stipulate that "everything calculated to humiliate Turkey shall be avoided," which, as we are told by the dispatches, "has produced a great impression in diplomatic circles." That is perfectly correct. The Sick Man of Europe, whose record is unspeakable and whose career among the world's nations reeks with blood and smells of death, must not be humiliated, for he was raised a pet, as it were. Humanity would shiver with horror should anything be said or done to ruffle the smug serenity of Abdul Hamid, whose present post-office address is Constantinople.

Another Chicago strike is at an end. It doesn't appear that the strikers have accomplished any great gains, unless they look upon a loss of something more than $80,000 in wages as net profits. To be sure they have caused a larger loss to their employers, but just what comfort they will be able to get out of that is not entirely clear. It is not to be hoped or expected that any lessons will be learned from the recent labor insurrection in the Windy City. The walking delegate profits not by experience, but upon the troubles of those who follow his lead along a crooked path, and the followers will doubtless continue making those bad breaks to the end. The pity of it is not to be measured in phrases, nor sounded with the plummet of human sympathy.

Another poor human creature has been found dead in a squalid room from the effects of drink. And yet the traffic in the awful stuff goes on at an expense of $12,000 per day in the city of Los Angeles alone. In that far-off golden future of which the humanitarian sometimes dreams perhaps all this will be changed, and intoxicating liquors may become contraband, like opium and other poisons. What a glad and glorious day that will be for this troubled and desperate old world no tongue can tell.

The dispatches assure us that there was never so much friction between the upper and lower houses of Congress as at the present time. If a pair of Representatives equal as fighters to Tillman and Bailey of the Senate could be selected, it might be a good idea to have the trouble settled vicariously in order that there may be peace at Washington, D. C.

Now that the automobiles of Los Angeles are being numbered, the killed, frightened and maimed may at least have the happiness and satisfaction of knowing whether it is number "13" or some other number that is a hoodoo for the particular individual who perchance gets automobiled and otherwise disfigured.

A New York lady has brought suit against another New York lady for the alienation of her husband's affections (and he a foreigner, at that,) placing the figure at the neat and tidy sum of $500,000. Such figures as these are enough to make a husband's bosom bulge out with pride at his worth.

Not to be outdone by the mob in the street the members of a political club in Chicago have been engaged in a rough-and-tumble fight and with the flashing of weapons. There must be a wind blowing off the lake, which is sufficient to make even an Angeleño mad enough to cut and shoot.

Society in Washington is reported to be greatly perturbed because there is no salon at the Capitol. It is too bad. But there is a generous plenty of the places with another "o" in them to supply the wants of that city of magnificent distances and other attractive and picturesque features.

'Gene Ware has discovered that there is more work than poesy in the Pension Office and will shortly return to Kansas, where he used to be so happy and wrote so sweetly. Glad of it. One of Ware's dandy fine poems is worth a carload of offices, no matter how high the salary.

Republicans throughout the nation will rejoice to learn that there is harmony in New York and that the Odellian and Plattsonian knives have been restored to their respective boots. This is another thing to be thankful for while recounting the list.

Another Yaqui uprising has been contradicted. But in matters of insurrection in the Yaqui country, contradiction is what we have every right to expect. They come trotting along on the heels of the original story as regularly as clockwork.

Mr. Rockefeller ought to be thankful today that his ample Standard Oil dividends will enable him to buy an occasional egg, but how long such will be the case, considering the way prices are soaring, we will not undertake to say.

Armenians are rioting in Russia. It will surprise many persons to know that there were enough Armenians left, after the several Turkish raids to which they were subjected, to work up a riot.

The man who eats turkey today, considering the altitude of the price of the aforesaid bird, may safely include himself among our list of millionaires without danger of contradiction.

If turkey is so high in price today that one is not encountered upon your sumptuous board, be thankful that there are others, if you can secure any comfort from the thought.

Let us be thankful that we are going to have an arbor day in January and that the long-looked-for tree-planting campaign is finally to begin in Los Angeles.

Let us be thankful for the prospective 200 miles of asphalt-paved streets that we are going to have in Los Angeles one of these fine, large days.

Let us be thankful that, even though there is no such thing as a union railway station in Los Angeles, things may not be always thus.

The ripening of the tourist crop is another of the many things that Southern California has reason to be thankful for today.

Let us be thankful that the boost in the price of coal doesn't jar us out here in this glorious climate in the slightest degree.

England is boasting of a five-year-old musical composer. Let us hear no more of the precocity of Young America.

We need more policemen, and the interest that does so much to make them necessary ought to pay the freight.

Let us be thankful that there are still a great many people in this world who have something to be really thankful for.

Gen. Ma is about ready to march against the Russians in Manchuria with an army of 15,000 men. Poor Ma!

Let us be thankful that some of those we love are still alive and that we are still pegging along, after a fashion.

President Wos y Gil has surrendered and Santo Domingo has successfully revoluted once more. Next!

Let us be thankful, even if the weather is dry, that there are no blizzards blowing up Spring street.

Let us be thankful that that blackboard question wasn't as black as it was painted.

Let us be thankful that our lines have fallen in these pleasant places.

Let us be thankful that it isn't any worse.

SINGLE SHOTS.

Chile has declared itself in favor of the canal. Here is some sauce for the Colombian goose.

The significant feature of the recent automobile performances in Los Angeles was that no one had to walk back.

A $5,000,000 graft, unearthed in Philadelphia, is enough to set the body of William Penn revolving at the rate of 280 revolutions to the minute.

Dowie states that he will take a newspaper plant with him and issue a daily paper on his next New York crusade. Unlike W. Patterson, Esq., 'Lije knows who hit him.

The instance of Carrie Nation being fined $25 for trying to address the Senate is probably the first time that Congress has ever literally refused to listen to the voice of the nation.

Congress will lay the Cuban bill on the table, temporarily, this week. If the beet sugar interests had their way they would lay it under the table, permanently.

The Filipino leader who asked to be sent home, and who while being taken there, led the American troops into an ambush in which he was killed, appears to have had his request fully granted.

The Colombian disaffection has gone about far enough for their "George Washington" to come forward and reveal his identity. We have not had a real good, first-class, modern George Washington since the Democrats had Aguinaldo playing the role.

An authority says that the chrysanthemum will yet give up to mankind the secret of vegetable life. We, of mankind, who have been regularly expending our salaries for this lustrous blossom, will agree that it is about time that it is giving up something in return.

Admiral Bob Evans has been ordered to be within hailing distance of Panama. Probably it is the intention of the Naval Department to awe the Colombians into submission and a proper degree of respect with an exhibition of Admiral Bob's lurid and powerful style of oratory.

When Colombia's Gen. Reyes arrives at Washington the officials might do much toward allaying the protuberant military ardor of that province by inducing the General to walk across from New York to San Francisco and take a look at some of the country that he so ruthlessly proposes to lay waste.

The English nobleman who was fleeced for $60,000 because he did not know the difference between a check and a bill of exchange must be an exception in his class. Those of them who come over to this country and prospect around among our millionaire papas seem to be able to discern a check with great accuracy.

INFANT MUSICAL WONDER.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The waltz entitled "Le Reve," which is now being played by Dan Godfrey's band at Bournemouth, was composed by a child named Max Darewski, three years ago. The composer, who is now only 8 years of age, will shortly appear in concerts as a pianist and conductor.

"TWEENTIMES."

BY E. A. BRININSTOOL.

THE THANKSGIVING EXPERIENCE OF JOHNNY AND SUE.

It was Thanksgiving evening, and all through the house
There was trouble galore for the over-worked spouse.
The kids had been dosed up with scrupulous care,
But yet there was misery hovering there;
Each youngster had early been put into bed,
With overfed stomachs as heavy as lead,
And mother and father had gotten to sleep,
When in the small "tummies" pains started to creep.
First, Susie had visions that made it quite plain
That mince pie and pudding had turned her small brain;
While turkey and dumplings were running a race
Around in her stomach at riotous pace.
And Johnny awoke with a terrible scream,
Half-frightened to death from a horrible dream;
He thought an old gobbler, with vengeance to wreak,
Was chasing him up with a wide-open beak,
And the Thanksgiving bird, without heeding his cries,
Then started to pick out his two little eyes;
When all of a sudden there hopped into view,
With a wink and a leer and a knowing grin, too,
A steaming plum pudding, which jumped with a bound
Upon his small stomach and waltzed all around,
Exclaiming, "Aha, little boy, now you see What pay you are getting for gorging on me!"
And a solemn mince pie on the scene then did steal
And whirled round his breast like a flying cart wheel;
Then a chocolate cake took the pie's dizzy place,
And smeared itself all over small Johnny's face;
And as it got through and crept slowly away,
A dish of ice cream cried, "I'm after my pay!"
And it crawled away up Johnny's shivering spine,
And icily screeched, "Bonny, isn't that fine?"
Then a plateful of candy up toward him did prance,
And cried to the ice cream, "Come, give me a chance;
This kid ate a pound of the finest confection,
It's time I played tag with the youngster's digestion;"
Then down his small throat on a merisome frolic,
The candy all crept 'midst the cramps and the colic,
And oh, what a time for small Johnny and Sue,
For a while it was doubtful if they would pull through.
The doctor was telephoned for in great haste,
And quick to the scene with his pill-box he raced,
And into each woe-begone, sick-looking kid,
Huge doses of castor oil quickly he slid;
And then paregoric and countless big pills,
(Supposed to do wonders for Thanksgiving ills,)
Were hurriedly sent to the seat of despair,
To settle the awful disturbances there.
And while they are both in the land of the living,
They haven't forgotten that awful Thanksgiving.
So beware, little girls, and beware, little boys!
And don't overdo your Thanksgiving-day joys!

Thanksgiving turkeys were high yesterday, but this is the day they go down.

CAUSE FOR THANKFULNESS.

"Wal, what air ye thankful fer this Thanskkivin'?"

"Got three o' my gals married off this year, an' Molly says Bill's workin' along to'rds th' poppin' p'int right peart. Ain't that 'nuff?"

Editor Watterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal, in an editorial, refers to "our well-filled cup of bliss," but neglects to give the brand of it.

The W.C.T.U. denounces "the unhygienic use of handkerchiefs" in giving the Chautauqua salute. Boil your handkerchiefs!

Between the football games and the Thanksgiving dinners today it'll be a mighty slow surgeon who doesn't take in enough to buy his winter's supply of coal.

RATHER A LUXURY.

He: Yes, Mabel is such a dear girl.
She: So I understand her father says, every time the millinery and dressmaking bills come in.

Cole Younger, ex-bandit and robber, has gone into the real estate business. Back to his old tricks, we see.

A South Carolina paper calls Senator Tillman a "vulgar and impertinent ass." Verily, this is slandering the noble Missouri mule!

THE WINNING SPEECH.

"If yer comin' down hyar t' make politicul speeches," remarked Snapshot Sam to the prospective candidate, "yew want t' understan' that they's jest one kind o' spiel that'll ketch th' boys in th' politicul line."

"And what's that?"

"It's when ther candidate sez, Gents, name yer pisen.'"

An eastern minister says he "hopes the day will soon come when women will think less and less of dress and lose interest in clothes." So it will—when the seashore season opens up in 1904.

H. Blariott-Watson, a well-known novelist, claims that athletics are ruining our young women. Girls who have to wash the dishes while mother rests can now get in a few "I told you sos."

LOOKING AHEAD.

"Love will find the way," he cried,
"If we submit our wills."
"Perhaps," the lovely maiden sighed,
"But Love won't foot the bills."

A Smithville (Mo.) paper tells of a young woman there who lost a fur boa. Her "best feller" dreamed next night that he saw it inside a log by his woodpile. He arose, slipped on his clothes, went to the log, thrust in his arm and pulled out a bundle of fur, but from the odor which instantly permeated the atmosphere he concluded his dream was an error. Meantime his clothing reposes under two feet of earth for a brief airing.

An Indiana man has planned an automobile railway—and the coffin makers are pricking up their ears.

A bridge weighing 600 tons was floated up the Chicago River on scows to the repair shops. The Chicago River always was thick enough, anyway, to hold up anything that was spread upon its corrugated surface.

SLIGHTLY MISUNDERSTOOD.

"Don't you ever have breakfast food?" inquired the stranger of the Kentucky landlord, as he sipped his coffee.

"Breakfast food? Wal, sumtimes, but it's gin'lly arter dinner thet th' shootin's th' liveliest."

An eastern scientist is lecturing on "Do We Eat Too Much?" Come around tomorrow, professor, and we can answer that question.

THEN IT WAS "UP TO HIM."

He (eagerly:) Does your mother object to my kissing you?
She (shyly:) Yes, but—but I don't.

According to a medical authority cold feet of women cause them to have red noses. Lots of men would be willing to pay that doctor a good fee if he could convince an unfeeling world that that is what gives the male nasal appendage its luminous, rubicund glow.

A Berkeley professor has a fossilized egg which he considers a great curiosity. Huh! It's no more of a curiosity than fresh eggs are just now.

If we could only get that Colombian army of 100,000 men on the gridiron today, and let Stanford and the Sherman Indians do the flying wedge through their ranks they would want no further dose of Yankee medicine.

A THANKSGIVING PRAYER.

We thank Thee for so many things today, dear God,
That our bosoms swell for utterance of thought.
The birds are singing, and the flowers are sweet,
The sky is smiling at the sun's warm heat;
All nature seems to breathe a prayer,
For love is brooding everywhere.
Please hear one song a full heart brings
With all the thanks a nation sings.
We come with thankful heart and willing mind,
Thou understandst our thoughts, and will be kind.

Teach us to learn the value of a pain—
To take the sunshine equal with the rain.
We wish to thank thee for each day alike,
Though some days shadows make the sun less bright.
We take the sweet Thou givest us and are glad,
We wish to take the bitter too, and not be sad.
Dear God, please teach us how
A million flowers, all wet with dew,
"Have learned;" in Nature's voice they whisper,
"Why have not you?"

CHARLOTTE BRIGHT.

"FORGET NOT ALL HIS BENEFITS."

The seasons wait on Nature's reverent mood,
Though wintry skies shall soon frown chill and gray,
Where earth still wears vain autumn's garments gay.
Peace like a benediction seems to brood.
We bow before our Lord in gratitude;
'Tis meet that we our loving homage pay
To Him who cares for us along the way,
And go rejoicing, glad that life is good.

Observing now the nation's day of prayer,
Thanksgiving joy and praise shall be our theme;
Forgetting not a Father's tender care,
Acknowledging the guiding hand supreme.
Through faith's sweet privilege, whate'er befall,
We rest content for God is over all.

EVENTS IN SOCIETY.

One of the prettiest of the late autumn weddings was solemnized last evening, being the nuptials of Miss Ruth Fay and Walter Ransome Leeds.
They were married at 8 o'clock in the reception hall of the bride's home, corner of Adams street and Grand avenue. The Catholic service was read by Rev. J. J. Gleam, C.M., D.D., president of St. Vincent's College.
The attendants of the couple were Miss Alice Graves, maid of honor, and Mr. Johnston, best man. The bridesmaids were Miss Adelaide Brown, Miss Ethel Burke, Miss Lora Hubbell, Miss
Ruth Shankland and the Misses Mabel and Ethel Crellin of Oakland. Dr.
Rivetta, Karl Klokke, Will Nevin, Frank Chandler, Harry Van Dyke and
Percy Fay were with the groom.
The decorative scheme of the beautiful Fay home was highly effective.
During the pronunciation of the rites the people stood on the landing in the hall, which was solidly walled with palms, lighted by electric lights in pink silk shades. The other rooms were artistically decorated, chrysanthemums, ferns and smilax being profusely used in the scheme.
The bridal table was set in the reception room, and the color scheme here was green and white. White satin ribbons, printed with names of the guests, marked the places, and in the center of the table was a mirror bordered with lilies of the valley.
The bride wore white chiffon crêpe de soie, trimmed with Irish point lace, and worn with full train. A shower bouquet of lilies of the valley was carried. The maid of honor was gowned in white chiffon over silk and wore maidenhair ferns. The bridesmaids were simply dressed in pale blue, carrying shepherds' crooks tied with green ribbon and tied with clusters of white chrysanthemums.
About one hundred and fifty guests were present. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Leeds will be at home at No. 2643 Van Buren place.

Eaton-Eaton.

Miss Helen R. Eaton was married to J. Lacy Speer, a well-known Chicago journalist, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eaton of No. 2611 West Twelfth street yesterday morning. Only the family was present. Rev. Williams of St. Paul's Cathedral performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Speer left at once for Chicago, where they will make their home. Mr. Speer is one of the picturesque figures of Chicago journalism.
He is managing editor of Ad Sense, one of the largest papers of its class in the country, and is attaining distinction as a writer of song lyrics, having written some of the verse for "King Dodo," as well as several popular songs that have been hailed as "hits," and admitted within the sacred portals where none may enter who have not "made good."

Girl Party.

Miss Rosie Oyler and Miss Ethel
Cox entertained a small party of girls at the pretty Garvanza home of Miss Cox last evening.
The affair was informal and was given as a kitchen shower for Miss Elsie Owens, who will wed Dr. Williard Schooley December 3.

—o—

Silver Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. B. Montgomery of No. 1433 Bond street celebrated their silver wedding last evening. They have lived here for fifteen years, and the house was crowded with friends to whom them a pleasant passing of the hours until their golden wedding.
Mr. Robert McIntyre remarried the company, and a series of musical numbers was given as the entertainment of the night. Among the artists was the talented daughter of
Dr. Montgomery, Miss Leonora.
A large cake, in the center of which was a large silver ring, was cut by the bridegroom and guests.

Thanksgiving Dinner.

A Thanksgiving dinner served on Thanksgiving eve was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hubert last evening to the night force of the city ticket offices of the Pacific Electric Railway, and the ticket and information bureaus. The dinner was given at the Angelus, and was a sort of farewell to social functions for the winter as far as the hosts were concerned. Mr. and Mrs.
Hubert leave in a few days for their winter home at Hemet.
Among the guests were Mrs. E. Hoag, Miss
Knight, Miss M. Fraser, Miss H.
Hoag and Messrs. H. F. Gentry, F.

Progressive Whist.

At her home, No. 1915 Warner street,
Miss Ella Sutler gave a progressive whist party in honor of Miss Elizabeth Scheifer Tuesday evening. After the awarding of the prizes light refreshments were served. The hall, parlors and reading-room were decorated with a profusion of holly berries, English ivy and potted plants. The lights were shaded in red, and an orchestra of stringed instruments discoursed Spanish music.
Those present were Misses A. Perow, recently retired from the United States army with the rank of brigadier-general.

Four-handed euchre was the game played, and the guests occupied eleven tables. The parlors were decorated in white and pink roses, the library was a bower of bags, large and small.
At the end of the game refreshments were served.

OPENING OF CREAMERY AT IMPERIAL.

MANY MILCH COWS BROUGHT INTO THE DISTRICT.

Thousands of Cattle and Hogs to Fatten in Lush Pastures—Land Around Town of Imperial Seeded to Grain to Relieve Barren Appearance.

IMPERIAL, Nov. 25.—The opening of the creamery the first of this month has led many farmers throughout the valley to bring in milch cows from near the coast. Dairying bids fair to become one of the leading industries of the valley, judging from the number of cows imported during the past three weeks. Last week ninety-six head were brought in; the largest shipments being those of J. M. Cardiff of San Bernardino, thirty head;
Thomas Beach, twenty-four; Dr. H.
J. Fuller of Wyneia, twenty-two; and Prof. Sisson of Santa Ana, fifteen.
During October 2000 head of live stock were brought to Imperial and about five hundred to Brawley, and the total for November will be more than that, as one train load of nearly one thousand head arrived Friday evening.
Many hogs are also being shipped in by dealers for distribution among the farmers. Havens & Taggart recently received two carloads.
McKim Brothers this week finished seeding four hundred acres of alfalfa on their ranch over seven miles east of Imperial, the part first seeded this fall now being up about five inches.
The season has been perfect for this work, and a fine stand is being secured. This is the largest single body of alfalfa in the valley, and will be used by the many hogs now on the ranch and by their offspring next summer. By next fall it is expected that sixteen hundred head of hogs will enjoy the pasture now being provided.
The Imperial Land Company has begun the work of putting four hundred acres about the town of Imperial to grain, the object in view being to relieve the barren appearance of the townsite.
The Imperial school children will render their Thanksgiving exercises at the school house Wednesday afternoon.
The Southern Pacific depot in Imperial is rapidly nearing completion. It is expected to be ready for occupancy by January 1.
The California Development Company having had trouble in securing right-of-way for the railroad to Calexico over some farms, has turned the matter over to the Southern Pacific Company, which will begin condemnation proceedings.
Solon K. Weed of Calexico will be married to Miss Eva Mae Wright of San Diego Tuesday at the home of the bride's parents.
The first quarterly conference of the
M. E. Church was held in Imperial
Saturday and Sunday. Rev. W. M.
Sterling of Los Angeles conducted the services.

of hunters through the valley into Mexico last week. They were joined here by Leroy Holt.

to cross the Alamo River south of Holton. This bridge will be the connect-begin work this week.

BRAWLEY NOTES.

This beautiful grove contains 7½ acres. With it there are two houses and water stock, which is ample. The water comes from artesian wells and mountain streams; it is pure and good.

One-third of the trees are Lisbon lemons and two-thirds oranges—Washington navels, Bloods and Mediterranean Sweets—all first-class varieties. The trees were set out some 3 years ago and have always had first-class care; they are now large and vigorous and yielding a nice lot of fruit. This grove is a little over 1 mile from the center of town, which makes it very desirable for a home site.

The mountains and valley scenery is magnificent; it overlooks the Riverside and Santa Ana valleys, one of the grandest views in Southern California. This property belongs to a gentleman over 80 years old, and is declining health; he has instructed us to sell the property, and has made the price exceedingly low.

Price $12,000. Terms, $3000 cash, balance can run one and two years, interest 7 per cent. This is a grand, good bargain, too good a bargain to remain in the market long.

CONFESSION OF TOM HAYS.

Full Text of the Agreement that He Signed.

List of Properties Which Hays Deeded to Railroad.

Suit Against Him in U. S. Court. His Real Estate Attached.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If any doubt has existed in the minds of the Riverside friends of H. T. Hays of his having buncoed the Salt Lake Railroad Company out of thousands of dollars, if those singing his praises since his duplicity was exposed have been acting honestly, they must now change their opinions. For the first time since the whole scandal was made public, Hays's written confession of his breach of trust here is published. The friends of Hays in the Riverside Lodge of Elks may cheer him if they wish, but here is presented a copy of a statement signed by him in which Hays admits his guilt of what has been charged against him.

The phraseology of this signed statement is in legal terms, but stripped of the verbiage it is simply a statement to this effect:

"I admit that while acting in a confidential capacity for the Salt Lake Railroad Company, I bilked that company out of several thousand dollars, and I now agree to make good the amount of my graft."

It will be noticed that in his confession or agreement Hays promises to refund to the railroad company within ten days. He failed to keep that promise, and as a result his property here was attached by a United States deputy marshal, as the result of a suit filed in the United States District Court at Los Angeles. The effect will be not only to tie up Hays's property here until the case is settled, but the trial of the cause in Los Angeles, where all the facts, many of which have not been made public, will come out.

The agreement or confession which Hays made here follows:

THE AGREEMENT IN FULL.

Whereas, the undersigned has acted as agent for San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company in the purchase for it of certain pieces of real estate in the city of Riverside, briefly described in the annexed schedule, and as such agent has received from said railroad company the moneys paid by it as the purchase prices for said real estate, and, whereas, the purchase prices actually paid to the owners of said pieces of real estate have been less than the respective sums which the said undersigned has received from said railroad company to be paid as the purchase prices for said real estate, but the total amount of such differences between the sums so received by the undersigned from said railroad company and the prices actually paid the owners of said pieces of real estate for the same is not at present fully known to said railroad company, but is now being ascertained, and the undersigned has agreed with said railroad company to assist it in ascertaining the same,

Now, this witnesseth, that the undersigned admits himself indebted to said San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company in the total sum of all amounts which said railroad company has paid and delivered to him as the respective purchase prices of said pieces of real estate in excess of the amounts of the purchase prices of the same, which the owners of the said real estate, who sold the same to said railroad company, or to the undersigned, or to any other person selected by the undersigned to act as agent in purchasing said pieces of real estate, have actually received as the respective purchase prices of the same, less the usual and customary real estate agent's commission of 5 per cent. on the first one thousand dollars, and 2½ per cent. on the balance of the price actually paid to the owner, which is to be deducted from said difference, except in cases where the owner actually paid an agent's commission out of the purchase price received by him for any of the real estate hereinbefore referred to; and the undersigned has this day conveyed, by grant, bargain and sale deed, to Robert Lee Bettner of the city of Riverside, county of Riverside and State of California, the following described real estate, situate in said city of Riverside, to-wit:

[Here is inserted a description of the property, including lot 6, block 37, division B, Washington Square; east one-half of the southwest quarter of lot 173, 20 acres of lot 174 and all of lot 176, less 20 rods square of the San Jacinto Land Association's Farm tract.]

Which said piece of real estate the said undersigned represents to be reasonably worth the sum of $12,000, and the said property has been, by the said undersigned, so conveyed to the said Robert Lee Bettner to be by him held for the benefit of said San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company, and as security for the payment to it by the undersigned of the total sum of all excess in the amounts so paid by said railroad company for said real estate to the undersigned over the amounts so actually paid to the owners of said real estate as the purchase prices thereof, and the amount of said agents' commissions as aforesaid.

And the undersigned further agrees that he will, within ten days from the date hereof, furnish to said railroad company evidence of what is the said sum total of differences between the amounts so paid and delivered to said undersigned by said railroad company and the amounts actually paid to the owners of said pieces of real estate as the purchase prices thereof as aforesaid, as well as the various sums and amounts of agents' commissions actually paid by the owners of said pieces of real estate out of the purchase price paid to them as aforesaid, and will agree with said railroad company upon the sum total of differences so hereby acknowledged to be due from him to said railroad company, and will within six months thereafter pay to said railroad company said sum total so ascertained and agreed upon as being due from the undersigned to it; and if the said sum total is not so paid at the time and upon the date herein agreed upon, then the said Robert Lee Bettner, to whom the said above described real estate has been conveyed by the undersigned, is hereby authorized and directed to hold, use and dispose of the same, subject to the orders of said San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company, and to use the said property, or the moneys obtained from the sale of the same, for the purpose of repaying to said railroad company the total of all sums so found and agreed to be due the said railroad company under the terms hereof.

In witness whereof, the said undersigned has hereunto set his hand and seal this 12th day of November, 1903.

[Seal] H. T. HAYS.

Signed and delivered in presence of WILFRED M. PECK.

Urged by overconfident friends, who know nothing about the inside of the case, except what he has told them, Hays this morning put on a bolder front than he has shown since the first publication of his dealings. He gave out that he proposed to fight the case in the courts, and that he had retained a leading Los Angeles attorney to look after his interests. How much there is to this cannot now be stated, but whether Hays wishes it or not he will have to defend himself in the courts in the civil action brought today by the Salt Lake people. The ten days in which he was to make good his alleged stealings from the railroad company expired on Saturday, but the representatives of the company waited until Tuesday before making any move. Yesterday Attorney Peck, acting under instructions from Los Angeles, notified Hays that he must immediately make a settlement or the company would take action. Hays made no reply, and the result was the arrival here this morning of a United States deputy marshal, who served an attachment against the property owned by Hays and against all of his other holdings, and a summons on Hays.

SUIT AGAINST HAYS, ATTACHMENT ISSUED.

When the officials of the Salt Lake Railroad Company were informed Tuesday night by Attorney Pack of Riverside that Hays had not replied to the demand that he keep his part of the agreement, there was no delay on their part. Papers had been prepared in advance and Third Vice-President Gibbon immediately filed them in the United States Court.

The complaint recites that Hays had defrauded the company out of thousands of dollars, the exact amount being unknown; that he has failed to make a settlement that he has property in Riverside county worth the amount which is due to the railroad company, and that inasmuch as the railroad company is a corporation organized under the laws of Utah it applies through the Federal courts for relief. An attachment against Hay's property is prayed for and ample bond to cover the matter accompanied the papers.

The attachment was issued promptly but by the time it reached the office of the United States Marshal it was too late for an officer to catch the early morning trains for Riverside. There was no time to be lost and the railroad company placed at the disposal of a United States Deputy Marshal a special train. On this the officer was taken as far as the new Salt Lake bridge near Riverside his train being given the right of way over all others. At the bridge, which is the end of the line, a carriage was in waiting and the officer proceeded to Riverside where he served his papers and levied the attachment upon Hay's property.

DESERTS SOUTH AFRICA.

John Hays Hammond of Jameson Raid Fame is Here, and Says He Will Remain in America.

John Hays Hammond of New York, the mining engineer famous for his exploits in South Africa, especially in connection with the Jameson raid, arrived in the city yesterday with a party in a private car, and took a room for the day at the Angelus.

Mr. Hammond says he is on the Pacific Coast on a combined mission of work and recreation, some mining properties in the West forming part of the cause of his trip here. He says that America is good enough for him now, and that although mining interests in South Africa continue to claim his attention, he will henceforth make his home in the United States.

The mining expert did not care to discuss Boer topics, but of the mining industry about Johannesburg he said:

"The labor situation there seriously hampers the industry. The Kaffirs are very uncertain laborers, and white men cannot stand the underground work. The shiftiness of the Kaffirs causes the mines to run short handed, and while they now employ about 60,000 men of poor quality, they really need 150,000 good laborers. There is talk of bringing Chinese into the mines, but this is not looked on with entire favor."

YOUNG NOBLE FROM CEYLON.

Pitiful Death of a Palmist, Once Gilded Youth.

He Came to an Obscure End at a Pasadena Sanatorium.

Disowned by His Wealthy Parents Because He Embraced Christianity.

This pitiful little story of the death of Ratna Senanayka, a Ceylon nobleman's son, who died at Pasadena this week, has come to light though the investigations of the Public Administrator of Los Angeles county.

He died alone and obscurely at the Pasadena Sanatorium. They knew him only as "Prof. Senanayka," a palmist.

R. SENA NAYAKA.

His palmistry, though, was but the sign of his cross. It signified that he struggled between the religion of his native land of Ceylon that he came here to teach, and the Christ story of the new land, and sacrificed everything in life for the new.

His story is mutely told by the articles of his luggage, which have come into the hands of the Public Administrator.

There is an old newspaper clipping which showed that he was in Detroit several years ago "looking for the light." He had come over from his home in Ceylon, evidently to diffuse Buddhism.

The Detroit paper had an account of the attempts of the actor Edwin Booth to convert him, of a meeting between the Ceylon lad and Evangelist Miller in which they argued.

The account was written with the avidity of a prize-fight story. Ratna laid all over the evangelist. In his Oriental way, this youth put himself in the guise of one seeking for light and asked, seemingly innocent questions that Miller could not answer. At last the latter seemed to get angry and told Rana he did not believe he was seeking the truth—that the way to do it was to get down on his knees and pray for it.

"But," said the Ceylon youth, "how could I do that, not believing? That would not be honest."

Miller blustered that he should not try to get Christianity "head first, but heart first."

"But," said Ratna, "how can I believe a religion I do not understand?"

Evidently in time he met some one a little stronger of logic than the evangelist, for his papers show that his rich father in Ceylon cut him off in scorn and disgust for having turned Christian.

His people in Ceylon seem to be of great consequence. A picture of his father shows a distinguished and beturbaned looking man. Kodak pictures taken before his arrival in America and, of course, before his conversion, show Ratna in coaching parties and picnics and in other social gatherings with people in the clothes and equipages of wealth. When he struck England, he evidently cut something of a swath.

Among his papers are photographs of people in the get-up of those who chase down the illusive mysteries and add disarrangments of the alphabet after their names. Also there are pictures of two beautiful women.

The end of it was Prof. Senanayka, the palmist. He had a note book, in which were jotted down points on palmistry, so crude that any society girl could do better. Evidently he was a very punk palmist.

In his trunk was found a diamond ring with a stone about the size of an acorn. If it is genuine, it must be of enormouse value.

Evidences were also found of deposits of $500, with a note for $100, a cashier's check for $500, and cash amounting to $226.34.

"Mr. Nayaka came to Pasadena from Chicago, where he had been staying in our sanitarium there for a little over two months," said Mrs. E. G. Lawrence, matron of the Pasadena Sanitarium, yesterday evening. He had been treated here for five weeks lacking two days, when he died, and he knew some time before his death that his days were numbered. He took the doctor's statement very quietly and said that he knew. In answer to questions concerning his property he had nothing to say. His lips were sealed concerning his relatives or former life. Only once he told his nurse that he was a native of Ceylon, and that he had a mother and a father and sisters and a brother living there.

"One day after his death we received a letter from a Mr. Griro, living at Nos. 77 and 8 Lake street, Chicago, asking that we make every possible effort to find out the address of Mr. Nayaka, and stating that if he was much worse to telegraph and he would come out. As far as we know this gentleman in Chicago was the only friend the dying man had on earth, and he was the only man from whom communications of any kind were received during our acquaintance with Mr. Nayaka. I believe that the man in Chicago was of the same nativity as Mr. Nayaka, and they used to correspond quite frequently.

"Mr. Nayaka came to America about three years ago to complete his education. He attended the Chicago University and studied so hard that his health broke down. After coming to America he professed the Christian belief and was, as we understand it, disowned by his father and his allowance was cut off. His people were Buddhists and at times he use to talk to his nurse about his former religion. He said that he was sorry that American people thought that Buddhists discarded their relatives when they became old and allowed them to die 'for it is not true,' he said, 'or if it is done, it is not done more often than it is right here in America.' But much as he liked to talk about Buddhism he was a true Christian, a kindly man and as perfect a gentleman as I ever served.

"Everything that he had was of the best and his watch, ring and a card case all bore a monogram of neat design. In his trunk was part of an East-Indian costume that was made of very fine silk and rich in its colors. His books were all bound in morocco and in every way was it apparent that he came of a wealthy family. And yet he had no word to leave or directions of any kind to give. He died of tuberculosis of the stomach and bowels.

POLICE OFFICER'S SAD ERRAND OF MERCY.

HEARTBREAKING EXPERIENCE OF PATROLMAN WALSH.

Responding to an Emergency Call in Case of Accident, He Found the Victim to be His Own Wife, Who Had Fallen to Her Death.

It seldom comes to the lot of man, even to that of a police officer, who is used to witnessing all sorts of strange tragedies, to have such a heartbreaking experience as befell Patrolman J. M. Walsh yesterday afternoon. It was his lot to respond to an emergency call in a case of accident which resulted in the death of his own wife.

Mrs. Walsh fell to her death by leaning against a rotten balustrade around a small court in the rear of their home at No. 150½ North Main street.

The officer had just brought an alleged cattle thief to the Police Station. He had had a gun fight with him and had only subdued him after a hard struggle. But he got his man. After the prisoner had been locked up and while Walsh was waiting at the clerk's desk for orders, a telephone message was received stating that a woman had been seriously injured on North Main street by falling, and asking that the patrol wagon be sent to that place in a hurry.

Such calls for the patrol wagon are received several times a day and in the absence of the regular officer who accompanies the wagon, Walsh was told to respond. When the wagon arrived at the place, Walsh noticed that it was the house in which he lived, but inasmuch as there are other families in the same building, he thought nothing of that.

Then some person who knew him told Walsh what had happened. His wife had fallen from an upper porch to the cement-covered court below. Her skull was crushed and her neck broken. She was dead when found.

An examination of the porch showed that the railing was rotten. No person witnessed the accident, but it is supposed that Mrs. Walsh, who was a very fleshy woman, weighing about 180 pounds, had leaned against the railing and that it had broken under her weight, causing her to fall more than twenty feet.

The awful revelation that it was his wife who lay dead before him was a shock that would have unnerved even a stronger man than Walsh. He was almost prostrated.

The remains of Mrs. Walsh were taken to Orr & Hines' undertaking establishment, where an inquest was held, the verdict of accidental death being rendered by the Coroner's jury.

MAKING MONEY BY MOVING ON.

Colored Man's Clever Scheme to Get Rich Quick.

Snug Fortune Accumulated in Very Short Time.

White Folks Pay Handsomely for Privilege of Not Having Colored Neighbors.

Oh, it's purple and fine linen for the cladding of the coffee-colored form of Edward McLaughlin in these piping days of prosperity; and it's turkey and cranberry sauce, and pumpkin pies and mince pies and all the other "fixin's" of the holiday dinner for the McLaughlin family board this joyous Thanksgiving day, in their cottage home at No. 211 Elmyra street.

EDWARD M'LAUGHLIN.

Papa and Mamma McLaughlin, with their six buxom youngsters, will gather around the bounteous spread today and give thanks with hearts full of more or less guileless gratitude, for the last few weeks have been their harvest time, and they have seen their bank account mount up from a few paltry dollars to comfortably near the $1000 mark.

Edward McLaughlin has struck a "get-rich-quick" scheme that outclasses "cumulative credits," "Vril" stock-buying, or even instalment watch-selling. He simply deals in Los Angeles realty, and he thinks that's good enough for any one.

White folks who think they have a cinch on commercial enterprises and who are inclined to look with contempt on the efforts of the humble colored man will please take notice that there is one Los Angeles negro who can give them pointers on the methods of quickly accumulating a healthy bank account.

A few weeks ago he conceived the idea of purchasing a home in one of the handsome residence districts in the southeast part of the city, where pretty cottages are going up like magic, and where you go to sleep in the evening and wake up next morning to find new neighbors all around you. Out on East Forty-second, east of Central avenue, McLaughlin got his lot through the intervention of a second party, a white man, who was willing to make the purchase for him for a small consideration. Then a small shack went up, and the wondering neighbors were amazed to see the place taken by about as lively a crowd of little colored children as one can run across in the Angel City.

There was a consultation among the neighbors and the newcomer was asked to take a handsome advance on the purchase price of his lot and to move on. With a net gain of $75 on this one deal, the McLaughlins loaded their "shack" onto trucks and were ready for another home-site.

Fortune favored the family, and they were soon in possession of another fine lot on East Thirty-seventh street, and here history repeated itself. There was another handsome bonus forthcoming, and the shack again ascended the trucks. This is the plan of the latest financier, and has been kept moving so successfully that the little bank account has grown from the original $75 to between $300 and $900.

The last effort of the man who is "doing the best he can" was the purchase of a lot in the Green tract, east of Central avenue. Here a pile of boards was hauled out to erect a shanty, but McLaughlin had overlooked the fact that there is a $1500 building restriction on the Green tract, and the neighbors at once set in to make things real interesting for him. But even here the new commercial enterprise made good, for the colored man finally came out of the rumpus with his lot sold at a handsome advance, and another nest egg salted away in the bank's vaults.

He has now betaken himself and his family to Elmyra street, where he says people are not so particular about the color of your skin, and will take a vacation from his arduous duties of moving the family so often.

"STUDY OF CARDINAL MANNING."

Twenty-three members of the Newman Club gathered at the banquet board at Levy's Café last night, and after the dinner listened to a paper, "A Study of the Late Cardinal Manning," read by Thomas Wall of Long Beach. In the absence of President Kays the club meeting was presided over by R. M. Furlong. Those present were: H. C. Dillon, Joseph Scott, I. B. Dockweiler, J. J. Bergin, Richard J. Dillon, Dr. A. J. Scholl, P. J. McDonald, John P. Coyne, J. J. Bodkin, D. J. Grant, M. J. McGarry, P. P. O'Brien, James P. Burns, Prof. G. Durnerin, A. J. McCormick, J. P. Delaney, H. E. Vernon, Frank J. Neil, C. B. Bergin, Adam C. Derkum, William J. Wilkinson, Thomas Wall and R. M. Furlong.

BURGLARS HAS DEPARTED.

A telephone message was received at the detectives' office last night stating that burglars were robbing the house at No. 1008 East Eighth street. Officers were sent at once to the place, but the thieves had departed. They secured only a purse containing $1.50.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

It was stated quite confidently yesterday that Councilman Farish will vote with five of his colleagues for the increase in the saloon license and for an additional twenty-five patrolmen next Monday.

The Council has practically decided to secure a high school site through condemnation proceedings, according to a statement made yesterday.

John Webb, who believes himself the mouthpiece of God, called on Mayor Snyder yesterday.

C. R. Goldman was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday for swindling a local jeweler out of a valuable diamond ring.

Feliciano Hernandes was bound over to the Superior Court to be tried for robbery.

The County Clerk has decided that there shall be no more "capping" in his office for wedding fees by the Justice of the Peace or the parson.

J. T. Pollock, a photographer, has been sued for damages on account of injuries sustained by an assistant through the misbehavior of a flashlight.

AT THE CITY HALL.

NEW LICENSE MEASURE MAY HAVE SIX VOTES.

COUNCILMAN FARISH EXPECTED TO SUPPORT ORDINANCE.

Opposed Hasty Action on the Part of the Council, but Finds that There is a Strong Public Sentiment in Favor of an Increase in Police Force.

Public sentiment is making itself felt with regard to the proposed increase in the police force. There is reason to believe that the ordinance increasing the saloon license sufficiently to raise the necessary revenue will pass the Council next Monday by at least six votes. The same six votes will be sufficient to order the increase in the force.

The almost unanimous opinion expressed by citizens is that the general committee of the commercial organizations presented to the Council last Monday a very feasible and excellent method of securing the much-needed policemen. When it is realized that during eight hours out of the twenty-four of every day sixteen patrolmen and one sergeant are expected to protect the lives and property of citizens scattered over 27,000 acres of territory the need for an immediate increase in the force is very apparent.

For the present fiscal year the police budget amounts to over $187,000. The retail saloons under the present license ordinance pay into the treasury approximately $144,000 a year. There are now sixty-five restaurant liquor licenses on the books and these return to the city $46,000 a year. The contention is, therefore, made that the retail liquor business is now supporting the police department of the city. However, if the department was as large as the population and area of the city warrant the cost would be greater than the revenue from the retail business even after the increase in the saloon license from $60 to $75 a month is made.

It is confidently believed by three members of the Council that Farish will vote for the increase in license next Monday. The votes of Bowen, McAleer, Skilling, Summerland and Nofziger will be sufficient to pass the license ordinance, but six votes will be necessary to pass an ordinance increasing the force.

Farish was not inclined to discuss the situation yesterday, but he declared that his opposition to the ordinance last Monday was more on account of the haste of other legislators than because the ordinance provisions were not to his liking.

"I believe that the Council should make a fair, impartial investigation and give all parties a chance to be heard," said Farish yesterday. "On reflection the ordinance may not be objectionable, but I think sufficient time should be taken to canvass the situation. At the present time I do not care to say whether I will or will not vote for the increase in the license. There appears to be a somewhat general demand for the increase, and I shall not oppose the measure if I am convinced that it is the proper thing."

Davenport is on record as favoring an increase in the police force. Several months ago he made a motion in the Council that twenty-five policemen be added to the department. Now the opportunity has come for him to realize his fond hope of a larger police force. While Davenport may vote against the increase in the saloon license on the ground that drug stores and other places sell whisky without right and thus deprive the saloonkeeper of a portion of his trade, he is confidently expected to support the ordinance for the additional twenty-five policemen.

None of the Councilmen are at all pleased with the attitude taken by the police justices and prosecuting attorneys in the license cases that have been pending for months. The justices have refused to act until the Supreme Court has declared the law valid and over 100 cases are now on the docket, having been continued from time to time. The prosecuting attorneys have accordingly refused to issue more complaints on the ground that they would needlessly cumber the police court docket. Those who pay licenses to the city have found out that the authorities will not prosecute them, and in increasing numbers are refusing to pay their tax.

About seven thousand dollars a month is now lost to the city in this way.

"This license trouble could have been obviated in the first place if the police court justices had shown a disposition to prosecute under the ordinance until it was declared invalid," said a Councilman yesterday. "I say that it is a shame that these cases have been allowed to drag along in this way, and I do not see why the public and the press do not bring pressure to bear that will force the justices to hear the cases. Once it becomes known that offenders will be rigorously prosecuted in the police court, many will pay the license rather than go to the expense of litigation. Of course it would be harder to make this plan work now, but in the first place it would have saved thousands of dollars to the city. Nobody knows when the Supreme Court will render a decision, and the license affairs of this city are going rapidly from bad to worse."

Another member of the Council exonerated the prosecuting attorneys yesterday for failing to issue complaints to the police after the city had expended money in securing evidence. This condition of affairs obtains only with reference to wholesale dealers and drug stores, however, and has no practical bearing on the saloon and restaurant liquor licenses.

WILL CONDEMN.

SITE FOR HIGH SCHOOL.

Unless there is a decided change in the sentiment of the Council none of the bids for a High School will be accepted by the city. Condemnation proceedings will be started as soon as six of the City Fathers can agree upon the location for the school.

When the sites for the new public schools were purchased condemnation proceedings were brought in every case, although property owners were given the option of accepting a price set by three appraisers on their holdings.

This plan resulted so satisfactorily that the Councilmen are inclined to follow it in securing a High School site. Members of the Building Committee realize that there will be dissatisfaction felt, no matter which site is secured, and that unless the price of the property is fixed by some other body the Council will be charged with paying an exorbitant sum. If the courts determine the value of the land to be purchased no such criticism can attach to the Council.

Following the old cooking recipe which said, "First catch your hare," the Council must first determine upon the site, and although some weeks have elapsed since the sale of the bonds there are no symptoms of an agreement. Kern, Davenport, Nofziger and McAleer are said to favor the site on Pico street between Wall and Myrtle streets. Skilling, Summerland and Todd are inclined to favor the $80,000 site at Eleventh and Flower streets, and Bowen is put down as in favor of the property on Washington street near Flower street.

Next Tuesday Davenport expects to leave for New York on a business trip that will keep him out of the city for about thirty days. Unless an agreement is reached by next Monday the Sixth Ward site will lose one of its staunch supporters. It is said that another attempt will be made to force the Council into caucus, as there appears to be no other way in which the vexed question can be settled.

MAYOR CONSULTED.

SPECIAL THANKSGIVING DAY.

John Webb of South Pasadena, a man of good appearance, called on the Mayor yesterday morning to urge that a special day of thanksgiving be set apart by proclamation on account of the recent events on the Isthmus of Panama.

Mr. Webb said that he brought a message to the Mayor direct from God and that because the Lord willed the special day of thanksgiving must be declared. Webb also said that Southern California must immediately raise $15,000,000 and pay it to Colombia for Panama. This message, also, Mr. Webb declared, came straight from God.

As reported yesterday morning, Mayor Snyder was not wholly unprepared for the visit from the South Pasadenan with the peculiar hallucination, as he had previously had a telephone message regarding the special day of rejoicing.

The man made no demonstration. He called three times before he found the Mayor in. While waiting his turn he sat quietly reading a paper.

The Mayor told Mr. Webb that there might be some difficulty in arranging for a day, and that he would have to consult with the authorities. This apparently satisfied the man, as he went away.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

CHAPLAIN AND JUSTICE MAY WAR NO MORE.

COUNTY CLERK FORBIDS RUSTLING FOR MARRIAGE TRADE.

The Chaplain Got Even With Justice Pierce, Who Called Him a Serpent, by Telling Him He Ought to Be Ashamed of Himself—Called Him Fraud.

There is to be no more "capping" for wedding experts in the Courthouse. This flat from the County Clerk came out of a row between old Chaplain Irwin and Justice Pierce, who are contesting for the marriage trade, each presenting his cards to blushing young things as fast as they get their marriage licenses.

Parson Irwin and the judge had a hot row yesterday over a couple.

The old chaplain had already got a tip to the effect that the County Clerk did not consider it etiquette to come into the license bureau and rush up trade. Justice Pierce did not know that a deadline had been drawn.

The latter saw a hesitating young couple yesterday and followed them into the office where the licenses are issued. While they were going through the preliminaries the old parson came poking his head suspiciously in at the door. When he saw his rival getting in his deadly work he was crazy and rushed into the room shaking a cane.

"Shame on you, sir!" he shouted at the top of his voice. "You ought to be ashamed of yourself. You have your leftenants all around the Courthouse here trying to rush 'em in. You ought to be ashamed of yourself. You are a fraud!"

Justice Pierce tried to pacify him, and the couple looked scared half to death.

The eye of the old chaplain fell upon the groom's trembling form and he instantly left off abusing the justice of the peace and went around to the other side of the young man and handed him out a card with his particular inducements on it.

"Are—are you a justice of the peace?" he inquired, timidly.

"No, sir!" shouted the old chaplain with a glance of withering scorn at Pierce. "No, sir! I should be ashamed to be, sir!"

Pierce evidently had convinced the young man that justices of the peace are the real simon pure article and in the end he carried away the couple in triumph to be married. Three dollars lost to the chaplain.

The latter went upstairs to complain formally to Clerk Keyes, and the order went forth that no more soliciting is to be allowed in the office.

COURT NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

TOO HOT FLASH. A photographic flashlight machine belonging to J. T. Pollock was the cause of a damage suit brought yesterday against Pollock by Eli H. Lefmann, who claims that the machine was defective, and that he was badly burned using it while taking a picture under Pollock's orders at the engine room of the Pacific Light and Power Company. He said that Pollock did not provide percussion caps for it and he had to use parlor matches to set it off. He asks damages in the sum of $1060.60, claiming that he was terribly burned about the hands and face.

HEIRS HAVE SUED. On account of the accident that resulted in Frank A. Farrias being run over and killed at Inglewood August 12, the Southern California Railroad Company has been sued for $10,000 by the heirs of his estate.

SWIPED A DIAMOND, TOO. More trouble has been cooking and was announced ready to serve yesterday for Mrs. Jennie Dixon, the housekeeper who is alleged to have stolen $1100 buried treasure belonging to the dairyman by whom she was employed. Yesterday she was arraigned on the additional charge of having stolen a valuable diamond belonging to Fred Barman of this city. She was employed at his house when the sparkler was "lost." It was found sticking in the collar of the shirt waist in which she reburied the plunder of gold.

WANTS MARRIAGE CALLED OFF. J. O'Brien, who claims that he was married to a sporting woman by Justice Pierce when he was so drunk he didn't know what he was doing, brought suit to annul his marriage yesterday. He did not show his condition when the judge performed the ceremony, but O'Brien claims that he really did not know what he was doing.

HIGH-ROLLER BILKED JEWELER AND SKIPPED.

HE NOW SWEATS IN CAGE AT CITY BASTILE.

Arrested for Vagrancy, a Husky Young Hobo Confesses to Having Done Time for Larceny—Hernandes Held for Robbery.

C. R. Goldman, a high-roller who appeared in this city during September, representing himself as the agent of a reputable New York merchandise establishment, now languishes in the City Jail for the lack of $1500 bail.

On September 28 Goldman went to the jewelry store of S. B. Bailey and selected a diamond ring valued at $220, giving in payment a draft on J. I. Cohen & Company, New York. Bailey learned by telegraph that the draft was fictitious and at once sought for his man, but he had disappeared with the valuable ring. He was located later in Seattle but the authorities there refused a requisition and a watch was set on the movements of Goldman.

The latter, probably supposing that he had dropped out of sight, ventured to go to San Francisco, and was no sooner within the State of California than he was nabbed. Detective Kelly returned from the north with his prisoner Tuesday night and yesterday he was arraigned on a charge of securing property by false pretenses. His examination was set by Justice Austin for November 30, bail being fixed at $1500.

Greenewald Was Easy.

A husky young fellow giving the name of Robert B. Greenewald, and his home as Philadelphia, was arrested on Tuesday night for begging on the streets of the city. The officer had him in tow but a short time when Greenewald told him that he had just served six months in Portland for petty larceny. Inasmuch as he had in his possession a skeleton key, he was thought a good one to hold for further investigation and he was ordered to appear for sentence on Friday morning.

Greenewald stated to the court that he wished to correct the statement of the officer in several particulars. He said he had not served time in San Francisco, but in Portland, and that he had not begged from women, but from men. The skeleton key, he explained, belonged to a room he had occupied.

"Your honor," he said, "I begged because I didn't want to do anything wrong. I had served one term for larceny and had enough of it."

Held for Robbery.

Feliciano Hernandes, the young Mexican charged with robbing a fellow-countryman of $5 while the latter was drunk, put up a fight to save his bacon yesterday in Justice Austin's court. He was identified by one witness as the man whom the witness had seen shoving his hand into the drunken man's pocket, and was held in $2000 to answer in the Superior Court.

THE TURK'S FAREWELL.

MORITURI SILUTAMUS.

There are portents all about me
Which my instinct warns are true,
I have seen cranberry jelly
Of a deep and sanguine hue!

I am fed on dainty morsels,
To repletion I am lunched,
While each day a hand ungentle
My rotundity has punched.

All my feathers are a-quiver,
E'en the pins are loosening fast,
And my voice, once loud and cheerful,
Is an echo of the past!

There is baking and egg beating,
I can hear it in my pen,
And a soup bunch in the kitchen,
Smells to heaven and to hen.

Sequestrated from my fellows
In a prison coop I sigh,
For I feel at last too surely,
I am fattened but to die!

They'll replace with herbs and bread crumbs
Nature's work, by one fell swoop,
And my grave will be in gravy,
And I will be in the soup!

But when lying in my beauty
On a platter for a hearse,
From my winding sheet of parsley
I will smite them with my curse!

May my ghost their slumbers gobble
And a cholera-morbus pain
With a nightmare end Thanksgiving,
Then I do not die in vain.

MINES AND MINING.

VALUABLE DESERT MINES SOLD TO EASTERNERS.

KATHERINE AND SHEEPTAIL GROUPS CHANGE OWNERSHIP.

Eastern Syndicate to Organize Strong Company and Begin Extensive Operations—Will Construct Railway From Mill to Colorado River.

One of the most important mining transfers of the month was consummated yesterday when the Katherine and Sheeptail groups of mines on the Arizona side of the Colorado River became the property of an Eastern syndicate.

These properties, situated in the San Francisco district, Mojave county two miles from the Colorado River and ten miles northeast of the Gold Roads mine in the same range, were until yesterday owned and operated by the New Comstock Mining Company, a local corporation of which S. C. Bagg is general manager. The Katherine mine was discovered by Mr. Bagg three years ago. The ledge is thirty feet wide and the ore free milling, carrying values in gold of close to $3 to the ton across its entire width. The property is already equipped with a twenty-stamp mill and cyanide plant, and at present the total cost of mining and treating the ore is about $3.60 to the ton.

The purchasing syndicate, composed of Kansas City, Boston and Detroit capitalists, expects to begin extensive operations. A fund of $50,000 has been set aside for the enlargement of the present plant and the construction of a railway to connect with the mines and mill. Oil will be used for fuel, and it will be shipped by rail to Needles, and thence forty miles up the river to the mill when all is completed the cost of treatment will be greatly reduced.

A new company is to be formed and this will be known as the North American Exploration Company. It will be a close corporation offering no stock for sale as there will be ample backing to carry out contemplated plans.

F. A. Swan of Kansas City, who engineered the deal for the new owners, left last evening for the East, and S. C. Bagg will continue in charge of the property.

The San Francisco district has long been considered as one of the most promising gold camps in western Arizona, and the investment of Eastern capital will be sure to give new zest to operations. The wonderful success of the Gold Roads Company on its property, which lies but a few miles from the Katherine mine, has attracted the attention of investors, to the section and probably other deals may result.

The consideration named in this latest deal is $230,000.

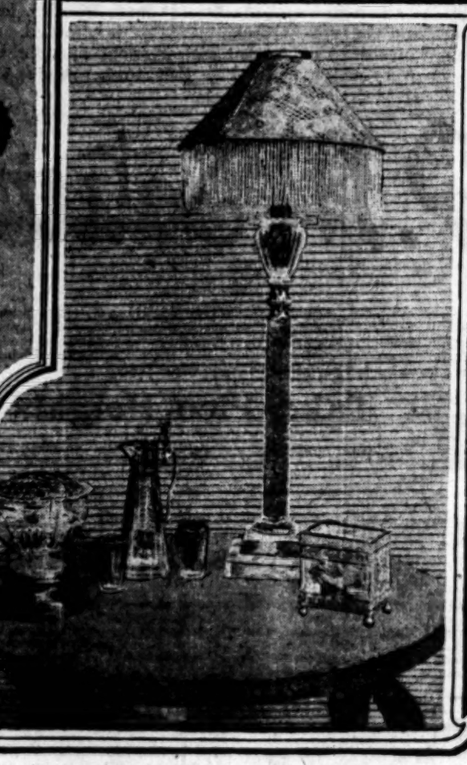
The Latest Tea Table and Its Furnishings.



The New Candle-Stick and Other Hints for Xmas Gifts in Glass.

A White and Gold Set in Quaint Shapes.

An Artistic Set in Silver and China.

AMERICA leads in most good things—in beautiful women, pretty children, ideal home life—granted!

But there is one particular in which we must acknowledge the superiority of our English cousins, which is the preparation of tea.

The Chinese brews his native herb less subtlely than does the English cook must produce more than a mass-ation of the cup that cheers.

Some of the English ideas with regard to the brewing of tea are being introduced this season on our side of the Atlantic. There can be little doubt that they will have as a result a great improvement in American tea making.

For one thing, the most recent tea table is brought out by our progressive shops in an English model made with detachable wooden tray.

This build has many and very considerable advantages over the species formerly used in American homes. In a way it revolutionizes tea table fashions as we have known them, for, instead of being allowed to remain in the drawing room, gathering dust, when not in use, the little tea service is brought from the pantry at the exact moment of serving.

It is for this that the detachable tray belonging to the table is employed. Tea set, marmalade jar and any little confection which is to be offered to one's guests are brought in on the highly polished waiter, which fits securely down upon the table-top.

The marmalade jar has now become an established feature of every such outfit. There is besides the attractive little fashion of a compotier, which is meeting with great favor. Plain bread and butter cut thin is always an accompaniment of the marmalade jar.

With an English table a set of Georgian silver seems especially appropriate. Such a set is photographed in to-day's illustrations. The very latest in china sets is also shown, and some novelties in the line of glass that make good Christmas presents.

It should be added that when the little English tea table is not in use it is stripped of all paraphernalia and decorated with a vase or bowl of flowers. The little undershelf receives these flowers when the tea things are brought on.

SOME DELICIOUS CHESTNUT DISHES

UNKNOWN TO THE AMERICAN HOUSEKEEPER

THE giant chestnuts now in season can be used in a variety of ways of which the American woman is, as a general thing, entirely ignorant.

In France they are used for the filling of roast poultry, for preserves and confectionery; and delicious indeed are the French marrons in all forms.

Chestnuts may be deviled, with red pepper and salt, in slices, to replace salted almonds (for a relish), or cooked in a highly-seasoned brown sauce for an entree.

For a dessert they may be boiled and served with whipped cream flavored with vanilla.

When preserved, they are usually put up in a vanilla syrup, sometimes maraschino.

Bricks of vanilla ice cream (without eggs) are made now with one layer of preserved chestnuts accompanied by a rich sauce flavored with sherry.

In Naples street venders sell them to the poor, and a godsend they are; and even the well-to-do are not above lowering a basket for some, also, from their windows.

During the winter season a flour made of chestnuts is for sale. In American cities it costs about twenty-five cents a pound.

It is pale yellow and very sweet, retaining the true chestnut flavor. This may be boiled for mush, which is to be sliced and fried in olive oil; or, flavored only with a little salt, it may be fried like a griddle cake for breakfast, to be eaten without syrup or even sugar.

Serious Talks With Parents and Children

BY MARION HARLAND

I MIGHT hesitate to insert the following letter, for the subject is the reverse of agreeable, were it not that my mail literally teems with appeals from parents and teachers for help in abating the insufferable nuisance.

One word of preamble! The head of every child should be washed well every week at the least. The head of every child who attends a public school should be inspected every night and the hair combed and brushed by some responsible person. With these precautions the danger of vermin is reduced to a minimum. The present sensible fashion of cutting the hair of little girls short also lessens the danger.

"I have frequently noticed urgent requests for a quick remedy for vermin in the hair—and, now that schools have opened it seems almost impossible to guard against the 'unclean,' I herewith send a positive, quick remedy, leaving no bad results.

"Ten cents' worth of mercurial ointment, from any druggist. Smear thoroughly, but not too thick, on both sides of a fine-toothed comb, the entire length of each; draw gently and slowly, touching every portion of scalp through the entire length of hair—from forehead and downward and back, then from neck underneath and upward—braid hair and fasten up. Leave on for night and two days; every 'traveler' will die and every 'nit' be killed; then wash hair thoroughly with good soapy water. This is absolutely harmless, but poisonous if taken internally; so the child must keep her hand away from her hair. I have used this remedy repeatedly, and will never have had occasion to use it on my own heavy hair, as a result of a long family where evidently 'travelers' had been before me. So this remedy is for old and young. S. C."

As I have said, this subject is repulsive to refined tastes. But your correspondent's concluding remarks will be fervently appreciated by some who have crowded berths in compartment cars, and all "modern conveniences, upon long journeys.

But why use mercurial ointment and the child's hair up for twenty-four hours besides risking her health should the brush it and then put her fingers in her mouth, when tincture of larkspur is as much cleaner, more rapid in effect and quite as thorough in action?

Children's Parties Too Late.

WILL you give a place in your "Parents' Corner" to a protest against children's parties as conducted in these days of progress? Then you and I—grandmothers, both of us—were children our parties were in the afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. We were stuff frocks in winter, and fresh calico, or lawn or gambric in summer. Our games were "Sling Around the Rosy," "Blindman's Bluff" and the like, out of doors if the weather were warm, in the big dining room if it were cold. For refreshments we had milk or "cambric tea," as we might prefer; sandwiches, bread and butter and sandwiches, nuts and raisins, plain candies, cake or fruit and, once in a great while in hot weather, ice cream. When we went home our pockets were filled with "favors," and we always got home by sundown, and to bed a very little later than usual.

Compare this frolic of healthy, happy children with the entertainments our grandchildren—lots of six, seven and eight, and even younger—attend. Dressed like misses, in satins and chiffons, with white silk stockings and white kid shoes, and their hair up in their knees, they look more like ballet dancers than the offspring of sane Christian parents. They are sent in carriages at 9 or 10 o'clock; they dance until 12, and eat indigestibles at half-past 10. They flirt with the boys, criticise one another's clothes, and gossip, equal to the elders they ape, even to coming home jaded, cross and "nervous," and being out of sorts for days after the "ball" or "reception."

In the name of common sense and common humanity, cannot you and your much-vaunted constituents do anything to cure this wrong of our flesh and blood? Get up a crusade—a protest—a "combine"—a symposium—against it! What do you—and other grandmothers—and sensible mothers—if there are any left in our cities—say of it?

A WOMAN OF SIXTY-ODD.

The vigorous fusillade of my contemporary has not left me more than breath enough with which to second her motion that other grandmothers, and the many sensible mothers who, I know, are scattered all over our country should "free their minds" upon this important subject.

Who speaks first?

Take Good Care of the Eyes

CAN you recommend some course of treatment by which my 5-year-old boy may be made more far-sighted? He has one eye—the left—which is very near-sighted—much more so than the right. When he looks at pictures, or other objects he wishes to examine, he squints dreadfully and holds them so near his nose that everybody laughs at him. Will this get better—or worse—as he grows older? MRS. T. S. E.

WORSE UNLESS YOU HAVE THE defect corrected, or, at least, lessened, by glasses made expressly for him in obedience to the formula of a skillful oculist. The eccentricities of vision at which thoughtless people laugh is an "astigmatism." Not one person in fifty is entirely free from this blemish, more or less pronounced. That it is exaggerated in your child proves the imminent need of "treatment" if you would not have him disfigured and wretched for life.

Wants to Care for a Child.

I WOULD like very much to take some dear little motherless girl to board, say anywhere between the ages of 6 and 12 years. We have a large modern house, and one little daughter of our own, 11 years of age. She has a very pretty room, a pair of Shetland ponies, two dogs, two Angora cats, but no little sisters. So I thought to take some dear child to board. I do not feel able to adopt one, and thought this might be a fine chance for one who does not wish to give up a child, but to put it into a good, happy home. I will ask only a reasonable price for board, and will give the little one all the love of a mother. We live in a beautiful, healthy town in Minnesota, where there are fine schools. MRS. L. F.

THIS SOMEWHAT SINGULAR PROposal is made in good faith by a mother who longs for the sound of children's voices in her home, and sees the disadvantage to her only child of living without home companions of her own age and sex. It is possible that the scheme may commend itself to some reader for other reasons.

The Coming Christmastide.

TURN we with relief to a matter of especial interest as Christmastide comes on. Our ever-faithful, courteous consulting chemist—himself a native of the land where Christmas means—with heartiest welcome from rich and poor—has something to say that sounds like the far-off echo of holiday bells.

"Decorate your Christmas tree with imitation snow. It looks beautiful. It is best done out of doors or in a cold room. Fasten the tree to stand, and, if done in a room, spread paper thickly around the tree to avoid a 'muss.' Now boil half a gallon of water and dissolve therein four or five pounds of alum. Sprinkle the hot liquid with a sprinkling can, or otherwise, finely all over the tree. Wait a while, heat the liquid again and sprinkle once more. While the needles are still wet with alum water sift flour or starch or chalk over the whole. The tree needles will then look as if burdened with snow.

"Cut this out and spread the glad news among your friends with the compliments of A. W. YE C. C. C."

"Job's Tears," From Egypt.

A QUAINT, interesting note from a distant correspondent was exhumed to-day from a mass of papers I had thought was faithfully winnowed months ago. 'Job's Tears' have become so familiar to us of late from reading the sprightly things said anent them and the curative powers attributed to them by intelligent correspondents, that I venture to publish my "resurrected" missive:

"Enclosed find some 'Job's Tears.' The first we ever heard of were grown above the grave of my grandfather in Egypt. He was one of the victims of Trafalgar. I never knew that they were good for teething, but they are pretty for ornament. Any bead (not rough) is a help to any one. Rolling on the neck, they keep the child from colds.

"I said they came from my grandfather's grave in Egypt. This was told doubtless to appease my poor grandmother. The victims of Trafalgar were fed to the sharks, and the kind friend who went there several years after brought the 'Job's tears' from the water's edge to her. I wish you would find out why they are called 'Job's tears.' I have made research, but have been unsuccessful. In my innocent childhood what with hearing of Egypt, etc., from the Bible I always thought Job actually shed them over my grandfather's grave, and regarded them with reverence on this account. MRS. J. C."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

The Kitchen Table

Even in the best regulated families the kitchen table occasionally gets into a bad condition. To whiten it, make a thin paste of chloride of lime and hot water, and spread it over the table. Let it remain for twelve hours, and then wash off, and your table will once again be speckless.

Bluing for Windows

It is said that windows washed in water to which a little bluing is added will show a fine brilliance and keep fresh longer than when washed in the usual manner.

Beware of Lint

When you are ironing any dark material do not put a linen cloth underneath, as the lint will come off on to the stuff, and you will have great difficulty in brushing it off again.

Thread Your Collars

If collars and cuffs are threaded on a piece of tape or string and tied to the clothesline it prevents clothespin marks, and also does not pull the ends of the collars out of shape.

To Prevent Milk Burning

Before putting milk into the saucepan boil rapidly a few spoonfuls of water (enough to just cover the bottom of the pan), and it will never burn, however fierce the fire.

RECIPES

FOR THE THANKSGIVING DAY DINNER

Oyster Bisque

Drain a quart of oysters through a colander for ten minutes. Set the liquor when you have added an equal quantity of cold water over the fire and bring to a boil. Meantime chop the oysters quite fine and when the liquor boils stir them into it. Cook gently for fifteen minutes. Have ready three cupfuls of milk heated with a pinch of soda, and four tablespoonfuls (heaping) of powdered cracker, first soaked in a cupful of hot water. Cook in a saucepan two tablespoonfuls of butter; when it hisses, stir in a tablespoonful of flour. Cook for one minute; pour upon it, stirring all the time, the thickened milk, and when it has cooked one minute, the oysters and liquor. Season with pepper and salt to taste. Heat the tureen before putting the soup into it.

For Roasting "the Big Rooster"

Buy it two days in advance of the time for using, draw it, wash out with soda and water, wipe dry inside and out; wash the outside with vinegar, and hang by the feet in a cold place.

When you are ready to cook it, stuff and truss as usual; lay in your covered roaster; pour two cupfuls of boiling water over it, cover and set in a quick oven for five minutes to get the water to a furious boil. Then transfer to a slow oven, and cook, always covered closely, twelve minutes to the pound, basting often with the water from the pan, and turning once. Test with a fork to make sure it is done; wash well with the dripping, pepper and salt, dredge with browned flour and set back, uncovered, in the quick oven to brown.

Boil the giblets tender; chop and stir into the liquid in the pan, thicken with browned flour, season to taste, and turn into a gravy boat.

By this process the fowl is steamed into tenderness before it is hardened by roasting.

Buttered Rice

Throw a cupful of raw rice into two quarts of boiling water, slightly salted. Boil fast for twenty minutes, or until each grain is softened—not broken. Drain in a colander, and set in open oven to dry while you heat a tablespoonful of butter in a frying-pan; drop in a teaspoonful of grated onion, stir to a hissing fry. Now turn the dried rice into the hot butter, toss lightly for a minute, seasoning to taste with pepper and salt, and serve in a deep dish.

A Thanksgiving Dinner for Two Dollars

BY MARION HARLAND

HERE are times when little things are no trifles. And this is one of them with us. Our Head—and a goodly Head he is!—is hopefully convalescent from a spell of fever. I hope you won't know from personal experience how illness drains the family treasury, especially when that treasury is represented by John's pocket. I am not in a complaining mood. Far from it! Our hearts are full of gratitude that the dear Head of a happy family will take his seat at the foot of our table on Thanksgiving Day and be able to carve for a grateful wife and four dear children.

BUT (please put that in capitals!) we have such a small sum for the Thanksgiving feast that, for the first time in our history as a household, we just cannot have a turkey!

There, it is out! I have written it with a blush, but not with the shame and confusion of face that would be mine if I purposed to run into debt to buy a turkey. That would be a burden!

What I would ask is: How can I get up a Thanksgiving dinner for six people—counting the baby—for about $2? I can't spare more. And a ten-pound turkey at present prices would swallow up all of that. Do you wonder that I am puzzled? J. W. M.

A VIVACIOUS AND PHILOSOphical correspondent wrote to me last Christmas that she had set her family of six down to a Yuletide dinner the chief dish of which was a "Plymouth Rock turkey." She added merrily: "Not one of us so much as looked the suspicion that it was a big rooster fattened for the occasion."

A pretty anecdote is told of Mary Lamb—Charles Lamb's sister—who kept house for her brother. The two were sitting down to a dinner of mutton chops and potatoes when two friends arrived unexpectedly. There were just four mutton chops. "One apiece and a potato!" said hospitable Mary, unabashed and cheerful, helping the party. "We can make out the rest with bread and cheese!"

Take a leaf from her book. 'Make out the rest' with something inexpensive. Here is a menu that will come within your limit, that is, "about $2:"

Oyster Bisque.

Roast Chicken. Mashed Potatoes.

Buttered Rice. Lettuce Salad.

Pumpkin Pie. Boiled Chestnuts.

Coffee.

Now as to prices. A quart of oysters and a quart of skim milk, forty-five cents.

A six-pound fowl, at sixteen cents per pound, ninety-six cents.

Potatoes, six cents.

Two heads of lettuce, ten cents.

Rice, five cents.

You can make a pumpkin pie for thirty cents. A quart of chestnuts can be had for five cents, and two small cups of coffee (black) for the seniors of the party should not cost more than this. Total, $2.46.

Recipes for the bisque and buttered rice and for roasting a tough fowl will be found in the recipe column. Add to the above the butter used in the bisque and vegetables, the pounded cracker and the dressing for the salad, and you will swell the sum to $2.75. By "skimping" the quart of milk meant for the bisque you can have enough for the potatoes.

NEW TROLLEY TO THE WEST.

Los Angeles Railway Line Will Reach Baths.

Two-mile Extension Work to be Begun Monday.

Private Right of Way With a Long Trestle—Connections Not Determined.

It was announced yesterday that the Los Angeles Railway Company will at once build an extension of its Westlake lines to the Bimini Baths.

A gang of graders will begin work Monday.

This news will be joyfully received by many property owners in a section heretofore without street railway facilities, which will be afforded by the proposed extension. This extension will be about two miles long and involves four miles of single track. Beginning at Rampart and Sixth streets, the new road will run north to a point 400 feet south of First street and thence in a westerly direction to the baths.

The proposed route, it is stated, is entirely via a private right of way, which for some time past has been secured, and now everything is in readiness to begin work.

A large force of men will be put on the job of grading, which is a fairly heavy one, and also a gang of bridge builders. The bridge to be built will be trestle in character, about 300 feet long and over a deep ravine that will necessitate twenty-foot fills at either end. The abutments will be of cement.

It is hoped that the extension may be opened for public service soon after the first of the year. About thirty days according to present estimates, will be necessary to complete the grading and get the bridge in place, whereupon a big gang of men will be set to laying track and pushing the project to a completion.

With the exception of the viaducts, this bridge will be the longest in the city.

Just what connections are to be made with the proposed extension, officials of the Los Angeles Railway Company are unable as yet to state. Of course, this matter lies between the West Seventh-street line and the other Westlake line that begins at Second and Spring streets. Which of the two is problematical. At the present time West Seventh-street cars stop at Rampart street, and it would be no difficult matter to run them out to the Bimini Baths. The West Seventh-street cars stop at Seventh and Alvarado streets, but, it will be remembered, tracks were recently laid out Sixth street from Alvarado to Rampart, utilizing a part of the far-famed $10,000 franchise.

Regardless of the ownership of that expensive franchise, it would be possible to run the West Second-street cars over it down to Rampart and thence to the Bimini Baths, making thereby a most pleasant line from the center of the city and one that would be very attractive to tourists and other pleasure seekers.

The proposed extension is through a rather sparsely settled section, and the small hill cars for the time being might readily handle the crowds without taxing the already onerous loads of the other Westlake lines. In fact, it is suggested that General Manager Muir had this in mind when he built and buried the less than five blocks of track on West Sixth street for Mr. Johnson to keep the costly franchise alive.

In any event, improved car service to the Bimini Baths will be most acceptable.

TALKS WITH CITIZENS.

Widening of Sixth Street.

S. W. Alexander, owner of one of the most valuable corners on Sixth street, formerly was in favor of widening that thoroughfare, but is now opposed to further agitation of the matter. In explaining his position, Mr. Alexander said yesterday:

"About January or Febuary last I attended a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce to consider the project of widening Sixth street from Main street to Bixel or St. Paul street, to the uniform width of eighty feet. At that time I favored widening and grading the street as proposed at that meeting on condition that the matter could be definitely decided upon and work executed promptly. Since that time there have been a great many improvements along West Sixth street, and I have conferred several times with leaders in the movement, and expressed myself as favoring the abandonment of the project, as it seemed impracticable, and the agitation of the matter was delaying improvements. Since the matter was first proposed, several substantial buildings have been erected along this street, among them two three-story bricks. I have understood several others have desired to build, but were apprehensive that some change might be made in the street.

"Months ago I would in all probability have erected a three-story brick and basement at the southwest corner of Sixth and Hope streets, but deferred until two or three months ago, for two reasons, namely: I did not wish to add to the obstacles to be overcome in widening the street, so long as I felt there was any probability of the street being widened. Nor did I wish to erect the proposed building with a probability of suffering it being demolished and practically ruined by widening the street. I have held this valuable property a long while, desiring either to improve or sell and so long as the matter of widening the street was agitated, investors were not inclined to buy. Unable to sell at a satisfactory figure, and seeing other numerous buildings going up along this street, I concluded it was improbable that any further effort would be made toward the widening of the street, so I proceeded to have plans made for a family hotel building and store rooms with basement, which is to be of pressed brick fronts, the contract for which I let last week at a cost of $25,500.

"I feel that the street has suffered more by reason of the unsettled condition caused by the agitation of widening than by reason of its being a sixty-foot street. I think the better way to improve the street is to stop agitating the widening of the street and encourage the erection of substantial buildings along it, and by the removal of poles, etc., the street will take care of itself."

Mr. Alexander thinks that the probable cost of widening Sixth street has been greatly underestimated. He thinks the damage to the Silver City Hotel property at the southwest corner of Sixth and Olive would alone exceed $12,000.

Text for Dr. Chapman.

Dr. W. A. Boyd of No. 231½ South Spring street, is not a doctor of divinity, but of medicine, yet a question of morals interests him greatly. Said the doctor yesterday:

"Apropos of the advent of the great evangelist, Dr. Chapman, and the frequent notice given him in the city press, an incident that came under my observation on a street car this morning might furnish him with a text for at least one good, practical sermon. The conductor of the car on which I was a passenger, was a new man, just being broken into the work, and I noticed that he was a little nervous and awkward in trying to punch a transfer. A gentleman who was getting off the car informed him that the lady in the car with the red waist had handed him a dime for her fare, and by mistake he had given her back a quarter instead of a nickel. He said he was sitting beside her, and saw her look at it, and put it in her purse. The conductor went to the lady and told her of his mistake; she at once handed him the quarter and got a nickel in exchange. She seemed quite unconcerned, and not the least abashed about it. I spoke of the incident to the old conductor who was breaking in the new man, and he said:

"'That women is well dressed, and the mother of several children, and she will go to church and get howling happy, and shout for Jesus, and yet she would not hesitate to beat that green man or the company out of 20 cents.'

"I have thought since, it is possible that Dr. Chapman can decry what he is pleased to call 'the new-fangled doctrine of character building,' and expect to build up a strong Christian church that will be a power for good in the community on the profession of a certain form of belief. Here is a woman who may be taken as a fair example of such teaching. She is a steady, sturdy, staunch believer, and yet she seems utterly lacking in honor and honesty, the fundamental principles of character.

"I give this incident to Dr. Chapman as a subject for serious thought, feeling conscientiously, as I do, that it is not what you believe, but what are you that counts here or hereafter."

THANKSGIVING MELONS FORTY CENTS A DOZEN.

QUICKLY GOBBLED UP FROM THE LUCKY GROWER.

True Story of Los Angeles Fruit Stands on Thanksgiving Week that Cannot be Paralleled Elsewhere in the United States.

Sound, red-hearted watermelons fresh from the vine for Thanksgiving dinner at 5 cents apiece! That's what they could be bought for in Los Angeles yesterday—but you had to know where to go for them. They were to be seen in plenty piled in the fruit stands that "got wise" to the importation from the country early in the day—but these were not in My Lady's up-town shopping district. The melons didn't get that far—consequently their moderate—verily, their plebeian—retail price.

A wise man of Burbank named J. C. Ostergard brought in twenty dozen fat little watermelons of the Chilean variety early in the day, fresh from the vines, and grown without irrigation, he claims. They averaged wholesale 40 cents a dozen.

These luscious loads were depleted by the time the wagons reached the northern edge of Sonoratown. Down opposite and below the Plaza the green grocery stores had watermelons in piles at noon—six dozen were unloaded in one Mexican shop—while the stands on the further edge of the district exhibited just a few, showing how the melon grower's supply had run out before he touched the up-town districts. The melon man's progress through Sonoratown was a continuous triumph. Watermelons at Thanksgiving are "coaxers" at 40 cents a dozen.

The streets are graded with five-foot cement sidewalks, and curbs. The lots—which are smooth as a board—have in every case at least fifty feet front. Sale is to take place on the property promptly at

CHEAPEST WAY TO PAINT.

Use Carrara Paints Because They Go Farther, Look Better and Cost Less Than White Lead.

Fifty Sample Colors and Illustrated Booklet Free Upon Request.

The first move to make when you want to paint your house, barn or fence, is to make sure you have the right kind of paint.

The right kind is the one that will last the longest, look the best, cost the least, will preserve the wood instead of destroying it, will not peel, chalk, or crack under the influence of a hot sun, or stain, discolor or crack under the influences of gas, smoke, soot, dust, dirt, rain, fogs, sea air, or any climatic conditions.

A paint that will fill all these conditions will be considered an ideal paint.

Such a paint is Carrara. The very fact that these are the qualities of the Carrara has in hundreds of the largest users of paint in the country to use Carrara in carload lots.

The Pullman Palace Car Co. uses Carrara on its fine work. The Pennsylvania road uses it on its cars, and the Denver and Rio Grande is using it on its depots.

The most aristocratic hotel in New York is Waldorf-Astoria, has used tons and tons of Carrara, and so has the Wellington in Chicago.

In every place where paints can be used Carrara paints are better from every standpoint than the very highest-priced white lead and oil paints. Carrara paint is made by the Carrara Paint Agency, of Cincinnati, O.

Our Pacific Coast distributers, The Benson-Locke Mercantile Co., 121 California St., San Francisco, or the O. C. Zahn Paint Co., 231 W. First St., Los Angeles, Cal., will send 50 free samples of different colors and an illustrated booklet. It is the only paint manufactured that always gives perfect satisfaction. Write for the samples today and save half your paint bills in the future.

Varicocele

The unfailing and uniform success attending Dr. Harrison's treatment and cure of Varicocele is attracting attention of physicians throughout the country. Many physicians treat Varicocele. Many advertise to cure it, but few make a cure so far as we can learn. Dr. Harrison & Co. are the only physicians in southern California treating Varicocele successfully. In fact, their cure is the only radical and permanent cure. They have never made a failure to cure every case of Varicocele they have treated. Proof of these facts can easily be obtained by calling on them. They will refer you to many leading business men of Los Angeles who have been cured by them. If you have Varicocele, don't fail to call and consult Dr. Harrison & Co.

Contracted Diseases

Always become chronic if improperly treated. DR. HARRISON'S long experience has brought him perfected methods that are the best that modern medical science can give. So successful is he that many specialists make futile endeavors to copy his methods. The happy results of his treatment are becoming widely known. Cured patients are sending their friends to us from the fact that they are satisfied of our ability to cure where others fail. Contracted disorders should never be neglected. If you are unfortunate attend to the trouble at once. Consult an experienced specialist.

CANNED TOMATOES. While there has been a large Eastern pack of tomatoes and the Baltimore market is weak at around 60 to 62½ for 3-lb. standards, the pack in this State is believed not to exceed orders in hand by more than 75,000 cases. It is believed that purchases of both the wholesale and retail trade have been less than usual on account of the present high prices, so that this surplus will be easily absorbed here and one-half pounds are quoted here from first hands at 80 to 85 cents, and gallons at $2.50, the latter scarce, with no present demand, though the cleanness of corn must soon help it.—The Grocer and Country Merchant, San Francisco.

DAVISVILLE ALMONDS. The Davisville Almond Growers' Association made total shipments of almonds for the season of 1903 as follows: Nonpareil 1409 bags; I.X.L., 2904 bags; Peerless Ultra, 1678 bags; Drakes, 304 bags; Golden State, 119 bags; Routier, 138 bags; Peerless, 120 bags; Silver Shell, 4 bags; hard shell, 12 bags; Texas Prolific, 21 bags; Languedoc, 9 bags, and paper shell, 9 bags, a total of 6150 bags.

MILLERS MAKE MONEY. The Chicago Record-Herald of November 7 says that the flour situation is attracting fully as much attention now as the wheat and having just as much effect on the speculative wheat situation. The miller this year is repeating the experience of last, and making unusual profits in his business. There have been times this season, it is said, when some of the favorably located millers in the Northwest have made a profit of $1 a barrel on their flour. For years it was considered a good profit to make 10c a barrel.

DRIED FRUITS. Says the Grocer and Country Merchant of San Francisco: "There is a fair business for the season of the year. Fancy peaches are generally abundant and choice scarce. Apricots are firm. Demand has continued strong for the smallest sizes of prunes for export at $20 for 100s-and $25 for less than 120s, f.o.b. and about 1000 to 1500 tons of these will be shipped within the next 30 days, not absolutely cleaning up the stock, but making it a little hard to get. Other sizes of prunes are weak, especially 50s-60s and 60s-70s. The competition of 1000 cars of Oregon and Washington prunes on the 2¼ basis is quite serious. Black figs are scarce, and a few are still on offer here at 3½ cents upwards, according to size of the fruit. The raisin crop has been a record one of 50,000 tons or more. Ten per cent. of this, or upwards, has been in the hands of outsiders, who have been underselling the combination by from ½ to 1 cent per pound, and supplying all the seeders in Chicago and New York, but this year we are given to believe, is now fairly exhausted. The association has actually received 45,000 tons, and shipped 23,000 of the same and it is not ex-

For years it was considered a fair profit to make 10c a barrel.

DRIED FRUITS. Says the Grocer and Country Merchant of San Francisco: "There is a fair business for the season of the year. Fancy peaches are readily abundant and choice scarce. Prunes are firm. Demand has considered strong for the smallest sizes of prunes for export at $30 for 100s-90s and $25 for less than 120s, f.o.b. Fresno, and about 1000 to 1500 tons of these will be shipped within the next 30 days. Not absolutely cleaning up the crop, but making it a little hard to find. Other sizes of prunes are weak, especially 50s-60s and 60s-70s. The short section of 1000 cars of Oregon and Washington prunes on the 2¼ basis are quite serious. Black figs are scarce, and a few are still on offer here at 2½ cents upwards, according to size of the fruit. The raisin crop has been a record one of 50,000 tons or more, Ten per cent. of this, or upwards, has been in the hands of outsiders who have been underselling the combination by from ½ to 1 cent per pound and supplying all the seeders in Fresno and New York, but this year we are given to believe, is now practically exhausted. The association has already received 45,000 tons, and shipments of the same and it is not expected that much more will be done until after the New Year."

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS.

ORANGE SHIPMENTS. The subjoined daily statement to cover a period of one week, shows the number of carloads of citrus fruit shipped from Southern California. The total is for the season beginning November 1, 1903. In a general way "local points" means west of Colorado and New Mexico. The statement follows:

RETAIL PRICE FLUCTUATION. In their general trend retail follow the wholesale prices, but their fluctuations are smaller and less rapid. A comparison of the relative wholesale and retail prices (simple averages,) of twenty-five similar articles or groups of articles of food, covering the period of 1890 to 1902, inclusive, shows a range of 37.2 per cent. in wholesale prices, but only 15.4 per cent. in retail prices.—[Labor Bureau Report.

FARMS WILL BE SMALL. I asked Secretary Wilson what, in his opinion, would be the size of the future farm of the United States—whether it would be an estate of thousands of acres or of ten acres. He replied that he believed that the big farm could not be maintained for the reason that land would in time become too valuable to be cultivated profitably on a large scale. He believes that the tendency is all toward small tracts and more intensive farming.—[C. M. Shultz, in Record-Herald.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS.

Business was reported good today (Wednesday,) although poultry dealers complained because the "street" in the wholesale district was not thronged with buyers as in former years. Farmers with turkeys to offer found buyers very unwilling to take on any stock, and prices offered were not above 18 cents a pound. The selling price dropped down to 24 cents and thereabouts during the day. Most of the wholesale poultry houses will be open for a while tomorrow (Thursday) forenoon.

The big produce houses will be closed all day. Butter and eggs were very firm, and sales were numerous at top-notch prices. Ranch eggs continued very scarce.

Potatoes and onions were firm, with tendency still upward.

Beans were firm; more advances anticipated.

Fresh fruits in holiday demand, reinforced by warm weather; bananas are practically out of stock; apples firm; Bellflowers advancing.

Fish in slow demand; lobsters plentiful.

Other commodities steady at jobbing prices heretofore quoted.

NEW YORK MARKET.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—A number of industrial stocks suffered wide breaches in their valuations again today in continuation of the progress which was so conspicuous in yesterday's dealings. Some of the weaker stocks then were acutely affected today, while new ones were brought into the movement. Little in the way of specific news to account for the decline, and those concerning which there was news were not the most acutely affected. Fluctuations in Colorado Fuel seemed to represent varying views of the provision made for the capital needed by the sale of coal and iron lands to the company. Regarding the railroad equipment stocks, it was argued that much of the recent enormous increase in railroad equipment was owing to the use of cars to make good inadequate terminal and storage facilities, so that there might be considered an oversupply of cars on hand at present. The only news accompanying the break of over nine points in Railway Steel Spring preferred was the application to the Stock Exchange to list additional stocks, which contained no surprise for those conversant with the company's affairs. It may be taken for granted that a well-organized party skillfully directed the attack on these securities. The quick rebound in their prices was sufficient evidence of this in itself; but there is no reason to doubt the current reports of a general sweeping-out of collateral in loans of industrial securities, especially of the newer undigested class. It is fair to bear in mind that the disfavor with which money lenders view these securities has to do with the readiness of the market for them, as well as their intrinsic value and soundness. Many of these securities have never had a wide market, and others have lost much of what they ever had during the recent period of distrust over the whole industrial outlook. There is apparent also an intention to adjust the basis of prices of the whole body of industrials to that of the stocks which have already been severely scaled down. A relative firmness, growing into strength of the United States Steel stocks and of Amalgamated Copper, were consonant with this view. United States Steel was probably affected also by the reduction granted in freight rates on steel rails for export. A sharp rally in the raw copper market in London may have helped Amalgamated and Anaconda. The late recovery in the market wiped out all the principal losses, and established some fair gains in the industrials. Sterling exchanges made another wide drop in spite of the quieter tone of the local money market, and rumors of large additional engagements of gold for import were thus made plausible, although no definite information could be obtained of such engagements. The bond market became very dull, and was irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,280,000. United States refunding 2s and the old and new 4s declined ½, and the 2s ½ per cent. on the last call.

GENERAL EASTERN MARKETS.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Trading in the wheat pit today was of an evening-up character, in preparation for the holiday tomorrow, and while there was little general commission trade, there was much adjustment among local traders. The only bull news of importance was the report that there had been general rains in Argentina, and that the Northwestern receipts were lighter than a year ago, but this was sufficient to cause a little firmer feeling early in the day, after a steady opening. May was unchanged to ¼ lower at the start, opening at 79¼@79¾, and after selling up to 79¾, the market became easier on realizing by local traders. There was some selling by yesterday's buyers, and the demand was scattered. May declined to 79c, and closed ¾ to ¼ lower, at 79¼. December closed ¾ lower, at 79c. Corn was strong for a few moments at the start, but there was too much for sale and prices soon yielded, the December option being the weaker. May ranged between 41¾ and 42¼, closing ¼ to ¾ higher, at 41¾@41¾. December closed ¼ to ¾ lower, at 44¼@44¾. A slow, dragging market, with prices most of the time under last night's close, was the order of the day in the oats pit. May closed unchanged at 25¼. December closed a shade lower, at 24¼@24¾. Liberal selling of January lard and ribs by brokers supposed to be for the account of local packers caused weakness in provisions; January pork closed 27½c lower; lard was off 10c, while ribs were down 12½c. The board will be closed tomorrow on account of Thanksgiving.

CRAZED BY MINING, DIED IN POVERTY.

TRAGEDY OF W. H. PREVOST, ONCE LOCAL CAPITALIST.

Plunger Came Here in the First Boom and Brought Lots of Money—Ended His Days in Working on a Tobacco Plantation.

Friendless and penniless, with the winter of old age casting its cold shadow about his life, William H. Prevost, a one-time wealthy New Yorker, died on a farm near Raleigh, N. C., one day last week. Prevost, a member of a distinguished family, spent the fortune of his fathers prospecting for gold in the foothills of the San Bernardino Mountains.

His only relative is a son, William H. Prevost, Jr., who for the past year has been driving a peddler's cart over Los Angeles county. He had a friend in the person of Samuel Killingworth, who, with his son, has gone East to see that the remains of the dead man are given decent sepulture. From owning a private yacht, Prevost went down step by step in the industrial and financial scale until at the time of his last illness he was a hand on a tobacco plantation.

The story of his life is one of tragic interest. In his youth he was the pampered only child of a New Bedford whaling captain, and was given every advantage of education and travel. He passed through the common schools of Boston, went to England and studied for a time at Eton, traveled with an American Embassy to China, was secretary to a British commercial magnate in the East Indies, and finally, his father dying, he became heir to a substantial fortune. He made his home for years in New York City, marrying a beautiful woman, daughter of a prominent man, and fortune seemed to smile on him at every turn and in every undertaking.

The original Southern California boom proved his undoing. He came out here in the later 80's, bringing with him a genuine enthusiasm for the sunshine and warmth and bounty of the land, and proceeded to spend his money lavishly. Not content with mere purchases of orchard lands and ranches, he plunged in fake city lots, took large blocks of mysterious securities of the wild-cat species, and called in loans paying fine interest in order to spend the principal.

Some agent, less kind than the rest, got him interested in a piece of worthless land in the foothills of the San Bernardino range. He was told that every indication was of gold, and that "there was millions in it."

He bought, and, not finding gold, proceeded to buy and prospect other pieces. The more he lost the more he risked, true gambler fashion, until he was really pinched for ready cash. His wife was at that time in Europe, and his son was finishing a common-school course in New York. Further trips were curtailed to supply money for the desperate mining ventures of the head of the family. The wife was brough back from Europe and the boy was finally taken out of school. The New York home, a residence on One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street was sold, and the whole family came to California.

From that time on it was just like the pitiful game over the green cloth, only there was no evening dress, no flash of unpaid-for jewels, no strained, white faces of men turning night into day.

Killingworth, the only real friend the man ever had here, says that everything was bent to the one determination of making a great gold strike somewhere in the Southern California mountains. For three years this relentless prospector jramped up and down the hills, taking his wife and boy with him, spending money right and left for materials, and having no thought of his other interests. He had the genuine gold fever of half a century ago, and it went to his head.

His wife, a frail little woman at best, was not used to constant tenting and thrice in the open through sunshine and rain. She died of pneumonia, very suddenly, in the fall of 1892, and the wealth-hunting husband, who really loved his companion, at last woke up. The blow of her death and the sudden realization of the fact that he had frittered away his, own living, crushed him. He did not prospect any more. He just drifted around.

The son, who was too young to have any real education, was dependent on unskilled manual labor for his living, as he has been ever since. Killingworth, who is himself a prospector and miner, took care of the elder Prevost until he recovered from the shock of his wife's death.

A few months later Prevost went to work in a grocery store.

After that he ran a pumping engine at an irrigation plant.

Then he had a newspaper route.

Next he hired out as a hand on a tobacco plantation on the Atlantic Coast.

Last week he died.

Fatted Cow Roasted at "The Outpost" and Awaiting the Onslaught by Juvenile Guests of The Times.

At noon today the newsboys of Los Angeles will board a string of electric cars in front of The Times office and proceed to "The Outpost" at Hollywood, to eat the fatted cow which will be barbecued for their Thanksgiving dinner. By noon today the feast will be in readiness for the 500 more or less hungry urchins who have been invited by The Times to enjoy it. All the newsboys of the city are included in the invitation. The first special car starting for the picnic ground will leave First and Spring streets at 12 o'clock sharp, and the rest will follow in quick succession. There will be free transportation for all and a free dinner. The bill of fare will include, in addition to barbecued beef, baked potatoes, frijoles, chile sauce, gravy and the usual condiments and relishes, with apples, oranges and ice cream for dessert. TWO DIED FROM DRINK.

John Johnson, a waiter employed at an East First street restaurant, was found dead on the floor of his room at the Terre Haute House yesterday morning. He had been drunk for more than a week and the last seen of him alive was when he was assisted to his room, too boozy to walk. John J. Cummings, a laborer, was found dead yesterday morning in a stable in the rear of No. 244 Jackson street. He had been seen the day before in that neighborhood in an intoxicated condition and had complained of illness. Nothing is known about the man. The Coroner took charge of both bodies.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY.

ROW IN ESCONDIDO SCHOOL.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 25.—The latest school row is at Escondido. Dr. J. V. Larzalere of that city having charged Prof. J. Vandavere, principal of the high school, with conduct unbecoming a teacher. The complainant says that his daughter was in fifth grade of the school, and that she made satisfactory progress in all save two studies. He employed a member of the County Board of Education to coach her during her vacation, after which she was recommended to the county superintendent for promotion. But the principal declined to receive her, hence the fuss. The doctor claims that the professor "has it in" for him.

THE SPIRIT THAT WINS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Discharged from the Queens County Jail yesterday, where he has just completed a sentence of three months for vagrancy, William Stuthoff announced his determination, despite his 64 years, to win back the fortune which he lost. Stutnoff is said to have been a millionaire at one time and to have owned half of the land on which Far Rockaway now stands. Many years ago his affianced wife, Mary Jones, was killed in a railroad wreck. Stuthoff then neglected his business and his fortune was wiped out.

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S CONDITION.

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—Emperor William has changed his voice, modulating it so as to reduce the pressure on the vocal chords. He now speaks in a somewhat lower pitch. The Emperor's advisers have accepted the theory of Dr. Holbrook Curtis of New York, which has been made familiar to the German physicians by Prof. H. Krause, the throat specialist, who attended the late Emperor Frederick. Prof. Krause believes that severe throat diseases can be obviated and in some instances cured by using the voice scientifically.

CAUSE OF DIPHTHERIA.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Physicians of Suffern, N. Y., and Ramsay, N. J., have made a new discovery as to the cause of diphtheria. This disease has been epidemic in these towns for some time. After an investigation the doctors have concluded that the cause is the burning of leaves in the Ramapo Mountains, which leave peculiarly poisonous irritants in the smoke that has descended on the villages for some time.

ACTRESS WANTS LARGE SUM.

VICTORIA (B. C.) Nov. 25.—The case of Edna Wallace Hopper, the actress, against James Dunsmuir of this city, claiming $3,000,000, her mother's interest in the estate of the late Alexander Dunsmuir, who married her mother in California, is set for Wednesday next in the local courts. The action is taken on the ground that undue influence was exercised in making the will of the late Alexander Dunsmuir.

SAFE ROBBERS IN KANSAS.

HOYT, (Kan.) Nov. 25.—Robbers blew open the safe in the general store of Elmer Ketterman early this morning and escaped in safety. Nitro glycerine was used. A portion of the safe door was blown to the outside of the store building. A large amount of money received by the firm had been placed in the bank yesterday afternoon and the thieves got nothing.

FAMOUS BEAUTY KILLED.

I CURE MEN

Use Good Common Sense in the Selection of Your Physician : : :

Many unfortunate men have made a mistake by placing their cases in the hands of unqualified and unscrupulous physicians. Others have made the mistake of putting a special or complicated case in the hands of the general practitioner, who has not the experience, nor the training, nor the education to handle complicated and special diseases. We are treating today many general practitioners who come with the special troubles to a specialist.

WILL WAIT FOR MY PAY UNTIL CURED.

Goat Lymph

Dr. Gross is the only physician who has used successfully Goat Lymph on the Coast in all cases of nervous debility, locomotor ataxia, paralysis, lost vitality resulting from early indiscretions, etc. Those who have failed in getting relief elsewhere, call on him and he will give you a free demonstration of his Goat Lymph Treatment. He will not take a case unless he is positive that it can be cured. No charges for consultation.

His treatment has been indorsed by the ablest medical men in the East, as well as on the Coast. Rev. Wilson wrote as follows: "My Dear Doctor: I tried in vain to be relieved from my nervous prostration resulting from overwork, by the most able specialists here as well as in the middle states without results. Your Goat Lymph in one month restored me so that I am able to again resume my duties and I now enjoy my work and recreation as well as I ever did."

Why Be Weak

When my treatment for weakness will fully restore youthful vigor? The satisfaction of appreciating every moment of life cannot belong to the man who is a victim of weakness. Many men of middle age, who should be enjoying the prime of life in every way, wear the easily distinguished mark of weakness. Do not continue to neglect this dreadful condition as it will lead you swiftly down the path of despair. Weakness is often brought on by nervous overwork, but usually it is either the result of varicocele, enlarged, inflamed prostate, abuses, excesses or from badly treated disorders. The known permanency of the cures I make in cases of this description is merely another demonstration of my ability. I will be found at the offices of the Anglo-American Doctors.

Varicocele and Results

Any case of varicocele which is left without proper treatment will, in time, result in complete loss of one-half of the vital power besides there will be more or less sympathy by the unaffected side, often producing complete loss of vitality, to say nothing of its effect upon the circulation, nerve centers, digestion, sensations and weary feelings. Varicocele produces a large bunch of knotted and twisted veins on the left side. They can be readily distinguished by the feel. We only want our patients from five to seven days to guarantee a radical and permanent cure of every case. Consultation and examination free. If you are interested. Don't pay any money out on varicocele until the doctor shows you the actual cured cases among Los Angeles' best citizens. We use neither ligature, caustic or electricity, but cure in one week and no failure.

Stricture

It matters not how long you have suffered from a stricture, or how many different doctors have disappointed you, I will cure it just as certainly as you come to me for treatment. I will not cut it by cutting or dilating. My treatment is new, entirely original with me, and perfectly painless. It completely dissolves the stricture and permanently removes every obstruction from the urinary passage, allays all inflammation, reduces the prostate gland when enlarged, cleanses and heals the bladder and kidneys when irritated or congested, and restores health and strength to every part of the body affected by the disease.

Contracted Disorders

Owing to my 27 years of continuous and successful practice in all forms of this order I am fully qualified by my wealth of experience and knowledge to master any trouble in this order of diseases. Do not listen to a friend's well-meaning advice in respect to this or that remedy that he may think is "just the thing," for you will surely regret it if you do so. Oftentimes the severest complications arise from using the wrong remedies in an hourly occurrence every day in the year for most to some place themselves under my care after going through untold suffering, just through taking a friend's advice to use a nervous remedy, or through the misdirected effort of the family doctor or else the bungling work of some alleged specialist. For immediate relief and a speedy cure come to me, as I have a reputation to protect and cannot afford, at this late date, to make a failure on cases that would be the stiffest of any other reputable specialist.

Blood Disorders

While these are the most persistent of all diseases to cure, the most treacherous in their nature, I have had no exception to the list of cured patients, going back over twenty-seven years, consequently I have been called into consultation by physicians having succeeded in removing all visible traces of the disease, and find that their treatment had only driven it deeper into the system.

My method strikes the disease at its root, driving it from the blood, as well as the skin. After treatment no trace remains of the deadly disease, and the patient is found to be sound and healthy.

Can Cure You at Home

I have perfected a system of home treatment whereby many can be cured at home. RUPTURE CURE

Los Angeles, Nov. 11

Prof. Joseph Pandrey,
642 S. Main St., Los Angeles, Cal.

Dear Sir:—It gives me a great pleasure to testify to the results I obtained by using your surgical appliances. To be brief, as is as follows: Badly ruptured for over six years, had a truss made to order by Los Angeles firm, but it did not retain the rupture. Saw you and you agreed to cure me if I would follow your directions, so, and as you know, was pronounced cured in less than six months. To-day I am not wearing a truss of any kind and I have Prof. Pandrey to thank for it all. Your methods of curing rupture are wonderful, successful, and I give this letter unsolicited on your part, and you are at liberty to give it to the public if you so desire. Truly yours,

EDWARD A. M'CAU...

DON'T TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT, BUT INVESTIGATE

Completeness of Theory, Scientific Knowledge, Practical Skill.

THESE ARE THINGS THAT SHOULD INTEREST YOU WHEN LOOKING FOR A CURE.

It is Not What You Can Do in the World Without Good Health, But What You Can Do With It.

Rama offers a treatment that is not experimental, but that has been proven wonderfully successful. He offers treatment based upon the latest scientific and medical authorities of this country and Europe combined with the Oriental practice of medicine and art healing.

The doctor presents the following credentials: Graduate Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia; graduate of the Post-Graduate Hospital of New York; graduate Charing Cross Hospital, London, Eng.; member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of London, Eng.; Associate Physician of the Frauen Klinik, Berlin; Assistant Physician Prof. Fusch's Eye Klinik, Vienna, Austria; member of the Oriental Society of Yogis, Bombay, India.

People Thronging From All Parts of the Country to See This Wonderful Man and All Go Away Satisfied.

HIS OFFICE AT THIRD AND SPRING STREETS CROWDED TO OVERFLOWING.

The doctor wants all who find it possible to call at his office and make his acquaintance in person, and he will be glad to go into details of his method and tell you what ails you. Persons living out of town who find it inconvenient to call in person should write the doctor as below, stating in their own words how they suffer and he will give them all advice and information free of charge. Office permanently located Third and Spring Sts., Ramona Block.

We like to do business with thinking, cautious, conservative people. They don't jump at conclusions that because an advertisement reads well that all that is claimed is necessarily true. They avail themselves of the facilities we offer for investigation for obtaining proof of the most convincing kind, and when convinced that our system is better than any other and infinitely superior to drugs and medicines for building and restoring perfect health, they place themselves in our hands with a confident belief in a successful issue—a hearty determination to second every effort we make in their behalf—that wins half the battle.

This treatment relieves the system of poisons and impurities by producing healthy digestion and assimilation, cures constipation, revitalizes the exhausted nerves, sends rich, red blood tingling to every extremity, puts normal muscle where muscle is needed, removes fat, stimulates and builds up the tired brain, paints the cheek with the flush of robust health, builds up under developed and undeveloped parts, and, in fact, fits man, woman or child to nature's perfect mold.

We can do all this for you as we have done for hundreds of others because our system is nature's system. These results are as natural and inevitable as the cycle of the planets. Nothing we can say in proof of all this is one-half so convincing as the unprejudiced testimony of men and women who have nothing to gain, everything to lose by deception, whose reputations are beyond the shadow of suspicion. If you will send us your name and address we will mail you, free, valuable information and detailed outline of our system, its principles and effects.

Come and See Me.

This invitation is extended to all sufferers from Chronic Diseases, such as Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Liver, Kidney, Stomach and Blood Disorders, Piles, Catarrh and Bladder Troubles, Rheumatism, Paralysis, Neuralgia or Sciatica, Epilepsy, and all diseases of the Ear, Eye, Nose and Throat. Rama's treatments are the result of a system of Medicine perfected through centuries of study by the leading physicians of Europe and America.

RAMA'S SPECIFIC MEDICATIONS go straight to the diseased organs and can be felt at work in the diseased part very shortly after their work is begun. They are pleasant to take, mild but searching in action, yet agree with the most delicate lady or child; do not reduce the strength, and can be used at the same occupation, as many patients, still able to work and attend to business, are often slowly, yet unconsciously dying, knowing themselves to be ill, yet deceived into a false security. They procrastinate or put off the matter until the case is incurable. Call and be examined, and at least learn the cause of your disease, and if you can be cured, it costs you nothing, and may save your life.

The senior cooking class at Throop Polytechnic Institute yesterday served a sample of the national dinner which would look well on any table and which would gratify the palate of a king. It looked well to the maiden when it was finished. The fittle gas stoves went out with a pop and sleeves were rolled up each girl down to enjoy the kind of society luncheon that is seldom held. It would only be aggravating to give the menu, for the dinner hour is still a long way off, but it was all there, from the soup and relishes down to the plum pudding and pumpkin pie.

Mrs. Grace E. Dutton, teacher of cooking, was highly pleased with the showing made by the class and did justice to all the good things served. The members of the class are Misses Swigart, Ashdown, Woodville, Earley, Amex, Rudel, Forbes, Guyer, Behr, Morehous and Holmes.

[NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

PASADENA DEBATERS TAKE ALL HONORS.

HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST DRAWS AN ENTHUSIATIC HOUSE.

Whittier Speakers Overwhelmingly Beaten in First Series of Discussions—Maids Practice on Turkey Dinner—Union Church Service Today.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. 38 South Raymond Avenue, Nov. 26.—In the debate between two representatives each from the Pasadena High School and the Whittier High School last night the home talent carried off all the honors by a unanimous decision of the judges and by an overwhelming majority of points.

The assembly hall of the High School was packed to its doors with a jolly mixture of scholars and papas and mamas. The Whittier contingent came over one hundred strong in three special electric cars, and they proved themselves cheerful losers. It happened that the colors of the two institutions are the same, red and white, and the result was that there was one mass of this combination. But where the colors did not vary, the yells did, and not a chance was lost by the competing forces to make the hall ring.

The question debated was selected by the Whittier students: "Resolved, That England is maintaining her naval power." The subject having been chosen by the visitors, the home boys had the privilege of choosing their side, and Pasadena took the affirmative. Pasadena was represented by Max Church and Frank Russell and Whittier by Messrs. Harter and Hocket. The judges were Superintendent Morgan of Long Beach School, M. C. Bettinger of Los Angeles, and Prof. Sumner of Pomona College.

The unanimous decision of the judges for Pasadena was not long in coming. Frank Russell was awarded first honors for points in argument and delivery. Max Church was given second place. The result was received with a burst of enthusiasm seldom seen in this city. Until a late hour the local boys paraded the streets with jubilant yells and rejoicings. The Whittier contingent left the city in good spirits, and the echo of their songs came back as the cars started homeward down Fair Oaks avenue.

"I am more than pleased at the way the boys handled themselves today," said Superintendent of Schools J. A. Graham after the debate. "Their points were remarkably bold and well covered for school boys, and I believe their honors were in every way decently won. This debate will probably be the first in a series of three, the next to be held at Whittier, although the matter has not been fully decided."

DOUBLY THANKFUL.

If the foundation of a good Thanksgiving is a good meal, there are at present eleven young ladies in Pasadena who will have more than their share and who are laying the foundation for busy Thanksgivings to come for prospective better halves. These eleven girls from school will have two Thanksgiving dinners and it is a question which they will enjoy the more, to see they cooked themselves or the more slant-eyed Celestial will prepare.

The senior cooking class at Throop Polytechnic Institute yesterday served a sample of the national dinner which would look well on any table and which would gratify the palate of a king. It looked well to the maidens when it was finished. The little gas stoves went out with a pop and eleven smiling cooks sat down to enjoy the fruit of a society luncheon that is seldom held. It would only be aggravating to give the menu, for the dinner hour is still a long way off, but it was all there, from the soup and relishes down to the plum pudding and pumpkin pie.

Mrs. Grace E. Dutton, teacher of cooking, was highly pleased with the showing made by the class, and did justice to all the good things herself. The members of the class are Misses Bryant, Ashdown, Woodville, Earley, Ames, Rudel, Forbes, Guyer, Behr, Stevens and Holmes.

UNION SERVICES.

Union services will be held this morning at the First Congregational Church on North Raymond avenue. The services will begin at 10:30 sharp. Nearly every church of the Protestant denominations will participate in this observance of Thanksgiving Day. The complete revised programme follows: Prayer, C. H. Hobart, pastor of the First Baptist Church, who is president of the Ministerial Union, will preside. Doxology. Invocation will be by Rev. Malcolm J. McLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Hymn, offertory, "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come!" (Hanscom.) Miss Clark and choir; reading of the President's Thanksgiving proclamation by Rev. W. W. Cookman, pastor of the Linden-avenue Methodist Church; reading of the scripture lesson by Rev. Floyd Dorris, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church; prayer, R. R. Meredith, pastor of the First Congregational Church; anthem, "We Praise Thee, O God" (Rossini,) sung by the chorus choir; hymn; sermon, Rev. A. W. Lamport, D.D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church; report of the Good Samaritan Society, Rev. T. G. Emerson, pastor of the Lake Avenue Congregational Church; offering for the Good Samaritan Society; hymn; benediction, Rev. James Seals, pastor of the Free Methodist Church.

FIRST SOCIAL MEET.

The first social meeting of the Massachusetts colony, which was formed in this city three months ago, was held in Recital Hall, No. 112 West Colorado street, last night. E. C. Donnell, the president, delivered a cordial address of welcome, and the evening was spent in becoming better acquainted over choice refreshments. The entertainment committee having the matter in charge comprised: Messrs Irving, Washburn, Ober, Otis, Miss Chandler, Mrs. Upton, Mrs. Horton and Mrs. Otis. The society is well on its feet and has planned for two such social meetings each month.

PASADENA POINTERS.

Earl M. Waight, son of Ex-Mayor Waight, is home after an absence of several months. Last year Earl graduated from the University of California and has now returned to Pasadena with a view of entering into business. He strongly advocates a football game as one of the events of New Year's Tournament of Roses, and states that he believes that both Stanford and Berkeley 'varsity teams are open to an engagement on that day and would favorably consider a bid from Pasadena.

Capt. William Weigel, Eleventh United States Infantry, who has just returned from three years' service in the Philippines, visited his brother, Jacob Weigel of North Pasadena, last Friday. He expected to visit Pasadena, but was suddenly called to Fort Sheridan, near Chicago.

Judge Congden was accosted on the street Tuesday night by a husky tramp and asked for money. He did not arrest the man, but warned him not to beg or sleep in box cars. That same night at a late hour the man was found in a car, and when he appeared before the judge yesterday morning he was quickly given sixty days.

The Americus Club will hold a grand jollification, reunion and banquet next Tuesday night, when the annual election of officers will take place. The club is in a most flourishing condition and will make its usual prize winning showing in the Tournament of Roses.

A. R. Parsons, who was manager of the Hotel Maryland last year, is spending a couple of weeks in this city as the guest of Col. G. G. Green, having come out with him in his private car.

The Home Telephone Company appears to be at a standstill in its work in this city, and the city officials are wondering what is up. The Mayor wrote a letter to President Graves of Los Angeles asking for information in time to make a report at Tuesday's meeting of the Council, and has not received an answer as yet. It does not look as if the "line busy" song will be sung by January 1, as had been expected.

An car No. 104 of the Pacific Electric Railway Company was running along near Raymond Hill a sheet of flame burst from the controller, badly frightening the motorman and burning the clothing of the passengers near by. The trouble was caused by the blowing out of a fuse.

Thomas McCall, 65 years old, a native of Ireland, died Tuesday night at the Catholic parsonage. The deceased having for years been in the service of Father Farrelly as coachman. Hemorrhages were the cause of death. The funeral awaits the arrival of relatives from San Francisco.

Prof. A. A. Hopkins of New York will speak at the Y.M.C.A. men's meeting Sunday afternoon. The subject will be "Barabbas," a powerful temperance lecture. Prof. Hopkins is an author, lecturer and singer and editor.

A big sale of the new stationery of the Tournament of Roses Association is reported. The design is simple, neat and artistic.

FERNANDO.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE.

FERNANDO, Nov. 25.—An interesting debate took place at Harp's Hall between the Fernando Union High School and the Glendale High School on the question, "Resolved, that the Slavonic race is destined to rule the world." Glendale, in the affirmative, was represented by Miss Helen Bary and Miss Flora Kughen. Fernando was supported by Roger Dutton and Miss Estelle Porter. The judges, F. W. Shoemaker, of the County Board of Education, A. Wilson of Chatsworth Park, and Miss Edith Hough of Los Angeles, rendered a decision in favor of Fernando.

CLAREMONT.

BOOMING COLLEGE UP NORTH.

CLAREMONT, Nov. 25.—Rev. Charles Burton Sumner, one of the original founders of Pomona College and at present its financial secretary, is now addressing the big Congregational churches of Northern California in the interests of this institution. Several weeks, at least, he will continue his tour of the northern constituency of the college. Only a few days ago important resolutions were passed by the Council of Northern California Congregational Churches pledging an annual Pomona College collection by each church. It is believed that this will mean thousands of dollars to the institution and also students from the north.

Thirty-two times since 1883 has Mr. Sumner crossed the continent on summer trips in the interests of Pomona College. Since that date, it has grown from a faculty of one and a student body of less than twelve to a faculty of almost twenty-five and a student body of 301; its financial strength has developed from an actual indebtedness to an endowment of $182,000, and buildings and property worth more than $100,000 more.

COLLEGE BRIEFS.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held in Holmes Hall chapel at 11 a.m. tomorrow. Dr. George A. Gates, Rev. Charles S. Riche Prof. E. C. Norton and Rev. Henry Kingman are the speakers.

The championship football match slated for December 5 between Pomona College and the Indian team of Sherman Institute, will probably take place in Los Angeles. The place has not been finally fixed. Charles and William Wharton, the two half-backs who were injured and unable to play against Occidental, are both expected to be in the big Indian game. William Wharton, however, will probably play in the line as tackle.

Almost one hundred Pomona College students drove to Pomona and attended Ellery's Italian Band concert.

RIVERA.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES.

RIVERA, Nov. 25.—Rivera and Ranchito were well represented at the funeral of A. Dorman at Redondo, Saturday. The Dormans were very popular and influential residents of Rivera for fifteen years previous to their removal to Redondo.

The Bishop Baseball Club was defeated Sunday by the Riveras nine, 17 to 11. The Riveras will play the Petroleum nine next Sunday at Rivera.

The regular annual meeting of the Standefer Ditch Company will be held at the Walnut House, Saturday, December 5, at 10 o'clock a.m., for the purpose of electing directors, etc.

A school election will be held December 4 to decide the location of the new High School building.

LORDSBURG.

SHADE-TREE COMMITTEE.

LORDSBURG, Nov. 25.—A mass meeting was held last night, which the representative citizens attended. E. T. Keiser, chairman, explained that the object was to learn the wishes of the people with regard to the cutting of eucalyptus trees which had been commenced by property owners and stopped by the Supervisors. The town is divided on this question, many persons wishing to have all the eculypti felled and more ornamental trees planted, the growth of many of the present pepper trees being retarded by the blue gums. The "antic" carried the meeting and elected a strong anti-tree cutting committee, consisting of H. W. Williams, chairman; Rev. Martin Shively, secretary; E. T. Keiser and W. C. Doughty. This committee will consult with the Supervisors and regulate the tree cutting and shade tree planting, and will have the support of the people, who desire to improve the condition and appearance of our streets.

A DUCK HUNT.

W. A. Rogers of La Verne has spent the day duck hunting. This morning he started for Pomona with a duck in a sack, in his buggy, but the duck and sack mysteriously disappeared before he had gone far. Diligent search failed to find his Thanksgiving fowl.

HORTICULTURAL MEETING.

J. W. Jeffrey, secretary of the Board of Horticultural Commissioners, will speak Tuesday evening in Library Hall, San Dimas, at the monthly meeting of the San Dimus Heights Horticultural Club, on the subject of "New Beneficial Insects." Several interesting papers will be read and a musical programme rendered.

ALHAMBRA.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS SOON.

ALHAMBRA, Nov. 25.—The City Trustees last evening opened bids for the electric light and power franchise recently offered for sale. The only bid received was from the Pacific Light and Power Company, Los Angeles, $100. M. C. Osborn and Mr. Hoke answered questions in a satisfactory manner. The board awarded the franchise. The company commenced operations here today and will soon have the poles and wires up. Within two weeks the lights are to sparkle, according to the company.

SANTA CATALINA ISLAND.

FISHERMAN GETS AN OCTOPUS.

AVALON, Nov. 25.—Jack Robinson, who has been engaged in sandcab fishing here for several years, but who has recently turned his attention to groupers, made a catch Monday which gave him the "creeps. He was out on the cod banks and when his line came up he found impaled on one of his hooks a huge octopus with tentacles five feet long. It was ten feet across from one extremity to the other, and was squirming like a nest of rattlesnakes on a strike. It was an ugly customer to handle and Robinson was obliged to chop nearly all its tentacles off before he could clear his line, the Boatmen Club thereby losing a rare attraction. The Italian fishermen had a grand feast from the tentacles, as they regard devilfish a rare luxury.

BLUE-SEA RIPPLES.

Sherer & Co. have almost completed the six miles of road connecting that terminating at Eagle's Nest with the Little Harbor road, and yesterday shipped about twenty of their big Kentucky mules back to Los Angeles on the Hermosa. The loading was a lively affair.

Clarke Whitlocke of Schenectady, N. Y., and James D. Gardiner of New York, went out this morning with Percy Neal after albicore. They brought in eleven which would average fully thirty-five pounds. The largest, taken by Mr. Whitlocke, weighed forty-five pounds, and he is having it mounted. A shark attacked the fish, as it was being reeled in, fastening its sharp teeth in the side of the albicore and holding on for fifteen minutes, during which time the angler could not budge the fish.

Charles H. May, a representative of McClure's Magazine, accompanied by his wife, has been at the metropole for a few days.

TROPICO.

RIPARIAN RIGHTS SUIT.

TROPICO, Nov. 25.—The Tropico Improvement Association held a largely-attended meeting Monday evening at Richardson's Hall. A representative delegation was present from Burbank and a large representation of the property owners along the Los Angeles River, who are defendants in the suit brought by the city of Los Angeles to restrain them from pumping water on their lands. This suit involves all property along the river, from the northern city boundaries to, and including, Burbank. It was decided to hold a general mass meeting at Richardson's Hall, Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, to decide on a course of action in the matter. It was unanimously decided to request the citizens of Tropico, to remove all cacti and century plants from the sidewalks in front of their premises as such varieties of ornamental vegetation are dangerous to man and beast, especially when planted on the public highway.

William Wright has kindly consented to assist the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps, Saturday evening, at G. A.R. Hall, in liquidating their debt.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held Thursday morning, at the Tropico Methodist Church.

STUDENTS' RECEPTION.

The reception tendered parents and patrons by the students and teachers of the Hollywood Union High School Tuesday evening, was one of the most enjoyable occasions in the history of the school, which is just ten weeks old. The faculty of this school believe in developing the social qualities of students and in training them to perform the various duties which will come to them as leaders in society, hence the school is self-governing in a large degree, each student being responsible for his share of the work to be accomplished. The programme was of a thanksgiving nature with music, recitations and a play representing scenes from Miles Standish. After the programme, refreshments were served, games played and social intercourse enjoyed until a late hour. About one hundred patrons were present. The school will enjoy a holiday Thursday and Friday.

VAIL GOLDEN WEDDING.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 25.—Yesterday was the fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Dr. and Mrs. M. H. C. Vail, and their friends, especially the members of the Episcipal Church, made it a brilliant social occasion. Ever since coming to Long Beach Dr. Vail has been one of the strongest supporters of the church and is now its senior warden. The festivities took place in the Vail home on the corner of Fifth street and Atlantic avenue. During the afternoon the ladies of the church filled the parlors and dining-room with a profusion of beautiful flowers. The bride and groom stood in the front parlor and were kept busy replying to the congratulations from a continuous procession of friends. A number of tasteful and expensive presents were received.

PONOMA OUT-DEBATED.

COVINA, Nov. 25.—Great interest was manifested in the debate between the Covina and Pomona High Schools, held here last evening. "Resolved: That the Monroe doctrine is one that the United States should defend even though it should require war to do so," was the question under discussion, the affirmative being taken by Pomona, Walter Tuller and William Himrod, and the negative by Miss Leila Venable and Clayton Shipway, Covina. The judges were Prof. Walter Monroe, principal of Whittier High School, Prof. Loree of El Monte, and Prof. Sumner of Claremont College. YOUR MONEY RETURNED

If Hyomei Does Not Cure You of Catarrh, Say Dean's Drug Store.

In advertising that they will refund the money to any one purchasing a Hyomei outfit who can say that it has done them no good in the treatment of catarrh, Dean's Drug Store mean exactly what the guarantee says.

Of course the percentage of cures by Hyomei is nearly one hundred or else we could not afford to make this unusual offer. But if the treatment should not be adapted to your case there will be no questions or quibblings when you go to get your money.

That the beginning of catarrh is due to the presence of germs in the air passages is now admitted by every physician. It stands to reason that catarrh cannot be cured unless these germs are first destroyed. The Hyomei treatment kills the catarrh germs even in the minutest air cells, soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane and makes complete and lasting cures in cases that have resisted the usual methods of treatment.

Catarrh cannot be cured by medicines administered through the stomach. Hyomei is the only natural method and it has made cures that seem miraculous. The outfit costs but $1 and consists of an inhaler which will last a lifetime and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment. Additional bottles of Hyomei can be procured for 50c.

Dean's Drug Store give their personal guarantee with every Hyomei outfit they sell to refund the money if it does not cure. There is no risk whatever to the purchaser of Hyomei.

Timely Work of Rescue on Eve of Thanksgiving.

Woman and Six Children Saved from Starvation.

Family Left in Sad Plight by Being Deserted by Husband and Father.

With the November night wind blowing fog through the chinks of the battered wall that sheltered them, a mother and six children have faced starvation in Los Angeles, within the week—Thanksgiving week at that.

It is hard to have hunger gnawing at the vitals and no food in the family larder, at any time, and harder still when such conditions exist on Thanksgiving eve, when peace and plenty smile upon the land, and thousands upon thousands of happy people are looking forward to a grand Thanksgiving feast, with more or less gratitude in their hearts for the bountiful gifts of a beneficent Providence.

Who of the feasting millions would begrudge a poor beggar the crumbs from the table, or even a bone with plenty of meat sticking to it, on Thanksgiving eve? On such festive occasions the starving beggar is seldom denied a square meal for the nonce, but some people are too proud to beg, even when starving. A mother, forlorn and deserted, with six mouths to feed, besides her own, might be pardoned for making her poverty known, and hundreds of hands would be outstretched with succor, but pride sometimes restrains even such a one from begging food to keep herself and little ones alive. An instance of suffering and fortitude akin to this came to light yesterday in this city.

Mrs. Mary Lockwood, who lives on Turner street, just east of Alameda, was deserted by her worthless husband two months ago. To satisfy something besides the fatherhood in him, he had forced a family of six children upon her. She has the children yet. The oldest is a boy of 13, who has heart disease and must die within a few months. The others are too young to take care of themselves.

Last Sunday night Mrs. Lockwood was confronted with the problem: How is it possible to provide food for a family of seven when there is no money in the house; when you can find no work, and when people do not leave beefsteaks and loaves of bread in convenient places that are forgotten afterwards?

It was so easy for the well-fed thousands to go to church Sunday evening and thank God in advance for Thanksgiving cheer. The deserted wife and children, however worshipful they might feel, had no such comforts to look forward to, or to give thanks for.

Mrs. Lockwood in a thin dress—the ragged parts deftly concealed—wandered the streets Sunday night. Two drunken men had a hearty laugh at the broken-looking woman at First and San Pedro streets. They thought she was an amusing creature, with her wild-looking face, her gray hair disheveled; but most of all they roared at the frightened way she skulked into dark corners in her evident desire not to be seen.

The drunks didn't know she was looking for food.

Mrs. Lockwood so far overcame her pride yesterday as to tell her story to the officials of the Volunteers of America yesterday.

When there are six children that have to be fed and you don't think you would be a success as a beggar, or are too proud for that, there are two things to do; one is to steal. Mrs. Lockwood searched the streets for food.

It seems that occasionally people carelessly drop substantial dainties in the street, such a peanuts or pieces of fruit. Around restaurants there are often chances to pick up crusts or get a nice piece of something edible out of a garbage barrel.

The sight of people dipping into garbage barrels no disgusts some fastidious souls their gorge rises. They are impelled to drive such "moochers" away. They exclaim, "Why don't such people work? Worthless drones."

The old woman, hunted by hunger, reached home at midnight. The children held out beseeching hands to her. Oh, she had a bountiful feast for them! There was a half-loaf of garbage-soaked bread which she got when the restaurant man wasn't looking. She almost got a bigger piece at another barrel, but a surly fellow drove her away. She drew several bones, ragged with shreds of meat, from under her shawl, and a piece de resistance, a partly filled can of spoiled salmon.

The children feasted and cried for more. The wearied women wistfully watched her children as they ravenously disposed of the scant meal. She did not share it with them, and when urged by the older ones to have a bite, too, said that she had had plenty.

A neighbor dropped in on Mrs. Lockwood yesterday morning to borrow enough butter to last until the grocery-man came.

"I think I am just out, too," gasped Mrs. Lockwood, "but I'll see."

On the way to the cupboard she fell.

"Heavens! What is the matter with your mother?" exclaimed the neighbor woman.

"I'm not sure," said the boy with heart disease, bending over the pallid, emaciated woman who was trying to rise, "but I think she is starving."

"Why, she was going to get me some butter," said the neighbor, who drew the conclusion that if there was butter in the house there must be bread.

"Butter!" exclaimed the boy scornfully, "there hasn't been a whole loaf of bread in the house for a week!"

A well-filled basket was carried to the Lockwood house yesterday by the Volunteers of America, and the garbage-barrel menu was so far outdone that the children were almost delirious with joy.

Thanksgiving will not be a total failure on Turner street, thanks to the V. of A.

COLORED PEOPLE WANT THEIR OWN BISHOPS.

IMPORTANT QUESTION MAY AGITATE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Eminent Churchman Contends that All Difficulties Can be Overcome by Assigning the Colored Bishops to Special Fields, Just as is Done Now in the Case of Some of the White Bishops.

Among the other important questions that will occupy the attention of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church at its quadrennial session in this city next May, will probably be that of the selection of colored bishops.

The subject is already warming up to some extent, and there are those prominent in the councils of the church who are ready to advocate the innovation. The colored people have clamored for just that recognition, and now that it has again come to the front they seize with avidity upon the arguments put forth by their champions.

The colored people of Los Angeles are interested in the subject simply because they are interested in the welfare of their race. There is but one colored Methodist Episcopal Church on the coast, and that is in this city. They have always been treated with consideration and ecclesiastical equality by the bishops and other officials of the church, and they have no complaints.

Rev. Dr. Joseph Van Cleve argues, in a recent issue of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, that the church is not ready for a bishop of African descent if he is to "travel at large through the connection," as the constitution provides, but that on the other hand the difficulty can be overcome by assigning a colored bishop to a special field of labor during each quadrennium, just as Bishop Vincent has been assigned to Switzerland, Bishop Moore to China, and Bishop Hartzell to Africa.

Dr. Van Cleve believes that this can be done without any change in the constitution, and that such a step would make necessary not only one colored bishop, but two or three. He argues that such a course would be the source of much inspiration to the colored people, and would put a stop to the constant flow of the race in the South to the African Methodist churches, and he regards a separate church for the negro as detrimental to the race rather than beneficial.

The adoption of the policy suggested, at the coming general conference, would blight the hopes of several white divines who hope to be elevated at that time.

The progress of the movement among the colored people will be watched with much interest, as it adds new importance to the Los Angeles meeting.

THE WISE TURKEY.

He was the thinnest turkey
That ever you did see;
He perched upon the topmost limb
Of a great big maple tree.

He'd never take his dinner
When all the rest were fed;
He'd watch them gobble up the corn
And turn away his head.

PERCHED ON THE TOPMOST LIMB.

His breastbone's like a shingle,
His legs are like two sticks;
He's growing flatter all the time—
He's up to his old tricks.

No one could ever eat him,
He's tougher than a nail,
His wings are rusty with the dust,
He's burdocks in his tail.

My! this delightful actor
An artist is, ah! me,
He is not fit to serve the board
On any day, you see.

So, when Thanksgiving dinner
Comes 'round he shakes his head,
And sadly gobbles to himself:
"My fat twin brother's dead!"
—[Horace Seymour Keller.

Considerate.

"Why don't you try to earn an honest livin'?"

"Me frien'," replied Meandering Mike, "I'm afraid dat if I went to work reg'lar I'd save up me money an' git to be a trust promoter. As it is now, I goes along peaceable, takin' only what folks wants to give me, 'stid o' standin' 'em up an 'takin' it away from them."—[Washington Star.

FASHIONS FOR WOMEN.

Charming indeed are the little coats of moire astrakhan, and the woman fortunate enough to possess one can always rest assured that her costume by this addition ranks easily among the smartest.

Today's sketch shows one in the blouse eton style, lined throughout with white moire and have a little vestee, shaped girdle and open flare cuffs of white velvet embroidered by hand in a Turkish design with scarlet, black and dull crimson silks and two shades of gold thread, one toning green, the other red. The cuffs are bordered with two folds of the velvet edged with a fine black satin cord. A once over tie is attached as a collar, the ends loose from shoulders and easily tied to protect the throat. Black silk and chenille ornaments and tassels trim ends of tie and a smaller size ornaments the sleeve. Two full ruffles of cream net top Venice lace fall from under cuff, as the fur sleeve is only three-quarter length.

The muff to be worn with this is one of the large, soft, flat shapes and has ornaments with tassels arranged on front with looped cords across center between.

The dressy little coats for theater or reception wear are prettier than ever. The one illustrated is of dull crimson panne velvet in very fine accordion plaiting, so fine, in fact, that accordion crimping seems a better term. Across the front is a double loop bow of a French novelty lace in a very deep cream, caught over center by an exquisite rhinestone and green jewel buckle. Another shape which is very much worn, especially in the fur hats, is a rather boat shaped turban, simply trimmed at left edge of brim by a peacock wing held by some fancy jeweled ornament. Many of the flat fur hats are trimmed with a single ostrich plume caught by a flat plaited ribbon rosette, or with a cluster of velvet flowers.

With ermine hats pale blue and a touch of gold seems the favorite combination, and with sable or mink the violet shades of flowers and heavy cream laces are most used.
